Local veterans organizations search for relatives of fallen comrades

July 24 will mark the dedication of the Korean-Vietnam Memorials, monuments designed to pay homage to 758 Hawaii residents who gave their lives in those two conflicts.

To coincide with this historic event, the State Department of Defense is searching for the relatives of the veterans in an effort to honor them with special invitations and recognition.

A complete list of the soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines from Hawaii who paid the ultimate price during the Korean and Vietnam Wars is published in this edition of Hawaii Veteran in a special insert.

If you are related to or know any relatives of those listed, please contact the Office of Veterans Services at 587-3000 (Oahu), 933-4586 (Big Island), 241-3348 (Kauai), 243-5590 (Maui, Lanai, Molokai).

Please be prepared to provide names, addresses and/or phone numbers.

The public is invited to attend.

In April, veterans of the Korean and Vietnam wars placed war memorabilia in a time capsule, which was sealed and buried in cement near the site of the state's Korean and Vietnam memorials. Above, Randy Choy Foo and Patrick Tangonan lower the capsule into its hole. Looking on are Herbert Kondo, John Ching and Medal of Honor recipient, Allan Kellogg Jr.

State pays homage to fallen warriors

Korean/Vietnam memorials dedication set for July 24

The Korean and Vietnam Memorials will be formally dedicated July 24 on the grounds of the State Capitol. The dedication is scheduled for 10 a.m.

A dedication committee, chaired by retired Brig. Gen. Irwin K. Cockett Jr., is spearheading the event along with the Department of Accounting and General Services and the State Department of Defense, under the direction of Maj. Gen. Edward V. Richardson, state adjutant general. Cockett is a veteran of both the Korean and Vietnam wars.

The theme of the dedication will be 'E ho'i mai i ka aina,' which means 'returning home.'

Governor John Waihee is scheduled to be the key note speaker. Music will be provided by the 111th Army Band, Hawaii National Guard. Military aircraft flyovers and a 21-gun salute are also being planned.

Completion of the memorials is expected by the end of June. The memorials are separate from each other but they are in close proximity and designed in the same style, with the name of each fallen service member engraved on a granite rock pedestal.

*Set the example:
show pride in America's flag,
pledge and anthem*

From the Director
Larry Lee

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

We celebrate the 217th birthday of the Stars and Stripes, the national flag of the United States of America, June 14. We pledge allegiance to our flag and celebrate its birthday because it is a symbol of our country.

In his 1917 Flag Day message, President Woodrow Wilson stated: "This flag, which we honor and under which we serve, is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation. The choices are ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices, whether peace or war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us—speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us, and of the records they wrote upon it. We celebrate this day from birth; and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, of a great plan of life worked out by a great people . . ."

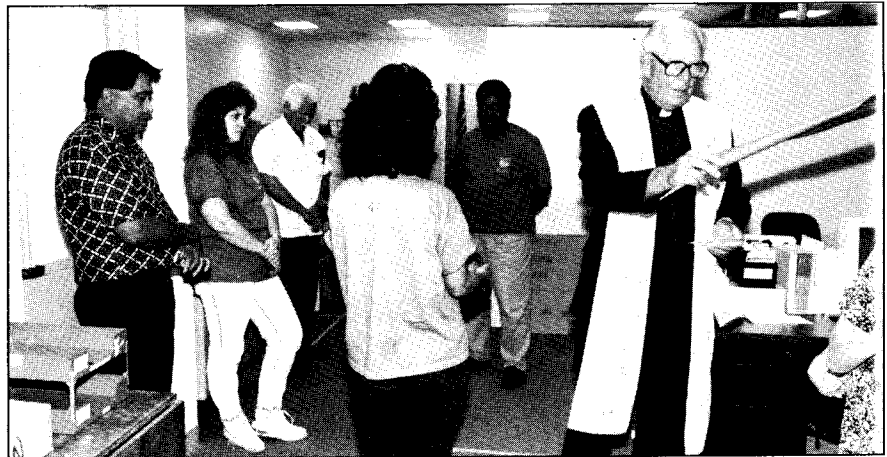

Today, as we attend and observe the variety of ceremonies and events throughout the state, we cannot help but be alarmed at the lack of respect that so many of our fellow citizens display each and every time the pledge of allegiance, the playing of our national anthem or the passing of our colors occurs. Be it ignorance, disrespect, spite or just plain insensitivity, this is a disgrace to this symbol which has been the standard by which we enjoy the freedom and independence we so richly cherish.

Perhaps some have forgotten, perhaps some have never been taught, perhaps some just don't care. Whatever the reason, people need to be reminded and brought to realize that this is the flag that represents their country and all of the thousands of service members who made the supreme sacrifice for them. This is the flag which represents the future for their children and their children's children. This flag will be their continued source of freedom and independence.

As a brief refresher, when the national anthem is played, the pledge of allegiance is recited or the colors passed, all present should stand at attention and face the flag or music. Those in uniform should render a hand salute. Men not in uniform should remove any head dress and place their right hand over their heart. Women may also place their right hand over their heart or just stand at attention.

Let us, veterans, set the example so that others may properly honor this symbol of America's heritage and future.

OVS moves to Ala Moana Boulevard

The Office of Veterans Services recently moved from 733 Bishop Street to its current location at 919 Ala Moana Boulevard. Monsignor Roy V. Peters, of Saints Peter & Paul Catholic Church, was on hand to bless the new location, offices and employees, May 13. Peters, a retired U.S. Army airborne colonel, conducted the blessing using a ti leaf and a koa bowl filled with water. The ti leaf was dipped in the bowl and then sprinkled on staff members and around OVS offices to impart good luck and prosperity.

The new location is less expensive, more accessible to parking and is centrally located to better serve local veterans.

Correction

The Vet News brief on page 6 of the Spring 1994 issue of the Hawaii Veteran listed the wrong regimental number for the Fighting 69th. The correct regiment is the 165th.

DVA Chief visits Hawaii

Jesse Brown speaks with homeless vets

Brown

Story and photos by Deborah M. S. Murray

Mike Estelle, of Scottsdale, Ariz., came to Hawaii almost two years ago to train at the Hawaii Transportation School. When the business closed abruptly, he and about 200 other individuals were left homeless.

Estelle, a veteran who served with the U.S. Navy's Seabees until his medical discharge in 1966, is now numbered with the 250,000 homeless veterans that are living in the nation's streets, parks and in shelters.

Statistics reveal that one-third of about 900,000 homeless individuals in the country are veterans.

He is one of the many veterans who Department of Veterans Affairs Secretary Jesse Brown has made top priority to help.

Brown spoke with a crowd of homeless veterans, some carrying their possessions in bags with rolled up sleeping pallets, and members of veterans organizations at a picnic at Kapiolani Park, May 21. Larry Lee, Office of Veterans Services director, attended the event with his staff to inform homeless veterans of available state resources. The event was sponsored by the Brotherhood Rally of All Veterans Organizations (BRAVO).

Estelle

Brown told the audience that homelessness is a tragedy. There are more homeless Vietnam veterans in America than were killed in the war, according to Brown.

In an effort to reassure the veterans that they have not been forgotten, Brown stressed that, since joining President Clinton's cabinet, he has increased funding to VA homeless programs to about $70 million, held a national summit on veteran homelessness, and is working on opening four new VA Comprehensive Homeless Centers.

"We cannot attack the program of homelessness alone," Brown said, adding that his goal is to create a continuum of care for veterans.

If we all work together, I know we will be successful in ending this tragedy."

Unlike many veterans that find themselves in the unemployment line and on the streets, Estelle is remarkably optimistic. He is hoping to get a shot at having a new tool he designed and patented produced as a prototype. Having met BRAVO President John Rogers and other individuals, Estelle said he feels that attending the picnic was beneficial for him.

"Maybe God directed me here today, I don't know," he said.

The potluck picnic in the park is expected to become a quarterly event for BRAVO. Rogers is hoping that attendance will pick up and veterans organizations will see it as an opportunity to "put rank aside" and get to know each other.

Chosin Few honor Korea's unknown

Story and photos by Nancy S. Chappell

A veteran's visit to the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific's (Punchbowl) Section U one year ago culminated in a moving tribute to America's unknown soldiers during a ceremony at the cemetery, May 22.

Visiting Hawaii from the mainland with a group of fellow members of the veterans' group, Chosin Few, in May 1993, retired sergeant Bob Holtzer was so affected by the row upon row of graves marked "U.S. Unknown -- Korea" that he set in motion efforts leading to the dedication of a plaque in honor of all Korea's unknown soldiers.

"I got up in the middle of the night and wrote a poem to the unknown. The next day, when I took my buddies to the cemetery ... I read the poem. One man fell to the ground in tears and said later it was as if a hand had reached down inside of him and squeezed his heart ... We vowed to give a proper tribute."

One year later, a plaque inscribed with Holtzer's poem was dedicated in a ceremony featuring Secretary for Veterans Affairs, Jesse Brown, who spoke of the "duty a nation faces when the guns of war fall silent ... the duty of binding up the nation's wounds in the aftermath of war."

Retired Lt. Gen. Alpha Bowser also spoke at the ceremony, remembering the battle of the Chosin Reservoir, where 20,000 U.S., South Korean, British and Australian troops faced 120,000 Chinese forces in a brutal but heroic battle.

Following the formal ceremony, which also included a wreath laying and a booming 21-gun salute, the Honolulu Police Pipe band led veterans and guests in a procession to Section U, where flowers were laid on each of the 848 graves of Korea's unknown.

*At the Punchbowl in Hawaii,
Where banners for heroes are flown,
There's a resting place, a plot of land,
Marked: "Korea ... U.S. Unknown"*

*People pass by without a tear, it's sad
"They're so all alone"
For within this spot there are heroes;
The souls of our unknown.*

*They rest here together nameless,
Regardless of faith or race.
Known only to God; "Yet"
We veterans know their face!*

*Look around; you'll see them all battle,
They died to tell our story,
For without them we would not be here today!
To bathe in all their "Glory"*

*They were there when we cried out yesterday,
They helped to ease our pain,
They rest here today so all alone,
Not one of us recalls their names.*

*These men were all our buddies!
They saved us many years ago,
True, we may not recall the names,
But their face ... "We'll always know."*

*We pray they are at peace today,
within this "hallowed ground,"
For today without these nameless men,
World Peace could not be found.*

*Clouds across the skies will shed their tears
in many a foreign place,
True! They're known only but to God,
But we veterans know their face.*

*Forgive our lack of memory for names and the disregard we've shown,
But forever and a day we'll see your face;
"the face of our unknown."*

Q & A:

Department of Veterans Affairs

Will the VA pay me an allowance if I have my spouse, who is a veteran, buried in a state-owned cemetery even if he was not receiving VA compensation or pension benefits at the time of his death?

No, but if your husband had qualifying service and he was buried free of charge in a section of a state-owned cemetery reserved solely for veterans, VA may be able to pay a $150 plot allowance directly to the state.

If I am receiving Dependents Indemnity Compensation (DIC) monthly benefits and have them electronically deposited into my bank account, do I ever have to report my change of residence address to VA?

Yes. When VA needs to verify your marital status, they will need to correspond with you. If VA determines you have remarried or cannot locate you to update your marital status, your monthly benefit check may be suspended.

I'm the widow of a Persian Gulf War veteran who died from a service-connected disability. Am I eligible for his VA home loan entitlement?

You have entitlement in your own right as a surviving spouse who has not remarried.

For more information, contact any DVA office. In Honolulu, call 541-1000 or 1 (800) 827-1000 or write: VA Medical and Regional Office, P.O. Box 50188, Honolulu, HI 96850.

Akaka bill on Guard and Reserve benefits signed by President

President William J. Clinton signed a bill into law, May 4 that allows members of the National Guard and Reserves who have served at least 20 years and are eligible for retirement pay, to be buried in national cemeteries. The bill was introduced by U. S. Senator Daniel K. Akaka.

The bill will also allow spouses and dependents interment in the National Cemetery system.

Previously, only reservists who died during active duty service or who met the minimum criteria for "veteran" status (generally, 24-months of continuous active duty or duty during a period of war) were eligible.

Troops to Teachers program helps bridge the gap

The "Troops to Teachers" program provides up to $5,000 in financial assistance to separated members of the armed forces and terminated civilian employees of the U.S. Department of Defense (DOD) and Department of Energy (DOE) to obtain a teaching alternative certification or the necessary credentials to serve as a teacher's aide.

Eligible service members must have served on active duty for at least six continuous years immediately prior to an honorable discharge and apply not later than one year after separation. Eligible civilian employees of the DOD and DOE are those who have been terminated from government employment because of reductions in defense spending or the closure or realignment of a military installation. They must apply within 60 days of termination.

Applicants for employment as teachers must have at least a baccalaureate degree. Teacher's aides must have an associate degree. All applicants must, if selected, accept full-time employment for five years in a school which serves students from low-income families.

Army National Guard Title 10 and Title 32 Active Guard/Reserve (AGR) soldiers are eligible for this program. State military technicians (civilian) also may qualify.

For more information, contact Lt. Col. Ken Ductor, National Guard Bureau, DSN 327-9544 or commercial (703) 607-9544/9543.

A guided-tour of the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific is not only a stroll into history, but an opportunity to help fund numerous programs for veterans and their families.

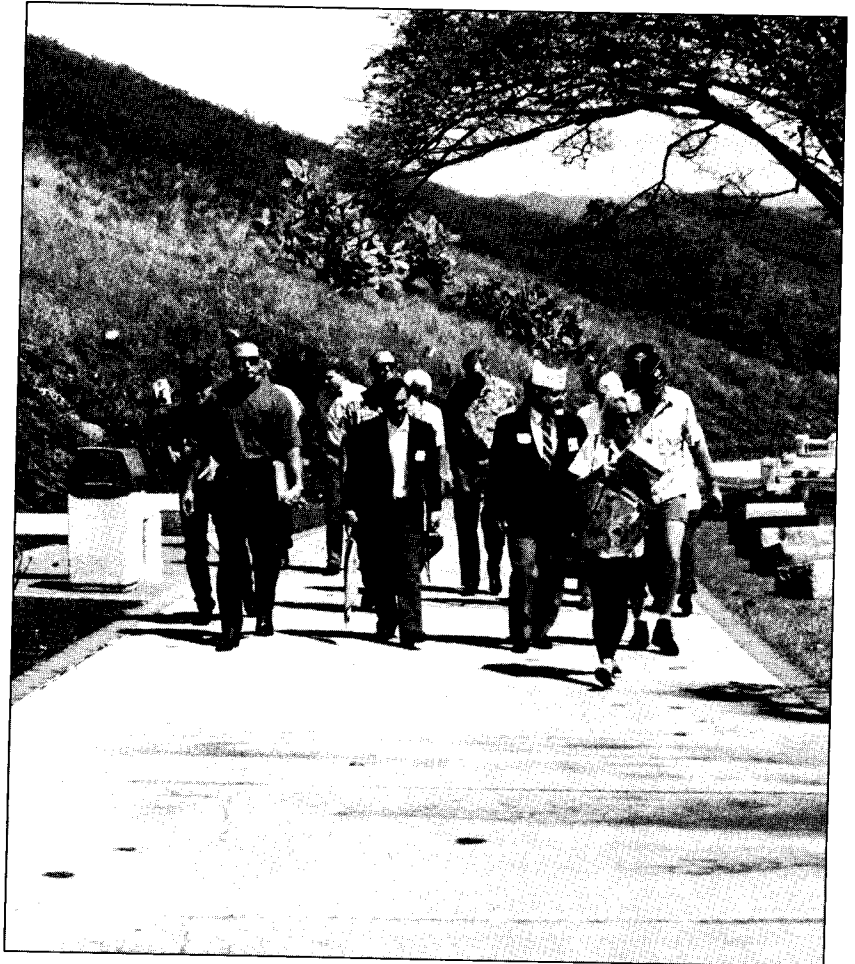

During a news conference April 8, the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific (Punchbowl) Task Force announced the awarding of a contract to the American Legion to conduct guided-tours at the cemetery. The one-hour walking tours will be conducted by the Hawaii Educational Legion Program, a non-profit corporation formed by the Legion.

The walking tours are a result of the task force's two-year effort to accommodate the needs of the diverse groups visiting Punchbowl and the residents of its surrounding community.

Tour prices are $15 for adults and free for children under 12 years of age. The proceeds from the tour will be used to fund American Legion programs that help youths, veterans and their families. Specific programs include Junior Baseball, and oratorical contests, Boy Scouts of America, veterans assistance and rehabilitation.

"I tried for three years to get funding for our service division to no avail," said Henry Lamb, adjutant of the American Legion, adding that the Legion is hoping to hire full-time service personnel to help veterans file benefit claims.

For information about how to register for a tour, call the American Legion at 946-6383.
