each work a 12-hour shift with 24 hours off. Then it's back at it again. They've been on this type of schedule ever since September 11th. The 169th Commander, LtCol Dewey Arakawa, reports that the first few days after the September tragedy were really intense. New procedures had to be developed to handle new threats. Working with the Army, Navy and Joint command forces became a new daily routine. The members of the 169th are positive, dedicated and professional about their current mission according to First Sergeant, MSgt Russell Ishizuka. "Everyone is working hard and appreciates being here close to home and family while working for the greatest organization."

This mobilization would not have been possible without the superb efforts of Chief Iris Kabazawa who planned and lead the mobility processing effort. While it was a huge task to pull it together in the short

It's official, on 1 October the 169th ACWS mobilized with 176 people coming on active duty. They are now on a 1-year Title 10 identification of all incoming and outgoing aircraft in the Hawaiian Islands airspace. The 169th works in conjunction with 5 other air defense mainland units that have also been activated. Together these squadrons provide a composite air defense picture period available, the Chief 's job was made easier by the willingness of our Guard members to come out, prepare needed documents and just make it happen. LtCol Arakawa summed up the feelings of many of us saying, "I'm so proud of folks, the traditional Guardsman and technicians. People volunteered to come in and many just showed up and asked how can I help." That story has been repeated hundreds of times over throughout the Wing since September 11th. It's a story we can all be proud of.

Commander's Call

By Brig. Gen. Albert "Putt" Richards, 154th Wing Commander

After several false starts, this UTA weekend we welcome the PACAF Unit Compliance Inspection (UCI) Team led by the PACAF IG, Colonel Andrew Dichter. While the events of September 11th and our subsequent war on terrorism have made this a busy time for all of us, we're happy to be able to participate in this evaluation. I have seen the hard work and understand the long hours you have put in preparing for this important inspection. I am proud of you and confident the IG team will see the 154th Wing at its finest. This is the time to put your best foot forward with the inspectors. Tell them and show them what you do in your efforts to help our Wing accomplish its diverse and complex missions.

We've had a busy October. Starting on the first of the month the 169th ACWS was mobilized and now is Title 10 active duty for at least one year working for PACAF. Our people in plans, finance, legal, family readiness, the chaplains' office and personnel provided outstanding deployment processing to our one unit who unil September believed they would never mobilize. They had no mobility commitment. A lot of mobility folders and updated information were processed in a very short time. Meanwhile, our F-15s and tankers remain on PACAF alert and the tankers picked up another alert commitment for Air Mobility Command (AMC). These commitments put a great demand on our maintenance functions. As true warriors do, our maintainers have come through, switching schedules and going to a 7 day maintenance work week. Our F-15 fully mission capable rate looks great! Meanwhile our Security Forces members continue to display outstanding professionalism as they augment the 15th Air Base Wing Security Forces Squadron. In all, over 320 Wing people are on active duty on any given day hebing to make our portion of the Noble Eagle mission a success. You have volunteered where and when needed in the true spirit of the Air National Guard. I am grateful for your efforts and know your success will continue.

While the 169th was the first, I don't expect they will be the last unit or people mobilized from our Wing. I want all Unit Deployment Managers to review each and every mobility folder for all of your people. I want each Guard member to update his or her individual folder this UTA so tha all information is correct and current and each of us is ready to deploy or mobilize. Don't put these important tasks off.

Put out your best efforts to make this the most effective UCI in 154th Wing history and a productive and meaningful unit training assembly. Only you can make it happen. Imua!

A Look at the HIANG Family

By Mrs Loretta Hales, 154 Wing Family Readiness Manager

WHAT IS THE ENC and WHY IS IT IMPORTANT?

When I was a new volunteer in my husband's unit it started out much like this job. I jumped from the frying pan into the fire. At least at the time I kept asking, "what have I got myself into?"

I had attended my first training, by a mere fluke, just 3 weeks before receiving a phone call from my husband's Unit Commander at 4 am. He asked me to please call the families of 10 Guardsmen that were on a deployment in Thailand. The building that the Guardsmen had been staying in had collapsed. I was to tell their families that all 10 were fine. But I needed to do this as soon as possible, before the families heard about the incident on the news.

That is where the ENC comes in. ENC stands for Emergency Notification Card. Luckily, I had done Emergency Notification Cards their last drill. Some filled them out willingly. Others, though, said they had no family or that they did not want people knowing their private business. We all soon learned how important it is that Family Support has this information.

I started calling families as soon as I could. All were grateful for the information and relieved that their loved one was alright. But I want to tell you about Steve (name has been changed). He had not wanted to fill a card out because he was divorced and all of his children were grown. He didn't want to share his private information and figured no one really cared anyway.

I reported back to the Deck Commander of the unit, who was also one of those in Thailand, that all families but Steve's had been contacted. I explained that I could not get hold of Steve's family because his card was incomplete. The Deck Commander insisted that I call someone. I kept telling him I could not because the information was not provided. They went to his records in the unit and the information had not been updated. They then started trying to find out information on base. Even the Wing Commander was brought in to help find information on Steve.

During this time his children had seen the news, but they did not know who or how to get hold of to find out about their father. Finally we found a family contact for Steve, and were able to let them know that Steve was fine. But this was only after quite a bit of time had passed and emotions were running high.

By filling the information out on the ENC Steve would have kept his private life private. But because the information was not correct there were probably close to 15 people that had to get involved in his private life. These cards are kept by your Unit Family Readiness person in your unit, and are covered under the Privacy Act. Yes, Steve on his return did fill out his ENC card and became my biggest supporter as to why the cards should be filled out. So, please fill them out and fill them out completely. This is only to help you and your families. I would rather call your families and tell them that you are fine. So please be safe and use common sense.

Chaplaín's Corner

by 1Lt Mark Lee, Chaplain, 154 Wing

Since the tragic incident of 11 September, I have been wrestling with the task of helping people find some sense of comfort and semblance of normalcy, both in my vocation as a pastor of a local church and as a HIANG Chaplain. It is not easy. People are worried, afraid and vexed. Stress is on everyone, especially the military.

How do we make sense of it all? How do we deal with the uncertain future that might lead to more violence?

We must trust God. We must trust in that Supreme Power, which is goodness, peace, love and justice. We must believe in the promises of our God, who has throughout the history of humanity, shown us to be a faithful God; faithful to the promises of being our caregiver, our protector, and our guide.

In Jeremiah 29: 11, it is written, "For surely I know the plans I have for you, says the Lord, plans for your welfare and not for harm, to give you a future with hope."

These are God's words of hope and the promise offered to us - hope for a better tomorrow. We must hope, for without it, we're dead. God has never failed in his promises. The promise of God is that there is a plan for our welfare and not for harm! This is good news indeed! God's promise tells us, "eh, no worry! Everything goin' be ok."

Can you imagine a life without hope? I can't. Find comfort and strength in knowing and trusting that God loves you and cares for you so much that there is nothing but goodness in store for you.

And as always, call us if you need to chat about anything. My numbers are: 392-9689 (cell), 595-7541 (church), 448-7275 (duty). My email address on the civilian side is: RevMarkCLee@hawaii.rr.com. Aloha Ke Akua

RECRUITER ROUND-UP

By MSgt Vickie L. Padello, 154 MSF/DPR

Aloha from your Recruiting Team! If you've been in the area of the Military Personnel Flight within the last couple of weeks, you've probably seen a number of anxious, excited and highly motivated civilians. Do you remember that bright sunny day, when you left for Basic Military Training? You left your warm and comfortable home and said goodbye to family and friends. You took with you, your hopes, your fears and your dreams, all wrapped into a tight little ball inside your head and wondered to yourself, so.....'um, what's next? It was the beginning of your life with the military. Well, there have been some busy folks in the customer service area of our fine organization. The Hawaii Air National Guard broke a record this month. There were over 40 Basic Military Trainee departures in just two weeks! Whew!! Personnel, Base Training, Military Pay, Medical and the Recruiters all had a very big part in the preparation for each trainee's departure. Normally, there are only a few departures in one day and the briefings are relatively simple. However, since there were so many people leaving at the same time, the briefings took place in the dining facility on the last two Tuesdays of October. Each recruit processed their paper work, picked up their plane tickets and headed out into the wild blue yonder! Since a large percentage of these recruits were placed into the Split Training Option, we will see them back in no time at After all, Basic Training flies by ..... right? all! Seven weeks and then they'll be right back home in the beautiful Hawaiian Islands! Oh, the beauty of serving your State and Nation with the Hawaii Air National Guard! Twenty-three guard members, family and friends rolled as the Hawaii National Guard's Iron Okole bicycle team during the Honolulu Century Ride on 23 September. The weather was great. Clouds kept the sun at bay most of the day and tradewinds brought a welcome relief (except when head-on). The Hawaii National Guard team placed 1st in it's category (20-24 riders) for total distance covered (775 miles official, 1125 unofficial), and 6th overall (2nd overall unofficial). The team members from the blue team were: Preston Ares, Mike Compton, Fred Fogel, April Fogel, Gary Kodani, Laura Maruyama, Marty Moerschell, Erwin Ramos and Glenn Tarrant. Making the full 100 miles from Kapiolani Park to Kaawa and back were Glenn Tarrant and Laura Maruyama. Marty Moerschell logged 75, while Preston Ares, Gary Kodani and Erwin Ramos turned in 50.

Participants on the green team were: Harlan Fujioka, Tom Harkins, Kathy Inouye, Mathew Inouye, Robert Inouye, Ron Katto, Byran Keolanui, Kurtis Mabe, Mike Rawlins, Nancy Rawlins, Elva Schaben, Lance Sylva, Gary Terashima and Bert Yanagida. Mike and Nancy Rawlins, and friend guttedout 100 miles, while Gary Terashima made 75 miles.

Five HIARNG riflemen and four HIANG pistol shooters represented the Hawaii National Guard at the NGB national competition at Fort Richards, Little Rock, Arkansas from 8-11 October . Our HING pistol team placed 5th overall out of 27 teams. SSgt Jerry Yuen labeled this year a "building year" for the rifle team. Individual performance of note was SSgt Robert Jaeger, who took first place out of 452 shooters in the "main event", Match 221 Excellence in Competition Combat Pistol Match. The other pistol shooters were: Lt Col Stan Osserman, TSgt James Welch, and TSgt Derek Tang. Congratulations on your excellent performance!

After a three-week hiatus, the bowling league resumed play on 4 October. The league will end on 18 April, as scheduled. Just short of the halfway point, "Kanak Attack," from 154 MXS, is on top, but seven teams are closing in. Needless to say there is still plenty of time for a dark horse to make a run down the alley.

Both the HING Softball Tournament and the HIANG Basketball Competition were cancelled as a result of Sep 11th. As of now, the HING Basketball Tournament 5-9 December, is still a go, but the site may change. The HING Special Services Board will meet on 7 November to decide the fate of future sports events. Stay tuned.

Let me know if your unit or units have 'any kine' athletic competitions (like darts at the local pub, croquette at Richardson Field, or a 5-man lift at the O-Club bar), and we'll get you some coverage in the Sports Corner. Stay active, alert and alive! Aloha...

TSgt Bob Jaeger, The Best in Combat Pistol at "Wilson" by Lt Col Stan Osserman, HO HIANG ESSO

If you want to learn something, read about it. If you want to do something, well you'll have to practice what you've learned. But if you want to really master a skill, you need to compete. Nothing brings out the best in personal performance better than competition.

TSgt Bob Jaeger understands that philosophy well, particularly as it applies to shooting weapons. Bob ranks near the top of the list of the best combat pistol marksmen in the U.S. Military. Four years ago he earned a coveted place on the "All Guard" combat pistol team after demonstrating his skill in his first two national level matches (1996-97). This year he took first place in Match 221, Excellence in Competition, during the Winston P. Wilson Matches, October 8-10 in Arkansas. Bob's score of 172 missed perfect by a mere 8 points giving him first place in a field of 452 of the nations best shooters. Match 221 pits shooters not only against each other, but also against the clock. The longest "target exposure" is seven seconds and the shortest is four seconds while engaging four separate targets with six bullets. "Match 221 is the most challenging of the combat pistol courses in military competition." according to Bob. "It is the fastest, contains the most realistic elements of combat and it requires practice, conditioning and mental toughness to do well." he added. "The best score ever achieved in match 221 at Winston P. Wilson was 178 out of 180. It's a tough match."

TSgt Jaeger is a "traditional" member of the 154th Security Forces Squadron. He is employed full-time by the City of Honolulu as a firearms instructor and armorer for the Honolulu Police Department.

TSgt Jaeger points out that the challenges of shooting in military combat pistol competition develop practical, instinctive skills that allow you to respond quickly and accurately to unexpected threats. "The experiences I learn about from people who have had to use their shooting skills in combat tell me that training for competition can be a life saving factor." he said. "In our business you don't have time to practice when you're told you are deploying in 72 hours, and live fire every couple of years may make you 'qualified' but doesn't make you highly skilled"

The HING's team of four Hawaii Air Guard pistol shooters came in sixth out of 35 teams in this year's competition at Camp Robinson. As Yeager says, "At Wilson we can compete in combat pistol, rifle, machine gun and sniper events, but Hawaii hasn't sent a machine gun or sniper team for as long as I've been in the HIANG. We're always looking for new members on the HING team and we need commander and employer support to get the best shooters to the mainland each year. The Guard Bureau funds a basic team workdays and perdiem, for each category. When you get down to the 'core military competencies', shooting is a vital skill. It's not just important for troops involved in a military offensive; it boils down to self-defense for the airman. I can't think of a more critical skill than making sure that I can keep myself and my people alive when things get ugly."

The other Combat pistol shooters on the Hawaii team were; TSgt James Welch, 154 MXS, SSgt Derek Tang, 293 CBCS and Lt Col Stan Osserman, HQ HIANG.
