199TH SURVIVAL TRAINING

All of that training you see our pilots involved in today is part of their annual water survival training program. Some of the essentials include ground school as well: equipment preflight, personnel parachute and parachute landing falls. The training also includes training on the survival kit, signalling devices, Coast Guard Search and Rescue, water drag and dunking. This training can mean the difference in coming home or not if an aircraft goes down.

DRUG ABUSE POLICY

Drug Abuse is incompatible with ANG standards of conduct. The illegal or improper use of drugs by ANG members can seriously damage physical and mental health, jeopardize an individual's safety and the safety of others, be detrimental to the ANG mission and lead to criminal prosecution and/or discharge. The policy is intended to maintain standards of behavior, performance, and discipline for mission accomplishment.

Airmen may be discharged for misconduct under ANGR 39-10 based on drug abuse, which is introduction on a military installation of, the illegal, wrongful, or improper use of or the possession, sale or transfer of any narcotic substance, intoxicating inhaled substance, marijuana, or controlled substance.

The ANG has no rehabilitation program. And discharge for use of drugs is in most cases is under other than honorable circumstances.

Military members who fail to comply with an order to provide a urine sample for the drug testing program may be subject to punitive or administrative actions for failure to obey a lawful order.

HANG SAFETY AWARDS

The Hawaii Air National Guard again led the Air Guard units in the number of safety awards for calendar year 1985. They will receive nearly half of the safety awards to be presented at the NGAUS (National Guard Association of the United States) Convention.

by
Col. John S.W. Lee

We are in the midst of hurricane season in Hawaii and we've faced our first summer visitor, Hurricane Estelle which elected to stay far south of the island chain. However, we did feel the side effects of Estelle through numerous thunder showers as well as lightning strikes on the Hickam ramp. While we can't avoid nature's tirades, we can prepare ourselves to minimize the damaging effects when nature goes awry.

Turn on your T.V. and you'll be ever aware of how bad conditions can be when elements and weather work against man. Note the drought ridden Southeast U.S., the quake tremors of fire prone California and the locust infestations in Africa.

With an omni-awareness of how bad things can be, we have implemented our adverse weather checklist on numerous occasions and we intend to continue this practice inspite of this additional workload. Our checklist incorporates management measures to confront the threat of high winds and flooding. In addition to protecting federal property and equipment, we eventually must be prepared to serve the emergency needs of the State when called upon. By implementing our adverse weather preparation plan we seek to minimize damage to our personnel and equipment thus allowing us the time and resources to help others during emergency conditions.

LIKE A HURRICANE

Hurricane season is upon us. These violent storms pose a very real danger and everyone living in vulnerable areas should take them seriously, particularly those who live in coastal and island areas. By making a few advance preparations, you may save possessions--or even lives. Here is a partial checklist of things to do before, during and after a hurricane.

Familiarize yourself with safe routes inland and learn the location of official shelters. When a hurricane watch is issued for your area:

- Check often for official bulletins on radio and TV. It is essential that you have at least one portable radio with good batteries.
- Fill your car's gas tank.
- Stock up on canned goods.
- Check supplies of special medicines and drugs.
- Have flashlights and extra batteries on hand.
- Secure lawn furniture and other loose items outdoors.
- Tape, board and shutter windows to prevent shattering.

If a hurricane WARNING is issued for your area:

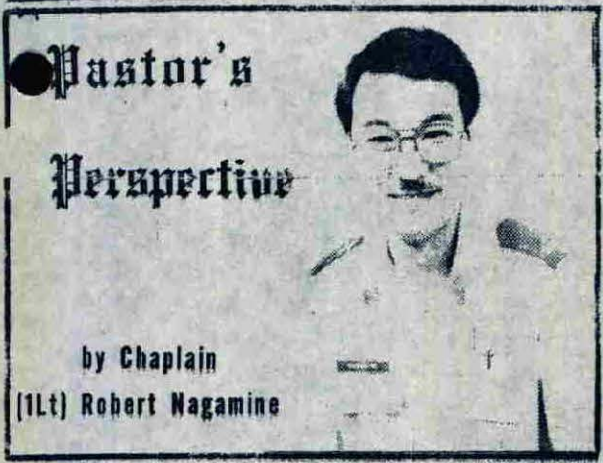

- Evacuate the area if you live in a mobile home or if authorities recommend it.
- If you stay home, secure the house and move valuables to upper floors.
- Bring in pets.
- Fill containers with several day's supply of drinking water.

This advice was issued by the National Weather Service. It is useful, but if you are living in a hurricane area, you should check with local authorities for more detailed advice pertaining to your locality.

I want us to continue the theme of building successful marriages. In June, we looked at the area of communication. Last month, we examined the area of building realistic expectations. This month, I want us to explore the area of conflict resolution.

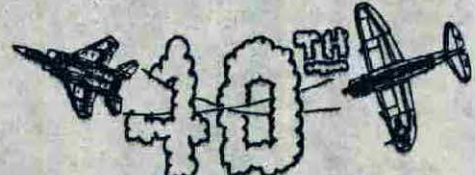

Dealing with conflicts is a part of life. I have had conflicts with even the best of my friends. And there have been real differences of opinion! In some cases, we have managed to put our "swords" down and work out differences. In other cases, when we could not reach a solution, we either "tabled the discussion" until further notice or "agreed to disagree".

What is important to note is that conflicts are not always bad. They can help us grow. They can help us to be not too self-centered. They can help us to seek to understand another point of view. Without open conflicts in marriage, we may become superficial and "strangers" to each other. Some couples avoid conflicts, but they are not as close as other couples who do express and deal with conflicts.

Stressing the "preventative medicine" side of it all may help. If you plan to marry, marry someone who is a good friend to you. Someone once said "...when you love a woman without liking her, the night can be long and cold and contempt comes up with the sun." If you are married, nurture the friendship you share with your spouse. Spend quality time with him or her! In a positive setting, spending time with each other will enhance your understanding of each other and lessen the amount of conflicts. Let us avoid labeling our spouses as "wrong" and we as "right". There is always our view, our spouse's view and God's view. We only see a limited view of reality. There is a limit to what we can experience and understand. Until we walk in our spouse's "shoes", how can we fully understand?

The goal in marriage is not to become carbon copies of each other in perspectives, needs, likes and dislikes, etc. The goal is to work together, using the unique experiences and insights of each other, towards a rich marriage. May God help us to work together and may He bless our marriages.

CAM sq. news & views

by TSgt Fred M. Higa, Jr.

Hi again. Nice to see all of you as we successfully completed another UTA weekend. Much news to report so.....

From SMS Mel Taira, acting Field Reporter for the Avionics Branch, as he fills in for CMS Hiroshi Go who is on a short vacation to Vancouver to see the Exposition there. Lots of energy, I guess, since he was also on a visit to Dobbins AFB, New Orleans and also to McChord AFB to check out the F-15 units there. MSgt Rex Koga came back, though, says he's worn out travelling to all those bases. Must be the years are taking its toll. Welcome back to A1C Darrell Chun-Fat who returns from the INS tech school in Keesler, and to AB Tracy Ohigashi from Lowry AFB, after attending the WCS school. For MSgts Richard Kudo, Ray Choy, Herbert Okamoto, TSgts Gary Mau, Stewart Lee, Byron Kim, Ron Muronaga, Dexter Chin, Lionel Calvin, Galen Yamada, A1C Russ Miyamoto and SrA Zalen Arakaki-----

CHEER UP, GUYS!! ONLY ONE MORE WEEK!!

Then its off to another 3-4 months of electronics school. Congrats to Sgt Howard Naone and wife Jessica on the birth of Kassandra recently.....

Good Luck to SSgt Ron Mau who will be retiring from the Quality Controllers office after the September drill.....

From the Weapons people.....TSgt Clay Chang must sure have a big family. He went to Maui for a family reunion and will be gone for "3" weeks. Congrats to TSgt Norm Eclarin and wife Wendy, as they are expecting a child by the end of the year. He's also moving to a new home, must sure be exciting. I heard of people setting up a nursery, but a new home???

Welcome back goes to ABs Randy Funasaki and Brandon Daniel who returned from tech school. Good to have you aboard....The Flight Line people welcomes MSgt James Suzuki on his return from a vacation in Japan. After a 16-day tour, he extended his stay 4 days to visit his wife's family on Oshima Island. Two things he was disappointed about: Rain and fog was bad for picture taking, and lots of beautiful castles but no elevators..

From the HANG OHANA INC Director of Musicians Al Batis, much congrats to the newly elected officers of the NA MELE KOA - Musicians Club: Chairman, David Langsi (201 ATCF), V-Chairman, Jere Choo (154 CAM), and Secr/Treas, Dennis Rocha (201 ATCF). Anyone who is interested in joining this club, contact the club officers.....

From the Field Maintenance Branch, mahalo and good luck to Judith Vance of the Airframe Repair shop who will leave after a short tour of duty with us. Welcome goes to Sgt Lisa-Ann Daniel, who returns from the Airframe Repair school, AB Aaron Silva from his tech school and reports to the Electric shop, and to AB Pedro Begga who came back from the Parachute school. Good to have you all back. Congrats also to A1C Robert Fabrigas who completed the Tin Man Marathon, Off to Boston is SMS Dick DeVeas and TSgt Al DeRego for the ENGAUS conference along with a whole lot of other Hawaii National Guardspeople. Good luck.....

CAMRON NEWBITS....Don't forget about the CAMRON Recognition Nite in Sept. See your supervisors for tickets.... Tickets will be available soon, for the HANG 40 Anniversary. Hope you go and get your tickets and rooms real quick.....MSgt "Gabe" Gabriel is all smiles as his new classroom is near completion. Looks good for my office. The CAM Sq is really proud of its NO KA OI history. The hallway in front of the Commander's office is lined, or full, of plaques, trophy cases, a whole slew of pictures, and more pics down the Maintenance Control hallway. If you all happen to be in the area, you're welcome to check out all the plaques and pictures, but please do not remove any items.....Make sure you all have your blues and ribbons, and blouses for you officers, ready for the September drill. Should be nice to see everyone in blues.....

That's all for now gang, so til next issue.....

We all know that cocaine and marijuana are illegal drugs. If that's true, how come so many people are doing coke and smoking buds out in the open? The answer is that now everyone gets caught. In fact, most illicit drug users don't get caught, but for those who do the next question is "so what did you get?" The answer is you get plenty.

Marijuana is considered a detrimental drug. The possession of 2.2 lbs. or more, the sale of 2 oz. or more or the transfer of any amount to a minor is considered a class "C" felony. You could get up to 5 years. If you possess 1 oz. or more or sell any amount that's a max of 1 year.

Cocaine is considered a dangerous drug. Just for possession of any amount of cocaine you could get 5 years (class "C" felony). If you sell or distribute any amount or possess 1/8 oz. or more, that is considered a class "B" felony. You could get up to 10 years in OCCC. If you sell any amount to a minor (anyone under 18) or sell/distribute/transfer an amount of 1/8 oz. or more or possess more than 2 oz. that's 20 years mandatory sentencing.

As you can see, the question "what did you get?" is real important to those who get caught. Be smart, don't use or even experiment with illicit drugs. That way nobody will ever have to ask you the question "What did you get?"

CAMRON - CAREER ADVISORS NEEDED

Anyone interested in being selected as the Unit Career Advisor for CAMRON should submit their names to SSGT Victor Ioli, the current UCA for CAMRON. Names should be submitted NLT Saturday of the November UTA.

SAFETY - SEATBELTS MAKES A DIFFERENCE

-from the Safety Office

Here are some statistics showing that seatbelts do make a difference in an auto accident:

-For every one percent increase in safety belt use, about 172 lives will be saved.

-About 50 percent, or 34,000 of all people who die in passenger cars, trucks or vans, could have been saved if they had been wearing their safety belts.

-Safety belts cut your chances of being killed or seriously maimed in a crash by more than 50 percent.

-On any single trip the chance of an accident is very low; but the possibility of a serious accident on one of the many trips in your lifetime is better than 50 percent. What percentage of your friends have never been in an accident? Ask around...the percentage is low.

-Three out of four crashes happen within 25 miles miles! of home.

-A common cause of death or injury to children in automobiles is being crushed by adults who are not wearing seatbelts. In fact, one out of four serious injuries to passengers is caused by occupants being thrown into each other.

Drivers wearing safety belts have more control over their car in emergency situations and are therefore more likely to avoid an accident.

HANG SPORTS

HANG STATE SOFTBALL TOURNEY

by TSgt. Ron Muronaga

The HANG State District Slow Pitch Softball Tournament wrapped up July 19-20 at Hickam, Area 61, fields 5 & 6. Eight teams consisting of 163 players participated in the tournament and here are the results:

- FIRST PLACE: 201 CISS, Maui (TSgt. Mark Tokunaga)
- SECOND PLACE: 160 ACW, Night Hawks, Kauai (Sgt. Raymond Salazar)
- THIRD PLACE: 164 CAM "A", Tony's Tigers, Oahu (SSgt. Antone Gabriel)
- FOURTH PLACE: 201 CISS, Hilo, (MSGt. Kenneth Snoki)
- FIFTH PLACE: 164 CAM "B", Oahu (MSGt. George Padilla); 164 COMBO, Oahu (MSGt. Cornwall Matsunaga)
- SIXTH PLACE: 202 ATCP, Kauai (Capt. Barry Castellano); 160 ACW, Oahu (MSGt. James Akamine)

All the teams were well represented and there were many heartbreaking games with some going into extra innings. The first and second place teams had to play each other three times before Maui emerged the winners by one run, 8-7. The 164 CAM "A" lost to 160 ACW (10-11) and 201 CISS (8-9). And, the 164 COMBO lost to 201 CISS (14-15) and 164 CAM "A" (3-4). There were also games where teams came from behind and won. The excitement, suspense and anticipation were there. There were many positive comments concerning the tournament. But, no project can be run by one person alone. So, I would like to acknowledge my key tournament staff:

- TSgt. James Pahukula and his gang
- MSGt. Cornwall Matsunaga
- MSGt. David Langai
- MSGt. Blvin Nishitaka
- MSGt. Galen Nakahara

I would like to thank all the participants for their sportsmanship and conduct during and after the games. Again, congratulations to the winners.
