154 CES/ SVF BIVOUAC

The 154 CES/SVF successfully conducted its Prime Base Engineer Emergency Force and Readiness in Base Services (PRIME BEEF) training on July 13 - 14, 1991. This overnight BIVOUAC took place at Hickam AFB. Both units conducted specialized training such as explosive ordnance reconnaissance, fuel sanitation, emergency generator operation, rapid runway repair, and mobile kitchen trailer familiarization.

During the BIVOUAC, Brig. Gen. Richardson observed and inspected the 154 CES/SVF units. Brig. Gen. Richardson was impressed with the training and especially with the trainers.

COMMANDER'S CORNER

By: Col Michael H. Tice

CONGRATULATIONS!!! The HIANG was notified on June 27, 1991, that the 154th Composite Group was the recipient of the 1991 National Guard Association of the United States William W. Spruance Safety Award. The Delaware National Guard established this unit safety award in 1975 in honor of Delaware's own Brigadier General William W. Spruance (Retired). General Spruance, a former assistant adjutant general for air in Delaware, is a current member of the NGAUS Executive Council. He has undertaken an unparalleled personal crusade for safety and crash survival and is a frequent guest speaker on these subjects. The NGAUS assumed sponsorship of the award in 1980 to recognize the Air National Guard unit judged to have contributed most significantly to accident prevention in the reporting year. Nominees must make significant and far reaching contributions to safety; to include low accident rates and high inspection results. The award will be presented during the September 1991 National Guard Association Conference at the Sheraton Waikiki Hotel. Each and every member of the 154th Composite Group shares in its receipt, because it was professional and conscientious manner with which you all did your jobs that earned it for us. I add my thanks and gratitude to those expressed by Major General Killey, Brigadier General Richardson and Brigadier General Sumida in their letters below. Mahalo!

"I am very proud and happy to forward the attached letter from Brig. Gen. Edward V. Richardson, Adjutant General, and Maj. Gen. Philip G. Killey, Director, Air National Guard, congratulating the 154th Composite Group for being a recipient of the 1991 National Guard Association of the United States William W. Spruance Safety Award. Dedication and hard work made the award possible and I commend members of your organization individually and collectively for their contributions. Again, my mahalo to all of you." Brigadier General Kenji Sumida, HIANG Commander

"The enclosed letter from Major General Philip G. Killey, expressing his congratulations, is forwarded with my sincere gratitude for a job well done. The selection to receive the 1991 National Guard Association of the United States' William W. Spruance Safety Award is indicative of the leadership and dedication of the members of the 154th Composite Group. Please convey my congratulations, along with General Killey's to the members of the Group for their achievement and continued commitment to excellence." Edward V. Richardson, Brigadier General, HIANG Adjutant General

"It is with distinct pleasure that I congratulate the 154th Composite Group for being selected to receive the 1991 National Guard Association of the United States' William W. Spruance Safety Award. The performance of the members of this fine unit serves as an example to all and attests to their outstanding support of and dedication to the Air National Guard. Please extend my personal congratulations to the men and women of the 154th composite Group. Their selection for this prestigious award reflects great credit upon themselves, the state of Hawaii, and the Air National Guard." Major General, USAF Director, Air National Guard

PERSPECTIVE

A S T O R S'

By Chaplain (Capt) Robert Nugamine

Just recently I was able to take some vacation time and do some things that I've always wanted to do. I did some traveling, spent time with family and friends and participated in a number of enjoyable activities. My vacation was indeed a refreshing time and it was well worth the planning and effort. Since all of us need time away from our work once in a while, I hope we can plan vacation time or at least our days off for rest and relaxation.

Vacation can sometimes help us see the big picture of what is going on around us. Sometimes we might be too involved in our own little worlds that we don't see the big picture.

Last month I wrote on how important it is to have foresight and insight in our planning and decision making. Let's also keep in mind that good planning will keep the big picture in mind.

"Big picture" planning requires at least three things. First, we must remember that goals were made for people, not people for goals. Occasionally, we must ask ourselves whether reaching goals are more important than considering the well being of people. Balance is the key here. We must equally challenge ourselves to great goals but at the same time be people oriented and not take advantage of people.

Second, we must avoid getting wrapped up in "tunnel vision." There isn't always one way of accomplishing things effectively and efficiently. Some of the success of Desert Storm was due to the flexibility of the troops. Team work and listening to other people's good ideas are always helpful in getting out of "tunnel visioning."

Third, the spirit and attitude of how we accomplish our plans is sometimes just as important. Many times it's better to accomplish less things if it means not killing or destroying the spirit of those around us.

May God help us see the big picture in the planning and execution of our plans.

For the Family

Now that Desert Storm has been over for some time, it would be wise for us to reevaluate if we are fully prepared to be called upon for another Desert Storm type situation. As you are aware, one of our primary missions is to be ready if called upon.

Our preparation must include a workable plan for the care of our dependents. Let's make sure that we have a good plan for them. Let's also make adjustments to our plans as our situation changes. Consider the following situations and see if you fit into any of these categories.

Mobility preparation will change if all of a sudden one finds him/herself a single parent. Through separation, divorce or becoming a widow, one needs to look at setting up plans for the care of his/her children. If you are divorced, consider if it's possible to make arrangements for your former spouse or a close relative to have the children until you return. These things need to be discussed with the person(s) involved.

If both husband and wife are in the military, this also presents a challenge. In the event that both of them are mobilized, who will then take care of their dependents? Important to note is that when the term "dependent" is used, it may not refer to just children. For example, a couple or single person may have a dependent(s) who is over 18 that's unable to care for him/herself. Planning must not overlook a dependent like this.

Also, definite planning must be considered in the event a couple or single parent dies. Who will then take care of their dependents on a permanent basis? Drawing up a will shall alleviate uncertainties. Necessary and important documents need to be arranged or updated. Legal documents that are helpful are (1) power of attorney authorizing medical treatment, (2) power of attorney for a temporary designee and/or a permanent designee (person designated to take care of your dependents while you are away), and (3) a will with guardian provisions.

Of course, there are also financial support and possibly educational concerns as well that need to be worked out. The designee caring for your dependents must have adequate support to care for them. I hope the above information is helpful to your family. If you want more information that will help your family and other families, have your spouse or family member consider joining a family support group. To do this, contact your unit.

SOCIAL ACTIONS

COCAINE: TEN UGLY FACTS

At a time when a lot of things in your life seem uncertain, there's one thing that is certain: someday, probably sooner than later, you'll have to make a decision about whether or not to use cocaine. This is a sad fact of life in America today. So here are ten facts to help you make your decision as wisely as possible.

1. Cocaine is one of the most addictive drugs known. Cocaine may even be more addictive than heroine, and because it's psychologically addictive, it can be harder to come off than other drugs. Worse if you're talking about smoking or freebasing crack, or rock it can be addictive after the first use.
2. Cocaine can kill you. Doctors have long known that cocaine kills. They can't tell you how much it takes to kill a given person. Or why some people can use cocaine for years, while others die the first or fifth or tenth time they use the drug. So every single time, every single person does a line of coke or smokes some crack, he or she risks dying.
3. No one can predict who will become addicted to cocaine. About ten percent who try the drug will get addicted. No one can tell who will and who won't. What's absolutely true is that no one who is addicted to cocaine ever thought he or she would be.
4. Cocaine and sex don't mix. You may hear that cocaine makes sex great. No one really knows how sex is affected with cocaine use. What is known is that people who get addicted to cocaine have almost no sex drive at all. They do have a heavy drug drive!
5. Cocaine affects the heart. That's where you feel it first. The heart beats faster. Your blood pressure rises. This happens each and every time you do cocaine. Over the long run, it's easy to understand how this could cause heart damage. But, in the short run, it could make a fifteen year old as likely to have a heart attack as a 50 year old.

6. Cocaine affects the brain. It's where you feel the high. It's where the trouble starts. If you take too large a hit, the brain may be unable to tell the lungs to breathe, the heart to beat. There's another problem if you use cocaine. It's called "kindling," where the brain sprouts new nerve cells to process cocaine. These aren't good cells, they're erratic. They're why someone can do the same amount two days in a row - and have a seizure or die the second day.
7. Cocaine destroys the lining of your nose. Cocaine acts like an acid on the inside of your nose and the nose reacts by producing mucus - thus the runny "coke" nose. If you do coke a lot, you'll probably see blood as the coke goes deeper into the nose tissue. Get addicted and cocaine could actually eat a hole through the wall separating your nostrils.
8. After each high comes a low. Even after the first line, there's a high then a predictable low. You're down, you want to be up, you do more coke. That's how addiction starts. If you continue, the highs don't get any higher, but the lows get lower and lower. You go from feeling a little down to feeling severely depressed.
9. Cocaine can make you mentally ill. People who get addicted to cocaine often become paranoid or delusional. They may hear voices. They may think the police or others are after them.
10. Cocaine increases your susceptibility to infection. Doctors believe cocaine may affect the body's immune system. Cocaine use does affect the appetite and it really affects your judgment. You may feel invincible. So you may find yourself less cautious about what you say, who you say it to, and/or what you do and who you do it with.

These are the facts, you make the decision. If you want to know more about substance abuse or equal opportunity, contact Social Actions at 449-8000.

CAMS News and Views

By: MSgt. Fred M. Higa, Jr.

We're heading down the home stretch with almost two months to go for this fiscal year. How time flies when you're having fun. This drill weekend is full of activities as we fly into Barking Sands and operate from that site for a week. This will be a good test for the Group to see how we can sustain ourselves in a 'remote' site. Good practice for our mobility and dispersal folks. By the time you read this article, we would have completed the Change of Command Ceremonies whereby Col. Allen Mizumoto assumes command of the Headquarters, Hawaii Air National Guard, from Brig. Gen. Kenji Sumida, who will be retiring this month. During the same ceremony, Col. Jeffery Okazaki will assume command of the 201st Combat Comm Group. Col. Morris has been selected to succeed Col. Mizumoto as the Deputy Commander for Maintenance. Would like to wish them all much success in their new roles...Would like to thank ALL those who supported the CAM Sq Chili Sale in support of the Squadron MWR fund. This project supports many Squadron functions and activities, especially the annual Recognition Banquet, which is the biggest event we have. Proceeds offset the cost of the banquet by almost $10 per person. Speaking of the Recognition Banquet, make sure October 11 (Friday) is marked on your calendar as that is the date of our banquet at the Halekoa Hotel. Flyers will be posted in the next few weeks advertising the event, but make sure you all mark that date. Make sure you also make plans to attend the HIANG Awards Banquet scheduled for November 15, and that event will also be held at the Halekoa Hotel. Your participation in both events will prove to be a most rewarding experience...Our Munitions Maintenance & Storage Facility and the Composite Avionics and Weapons Release Facility will be having a Blessing Ceremony at 2:00pm and 2:30pm respectively today (Aug 4). You are all invited to attend the blessing and enjoy the pupus at the Avionics and Weapons Release Facility (next to the 201 CCGP). Dr. Kahu Edward Kealanahale will be blessing the facilities along with Brig. Gen. Edward Richardson, Brig. Gen. Kenji Sumida, Col. Allen Mizumoto and Col. Michael Tice as well as HIANG retirees who helped shape the HIANG and CAM Sq. Should be a fun event...Due to the length of last month's column, did not get to congratulate the following individuals on their recent promotions:

| Jon Amorin | TSgt |
| Douglas Awana | TSgt |

Wear 'em with pride!!! Belated congrats to Jon Uyeno as he exchanged wedding vows with the former Mutsumi Nohara in May. Don't forget to update your locator cards!! Congrats also to SSgt. Dale Zuttermeister as he just returned from the ANG Leadership School in Knoxville, Tennessee...Would like to welcome Capt. Robert Freeburg as he joins the Flight Line as their OIC and also to 1Lt.

Raphael Carreiro as he joins the Munitions Maintenance Branch as their OIC. They'll both be participating in the Barking Sands exercise this weekend...Correction to last month's article: I reported Sgt. Rafael Rodriguez as Raphael. Well, Rafael is dad and Raphael is son so please make the switch. Confusing!!! Going to Knoxville, Tennessee, to take part in the ANG Softball Tourney are: Antone Gabriel, Bobby Furtado, Chris Partika, Art Kaai, Jody Goya, Miles Kaneshiro and Gerald Gono. They'll be going up to Tennessee in our C-130 on August 12 and should be returning about August 19. Wish the team members well!!!! I would like to thank TSgt. Joseph Kim, SSgt. Neal Gima and SrA. Boyington Parks of the 154MSF as they installed computer cables in the Avionics and Weapons Facility a few drills ago. Their can-do attitude and technical know-how made the job a lot easier than anticipated. My sincere gratitude to them for their assistance...Well, that's all the news I have right now, so til next month....."Success is a journey, not a destination." BEELINE

by TSgt. Laura Masuda

Ergonomics is the scientific approach to "making work human" or designing the job to fit you, not you to fit the job.

The design of the task and the design of the workplace are inter-related. For example, while sitting, the chair should create the natural sitting posture for you to accomplish your work. Elbows should be at the proper height to the work surface and feet positioned flat on the floor.

Changing posture is important since static posture causes problems in muscles, joints and blood circulation. You should be able to change your posture frequently to avoid fatigue. (So get up and stretch, walk around and you'll feel better).

Hand tools need to be ergonomically designed to avoid injury and fatigue. Design efforts should concentrate on the handle of the tool rather than the working end of the tool. Also, it helps to use the proper tool for the proper job it was design to do.

In Honor of Brig. Gen. Kenji Sumida

A Retirement Celebration honoring Brig. Gen. Kenji Sumida is being held on Thursday, August 22 at the Hale Koa Hotel. Ruger area - Mrs. Taketa 737-5353.

An Aloha Golf Tournament for Brig. Gen. Sumida will be held on August 26, 1991 at the Mamala Bay Golf Course, Hickam AFB. Registration is at 10:45 - 11:45 a.m., shotgun start at 12:00 p.m. Green fees (including cart) are $13.00 for military/retired people, and $30.00 for civilians.

Where There's Demand, There's Supply

By Sgt. Erik Smith, Supply Liaison

Last month I gave you a list of upcoming deadlines for processing supply-related actions for the end of the fiscal year. This month I'd like to give you a look at the people who make up supply, whom you'll be speaking with to order, pick up, or research your requests. There have been several changes in manning lately, so I'd like to introduce you to your contacts at Base Supply.

The first people you would probably contact if you wanted to order something work in Demand Processing. This office takes care of researching and placing your requests in the supply system. Also, if you are unable to understand AFM 67-23 - "Supply and Equipment Use Manual" to properly requisition items, they will assist you to speed future requests.

MSgt. Pam Goya is the Operations Support (LGSC) Superintendent. Also in that office are: SSgt. Carole Furtado (Records Maintenance - 449-9610); SSgt. Edward Paco (Research - 449-7915); and Sgt. Lorrie Macanas (Demand Processing - 449-9601). Also, working closely with that section, though not actually in the office is TSgt. Louise Lum (MiCap - 449-7913). Pam asks that you first try to reach the person dealing specifically with your request; then, if you are unable to get the information you require, contact another person in the office. If all else fails, call Pam at 449-7913.

To help you get your request filled ASAP, LGSC asks that you have as much information as possible available before you ask for their assistance. This includes your name, duty phone, delivery destination, stock number and name of the part, the unit of issue and quantity you desire, and your organization/shop code (i.e., Sgt Jones, ext 7000, 154 CAMS, 7111-11-111-1111/paycheck, 100 each, 839/ES - engine shop). If you don't know all the information, LGSC will help with research.

Hopefully this will help you know who to contact if you require information from supply. Next month we'll cover the Warehouse and Individual Equipment. See you then!

Legal Brief

By Maj. Stanley W. Kopacz, Jr.

The Reality of Divorce

Divorce, they say, is one of the two most traumatic things in life, along with a death of a loved one, that an individual can face. It can be and often is, emotionally and spiritually devastating.

Legally, it can be the same unless you know the law and are prepared to deal with the legal reality of divorce. So, if you are facing a divorce or separation from your mate, the following guidelines may help:

1. Get help - Talk to a friend, a counselor, anyone. Everyone needs help and someone to talk with.
2. See a lawyer FIRST. Stay away from so-called "Barracks Lawyers" who are not lawyers, and do not know the law, and who may give you mis-advice or worse.
3. A lawyer can inform and advise you on: grounds for the divorce, cost ($125 and up), time (6 weeks and up), child custody (custodial or joint), child support (amount), child visitation (general or specific), spousal support, property division and settlement, Former Spouse's Protection Act, division of bills and debts, charge cards, and joint accounts.

If you need assistance in this area, see us first. Call for an appointment at 449-6102, or stop by our office.

Quarterly Award Winner

The commander, 15 ABW, HQ section, proudly announced the Volunteer of the Quarter Award to TSgt. Annamarie Fujimoto of the 154COMPG/JA. There will be an honorary luncheon for TSgt. Fujimoto and the other quarterly award winners on August 15 at the Hickam Officers Club. Since January 1991, TSgt. Fujimoto assisted the 15 ABW Legal Office by providing notary services for active, retired, dependent, and guard personnel. During Desert Shield/Storm operations, which created a greater need for legal services, TSgt. Fujimoto was a major help to the 15 ABW Legal Office.

She continues to provide notary services at the 15 ABW Legal Office. Guard members are encouraged to use this benefit. TSgt. Fujimoto is located at Bldg 502, Monday - Thursday between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. or call 449-1737.

Pearl Harbor 50th Anniversary Commemoration Program

by National Park Service

Preliminary plans for the USS Arizona Memorial's commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor were announced recently by the National Park Service.

The National Park Service's tentative schedule of events for the USS Arizona Memorial and Visitor Center is as follows:

Wednesday, December 4 - Hawaii Remembrance Day in honor of the approximately 60 civilians who perished during the Japanese attack on December 7, 1941.

Special guests will be members of the victim's families. The 1:00p.m. program at the Visitor Center will feature a concert by the Royal Hawaiian Band, with Governor John Waihee, Senator Daniel Inouye and Honolulu Mayor Frank Fasi as speakers.

Thursday, December 5 - Survivor's Day. Governor Fife Symington of the state of Arizona had been invited to be master of ceremonies at a 1:00p.m. program that will include four distinguished speakers with close and unusual ties to the battleship and to Pearl Harbor. They include Franklin Van Valkenburgh of San Diego, son of the commanding officer of the USS Arizona. His father, Capt. Franklin Van Valkenburgh, USN, was killed during the attack.

Friday, December 6 - Reflections Day. Director James Ridenour of the National Park Service is scheduled to preside at a special 1:00p.m. program for which former CBS newsman Walter Cronkite and several other distinguished Americans have been invited as speakers.

Saturday, December 7 - Pearl Harbor Day. The Honolulu Symphony Orchestra will provide a special concert from the lanai of the Memorial Visitor Center. Details for the concert and for other activities occurring this day will be announced later.

All programs and activities will be free and open to the public, except the Saturday morning commemoration program at the Memorial, which will be by invitation only.

Welcome Aboard - New Recruits

by MSgt. Mauricio Geolina

July has been a pretty good month for the HIANG recruiting staff at Hickam, and Unit Referrals contributed to this success. We would like to welcome on board the Carreiro's, Raphael and Jonathan. We utilized our family plan on this one. Raphael's wife, Sabrina, is a member of the Tactical Hospital. She referred her husband and he in turn referred his brother Jonathan. Both were enlisted in July and are currently assigned to CAMS. All of you join a long list of HIANG's Ohana. Just to name a few...the Mizumoto's, Shinsato's, Lum's, Miraflor's, Snakenberg's, Furtado's, DeRego's, and many more.

We'd also like to welcome on board Everett C. S. Chun now with the 201st CCGP. He was a former member years ago and is a cabin attendant with one of the major airlines. While in flight, he met with one of the passengers who happened to be Chief Walter Furuyama of the 293rd. The Chief referred him to the HIANG recruiting office. Thank you, Chief!

Welcome on board to AB Kenneth E. Miike, the first recruit for the new tanker squadron.

We are getting to the close of FY91 and it is still not too late to help out your friends and family getting involved with the best-part time job in Hawaii. Call the HIANG recruiting office at 449-5601 with your referral today.

154 COMBOS Capture 1991 HIANG State Softball Tournament

By CMSgt. Cornwall S. Matsusaka

A 4-3 loss at the hands of the 150th Kokee Eagles sent the 154 COMBOS into the losers bracket early in the 8 team/double elimination tournament. As a result, the COMBOS were forced to fight their way back by playing a total of seven games in the two day tournament to capture the 1991 HIANG State Tournament. Fine pitching by Edwin Chung-Hoon (2-1), Gaylen Redoble (1-0) and Wayne Soma (3-0) carried the COMBOS to an overall 6-1 record and the state championship.

On the final day of the tournament, the COMBOS got by the Kokee Eagles to earn the right to play the undefeated, high scoring, 154 RMS team. The explosive RMS team had scored 60 runs in only three games on the opening day of the tournament. However, outstanding pitching by Wayne Soma, backed by a "defense oriented" COMBOS team, blanked the Resource Managers 8-0 in the first game and limited RMS to two runs in the championship game. In the championship game, the COMBOS took an early 4-0 lead and went on to a 10-2 victory and the championship. Leading Hitters: COMBOS: Neil Gima, 4-4; Wayne Soma, 3-4, 2B; Dave Adams, 2-3; Billy Ramos 2-4, 3B; Troy Hill, 2-4, 2B. RMS: Curt Mutobe 2-3; Stephen Teranishi 2-3; Derek Iha 2-3, 2B; Brandon Sarceda 2-3. The 154 COMBOS and runner-up 154 RMS were managed by Wayne Soma and Mitch Tanaka respectively.

The top five Air Guard teams (154 COMBOS, 154 RMS, 150 ACWS, 291CCS, and 201(Oahu), will now enter the 12 team/double elimination Hawaii National Guard (HING) Tournament during October 12-14 at Hickam AFB, HI. Seven Army National Guard teams make up the remaining teams in the tournament. The HING tournament chairman is CMSgt. Ken Morimoto details to follow.

Mahalo to Lt. Col. Richard Nishimura, Chief George Ah Chong (Tournament Chairman), Ken Enoki (Coordinator), and various 291CCSQ committee members for a well organized tournament, fine food, drinks, and most of all, that "Big Island" hospitality. Fun was had by players, family members, and spectators. Again, a big MAHALO to the Hilo gang.

The 89 Council

by SMSgt. Alfred DeRego

The Hawaii Air National Guard is one of the best National Guard units in the country. As members of this outstanding unit, it is important to maintain a high standard of dress and personal appearance. Many guardsmen wear Battle Dress Uniforms (BDU) during UTA, deployments, and other military duties. On the left breast pocket is our squadron insignia that properly identifies us a members of the HIANG.

Unfortunately there are guardsmen seen abusing AFR 35-10. Samples of AFR 35-10 violations noted in the past are:

1. Walking from parking lot to unit area without shirts, caps and shoes.
2. Incomplete uniforms - missing name tags, maintenance badges, improper chevron alignment and white tee shirt.
3. Lack of military courtesy toward all officers.
4. Trousers not bloused
5. Jewelry visible
6. Haircuts not meeting military standards

Let's show the general public by dressing sharply and meeting AFR 35-10 standards that we respond to military order, discipline and have Esprit de Corps, because we are the best.
