

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

ANNUAL REPORT
Fiscal Year 1995

---

Maj. Gen. Edward V. Richardson, Adjutant General

Dear Governor Cayetano:

Fiscal year 1995 saw several milestones in the history of the State of Hawaii Department of Defense.

The Hawaii Army National Guard's 29th Infantry Brigade (Separate) became one of only fifteen elite Enhanced Readiness Brigades in the nation, capable of deploying within 90 days of federal activation. The 103rd Troop Command now has 11 CH-47 helicopters and is preparing to receive five more in Fiscal Year 1996. The Aviation Intermediate Maintenance Company is now the only National Guard unit in the nation which supports the active-duty Army with aviation maintenance.

The Hawaii Air National Guard also continued its tradition of excellence, as both major units--the 154th Wing and 201st Combat Communications Group--were awarded U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Awards. Three new C-130 aircraft and four additional KC-135 tankers brought more than 230 full and part-time jobs to the state and more than $30 million dollars in new construction projects were begun. Also in FY 1995, Hawaii became the first state to deploy Air National Guard F-15 fighter aircraft to patrol the northern no-fly zone of Iraq imposed by the United Nations at the end of the Gulf War.

The State Civil Defense took the lead in the initial development of the Pacific Disaster Center on Maui. The state-of-the-art facility will provide emergency managers in the Pacific region the most advanced information products on pending disasters.

The Office of Veterans Services continued its stellar performance in Fiscal Year 1995, highlighted by the final dedication of the Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery held at the cemetery's Memorial Plaza on Memorial Day, May 29, 1995.

The State Department of Defense is looking forward to adding even more to our list of accomplishments in the coming year while helping to protect and defend the citizens of Hawaii and the United States of America.

Sincerely,

Mission

The mission of the State of Hawaii Department of Defense is to assist authorities in providing for the safety, welfare and defense of the people of Hawaii. The department continuously strives to maintain its readiness to respond to the needs of people in the event of war or disasters, whether natural- or human-caused. Upon activation by the Governor of Hawaii, the department is prepared to provide professional personnel, quality services and well-maintained equipment to assist during emergencies.

The Hawaii Army and Air National Guard also train to meet their federal mission, should they receive a presidential call to duty in times of national emergency.

The Office of Veterans Services (OVS) serves as the single point of contact in state government for veterans' services, policies and programs. The OVS also oversees the construction and administration of the Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery and neighbor island cemeteries.

Personnel

Compared to other state departments, the Department of Defense represents a varied mixture of federal, state, active duty and drill-status National Guard members. This force includes, as of Sept. 30, 1995, 995 federal employees, 242 state employees, 337 Active Guard/Reserve, and 4,791 drill-status Army and Air National Guard members.

Organization

The State Department of Defense is made up of three major divisions, one inactive division, six key staff offices and the Office of Veterans Services.

The three major divisions are the Hawaii Army National Guard, Hawaii Air National Guard and State Civil Defense.

A fourth division, which is currently inactive, is the Hawaii State Defense Force. The Hawaii State Defense Force may be activated should the need arise.

The six key staff offices provide support services to the three active divisions and other activity centers within the department. The key staff offices include the Administrative Services Office, U.S. Property and Fiscal Office, Human Resources Office, Engineering Office, Staff Judge Advocate

Office and Public Affairs Office.

The special staff includes the Senior Army Advisor, Air Force Senior Advisor, Senior Enlisted Advisor, Inspector General, and State Family Program Coordinator.

The adjutant general is the executive head of the department. In addition to being a member of the governor's cabinet, the adjutant general is the commander of both military divisions and the director of State Civil Defense.

Hawaii National Guard

The Hawaii Army National Guard and Hawaii Air National Guard collectively form the Hawaii National Guard. Under the banner of the Hawaii National Guard, the Army and Air National Guard divisions maintain, in a style unique to their military institutions, a history rich in traditions, contributions, sacrifices and high marks of excellence.

State Civil Defense

State Civil Defense has two important missions. The first is to minimize loss of life, reduce property damage and restore essential public services and facilities devastated by natural- or human-caused disasters.

The second mission is to provide for the welfare and safety of citizens, ensure the continuance and/or reconstitution of state government and mobilize and manage state resources in the event of war.

Office of Veterans Services

The Office of Veterans Services (OVS), which was administratively attached to the Department of Defense in July 1988, serves as the primary state agency responsible for developing and managing veterans' programs, policies and activities. The OVS is also charged with planning, establishing and operating the Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery on Oahu.

Highlights and significant events

Fiscal year '95 provided numerous opportunities to reach out to the community statewide and even globally.

The start of the Youth ChalleNGe program in September '95 afforded the department with a golden opportunity to assist area youths who have dropped out of high school.

The program opened its doors at the Hawaii Military Academy facilities at Bellows Air Force Station, located in Waimanalo.

Youth ChalleNGe is a two phase military-oriented program designed to train and equip high school dropouts, ages 16-18, with the skills necessary to earn a General Education Diploma, competency-based high school diploma or mainstream back into their high school. Phase I is a five-month residential phase where participants learn academic and life-coping skills. It is followed by a 12-month mentoring phase.

The youth program has since graduated 98 youth and has moved out of the Bellow's location to Barbers Point Naval Air Station.

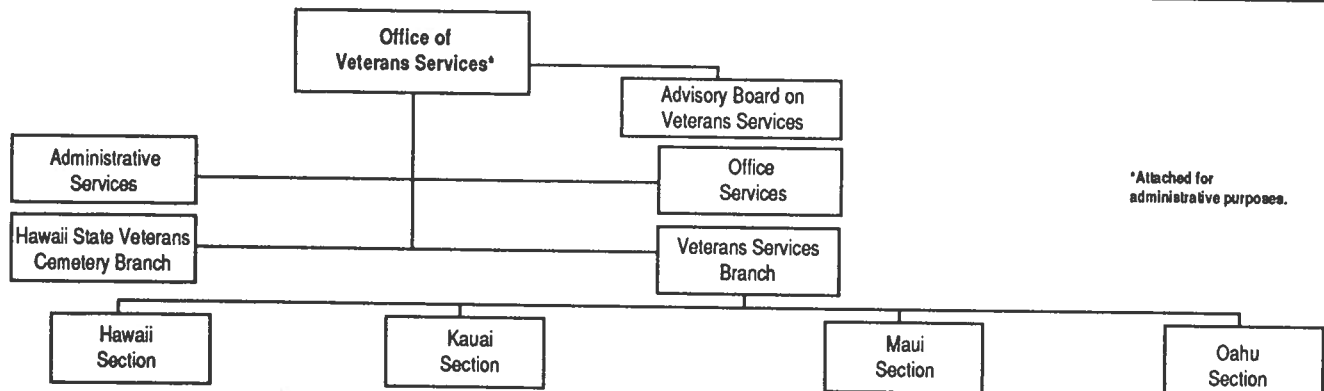

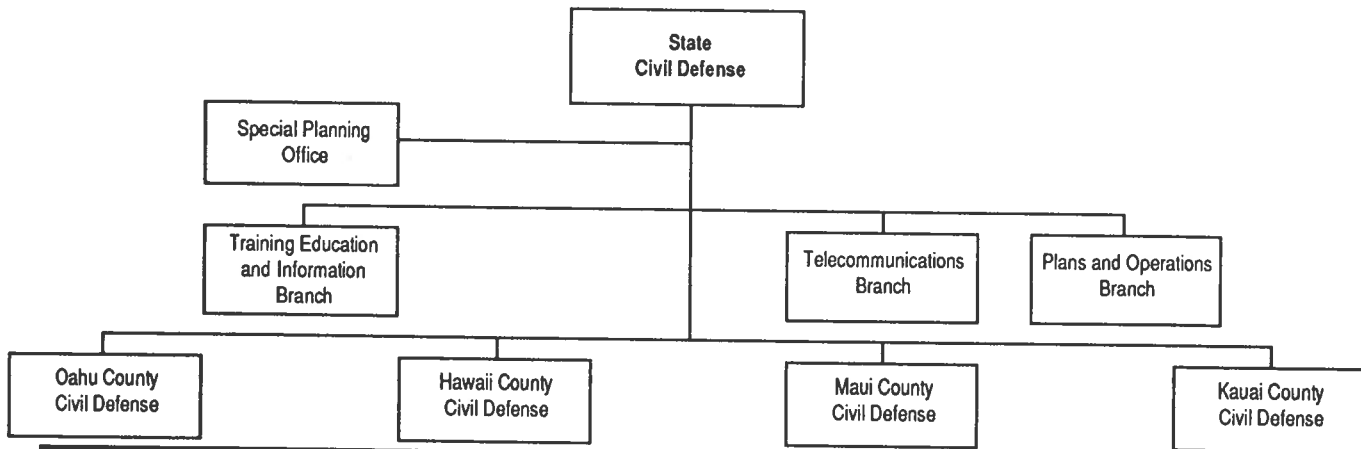

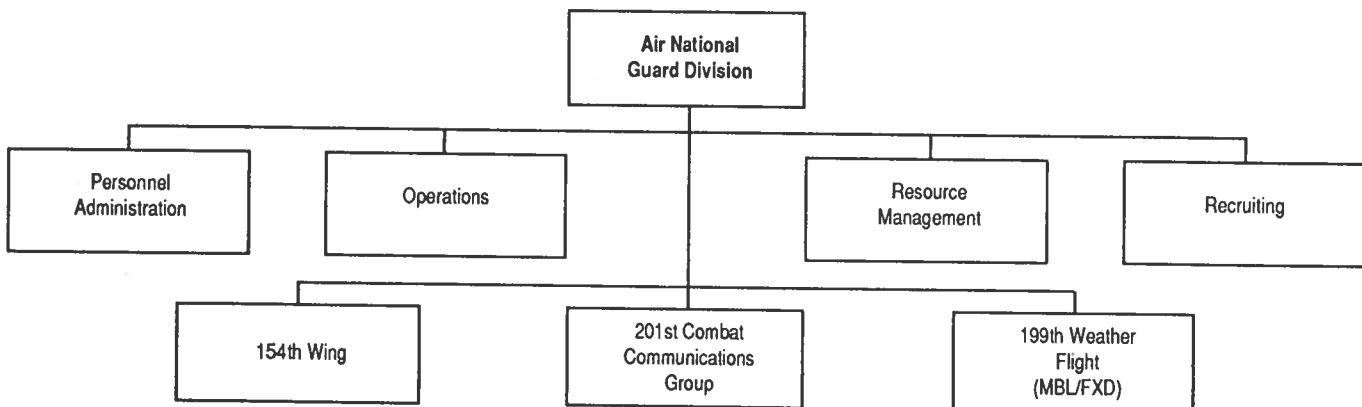

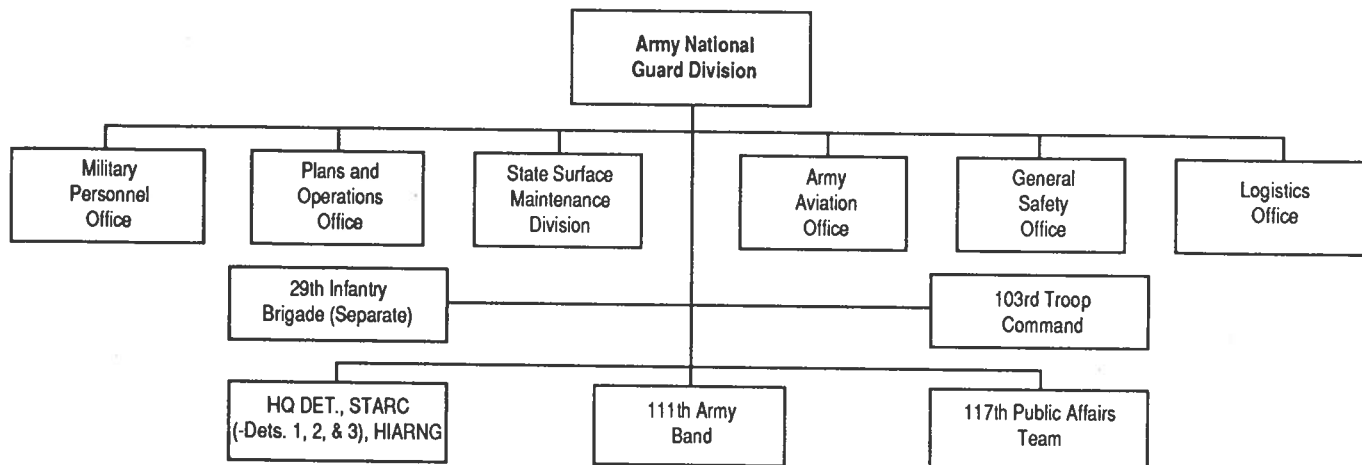

Aside from programs geared toward assisting local youth, the DOD took the leading role in the governor's Mission Aloha program working with public and private agencies to gather more than 70 tons of relief supplies. This effort assisted global neighbors--the earthquake victims of Kobe, Japan.

This successful relief effort followed the department's participation in Gov. Cayetano's inaugural ceremony, in which the department provided the Royal Guard, color guards, escorts, a salute firing battery, and other protocol duties.

Hawaii Army National Guard

Mission

The Hawaii Army National Guard (HIARNG) continually trains to maintain its readiness for state or federal active duty. It is prepared for local or global assignments, should the governor or president order it to active duty.

Personnel

The authorized strength of the HIARNG increased from 4,058 to 4,082 as a result of a minor reorganization. The assigned strength of the HIARNG stood at 3,245 at the end of fiscal year 1995, a decrease of 302 members from the previous fiscal year and 79.5 percent of the authorized 4,082 positions. This number included 311 commissioned officers, 105 warrant officers and 2,829 enlisted personnel.

Organization

The HIARNG consists of the Headquarters, State Area Command, 29th Infantry Brigade (Separate), 103rd Troop Command, 111th Army Band, 117th Public Affairs Team, Hawaii Military Academy and Selective Service Section.

29th Infantry Brigade (Separate)

The 29th Infantry Brigade (Separate) is the largest unit in the Hawaii Army National Guard. The brigade has units located on the islands of Oahu, Molokai, Maui, Kauai, and Hawaii. It trains to ensure its readiness for the Hawaii National Guard's state and federal missions. As of Sept. 29, 1995, a total of 2,381 soldiers were assigned. This included 239 officers, 20 warrant officers, and 2,181 enlisted members.

The brigade consists of a headquarters and headquarters company, two infantry battalions, a field artillery battalion, and a support battalion. In addition, separate units include a ground cavalry troop, a combat engineer company, and a signal detachment. This mix of units and equipment provides the brigade commander with a variety of options when employing the brigade for federal or state missions. Upon federal mobilization, the brigade would receive its third "round-out" infantry battalion, the 100th Battalion, 442nd Infantry, assigned to the U.S. Army Reserve.

In September 1995, Hawaii's 29th Infantry will become one of the 15 elite enhanced readiness brigades within the National Guard. This distinction means that brigade soldiers must be able to deploy anywhere in the world within 90 days should they be activated into federal duty.

103rd Troop Command

The mission of the 103rd Troop Command is to provide command and control over its assigned units. The command's assigned strength, as of July 31, 1995, was 505. This includes 35 officers, 58 warrant officers and 412 enlisted members.

The troop command is headquartered at Waiawa Armory in Pearl City, Oahu. It is one of two major commands within the Hawaii Army Guard. The 103rd includes two aviation companies at Wheeler Army Airfield, and two aviation detachments based at General Lyman Field in Hilo, Hawaii, a division rear operations cell at Waiawa Armory, an engineer detachment, and a personnel services detachment at Fort Ruger, Oahu. The supply and service battalion and most of its subordinate units are being phased out as part of the Hawaii Army Guard's reorganization.

The units within 103rd provide a broad spectrum of combat and combat-service support. The aviation detachments provide a highly trained pool of qualified aviators and technical aviation maintenance personnel. The engineer detachment's capabilities include horizontal and vertical construction and grading and paving roads. The division rear operations cell provides support to the 25th Infantry Division (Light) rear operations cell. The personnel services detachment, the remaining service battalion unit, provides the majority of the administrative support to the Hawaii Army Guard.

Aviation

The Army Guard includes five aviation units. The Headquarters State Area Command aviation section provides troop and supply transport with their C-26B Metroliner, a twin-engine, fixed-wing 18 passenger airplane, based at Wheeler. The aircraft transports personnel and supplies as well as necessary burial honor guards for veterans' burials to the neighbor islands.

The Reconnaissance and Interdiction Detachment (RAID) supports state counterdrug operations with two specially equipped OH-58A Kiowa helicopters based in Hilo. The five-man unit works closely with law enforcement agencies in eradication and surveillance missions. They also provide night search and rescue support using the helicopters' thermal imaging system.

The Medical Combat Enhanced Capability Aviation Team (CECAT), also based in Hilo, was activated in September 1995 with the mission of providing medical evacuation support. The unit has four UH-60A Blackhawk helicopters, each capable of transporting six litter patients. The medial aviation unit replaces the 451st and 452nd Aviation Detachments which flew the UH-1H Iroquois (Huey) helicopters.

The Wheeler based medium lift helicopter unit, Company C, 193rd Aviation Regiment, is authorized 16 CH-47D Chinook helicopters with nine currently on hand. The unit can be configured to provide troop air assault and artillery transport, cargo and vehicle conveyance by internal and external loads, and also fire fighting support utilizing a 2,000 gallon water bucket.

Company B, 193rd Aviation Regiment, also stationed at Wheeler, is a newly formed aviation intermediate maintenance (AVIM) unit. The 297 personnel unit is assigned two Huey helicopters. The unit is capable of maintenance, component and supply support to divisional and non-divisional aviation units within the Corps area.

The Army Aviation Support Facility (AASF) at Wheeler Army Airfield and the Limited AASF in Hilo serve as bases for the Hawaii Army Guard aviation maintenance and training programs. Training programs include aircraft qualification and proficiency training in the following areas: nap-of-the-earth, unaided night, and night vision goggles. By special agreement with the active duty Army, the AVIM full-time augmentation will provide full-time supply and maintenance support for non-divisional aviation units in Hawaii, the first National Guard unit to provide such support.

The aviation units flew a total of 3,484 flying hours. These flight hours were used to accomplish mission support for the 29th Infantry Brigade and the 25th Infantry Division, aircrew proficiency training, aircrew qualification, unit training and to support civil authorities.

Surface Maintenance

The State Surface Maintenance division has 74 full-time federal technicians employed at seven support facilities located throughout the state. An additional five soldiers on Active Guard/

Reserve status provide automated repair parts supply support for maintenance programs throughout the HIARNG. These soldiers support 49 different units and 21 activities which include active Army and Army Reserve units located on the islands of Hawaii and Maui.

Employees of this division worked more than 160,000 hours performing scheduled services and installing more than 1.2 million dollars of repair parts. These efforts enabled all Hawaii Army Guard units to exceed the Department of the Army's material readiness goal of 90 percent.

This division has assisted the 29th Infantry Brigade (Separate) as they transition into one of the Army Guard's enhanced readiness brigades, by receiving and maintaining more modern equipment such as M119A1, 105mm howitzers and the M16A2, 5.56mm rifles.

Employees of this division continued to keep abreast of force modernization programs by attending training here and on the mainland.

Hawaii Military Academy and Regional Training Site Maintenance

The Hawaii Military Academy (HMA) and Regional Training Site Maintenance (RTS-M) are extensions of the Training and Doctrine Command's (TRADOC) total force school system. The academy was accredited by TRADOC and the RTS-M was accredited by the U.S. Army Ordinance

Center and School and the U.S. Quartermaster School. Graduates receive the appropriate proponent diplomas.

The HMA provided training for Army National Guard soldiers from Hawaii, Alaska, Oregon, and Guam. It also provided training for U.S. Army Reserve soldiers (USAR), as well as active component soldiers, from the Pacific area. The academy conducted four major categories of training. These were Officer Candidate School (OCS), Non-commissioned Officers Education System (NCOES), Non-prior Service Training Program, and Military Occupational Specialty Qualification (MOSQ) courses.

In 1995, the academy's 12 officer candidates were commissioned as second lieutenants. Members of the graduating class completed their final two weeks of intensive training at Fort Lewis, Wash. The training was hosted by the Washington Military Academy. The programmed officer training was consolidated with nine other academies within the 7th region. The incoming OCS class conducted Phase I OCS training at Camp Grafton, N.D. The training was hosted by the North Dakota Military Academy and included ten other states.

The academy conducted three basic non-commissioned officer (NCO) courses and two advanced NCO courses, graduating over 110 NCOs.

The academy also provided skill level I training to 8 indirect fire support specialists and 70 infantrymen in various MOSQs. Soldiers who attended the training included National Guard and USAR personnel from Hawaii, Samoa, Guam, Alaska, and Oregon.

Battle-focused instructor training courses and small group instructor courses were also conducted at the academy for unit trainers.

The Regional Training Site-Maintenance (RTS-M) provided maintenance and logistics training for Army, Marine, National Guard, and Army Reserve soldiers. The RTS-M conducted MOSQ, transition, sustainment, and skill qualification courses.

The automated logistical specialist transition and MOSQ course that the training site offers is beneficial to the National Guard during this time of unit reorganization. A soldier will be awarded the appropriate skill level identifier upon completion of this course. The school will conduct two 30-day courses in TY-96 to facilitate the active component requirements.

The RTS-M is the only school authorized to conduct the wheel vehicle recovery course. Soldiers who complete this 80-hour course are eligible for the "H-8" additional skill identifier.

The RTS-M is the training hub for fielding and upgrading the unit level logistics system for all units of U.S. Army Pacific (USARPAC). It will continue to train operators of the system and provide technical advice throughout the Pacific. The RTS-M will field SCP-5, the newest upgrade to Unit Level Logistics System-Ground (ULLS-G), beginning in December 1995.

The RTS-M conducted the first 63B light wheel vehicle mechanic MOSQ course to assist the 29th Brigade's readiness. The course will meet the needs of the inactive duty training soldiers by conducting the course during three weekend drills and an annual training to prevent civilian employment conflict. Construction of our permanent facility will end in late October. The permanent facility will allow the RTS-M to offer a variety of MOSQ and MCOES phase II courses. With the implementation of the total army school system, the training provided by the RTS-M will produce better prepared soldiers of the reserve and active components.

Highlights and Significant Events

During FY 1995, Hawaii Army Guard continued refining its Military Support to Civil Authorities (MSCA) plans by conducting joint emergency operations involving State Civil Defense and the Hawaii Air Guard.

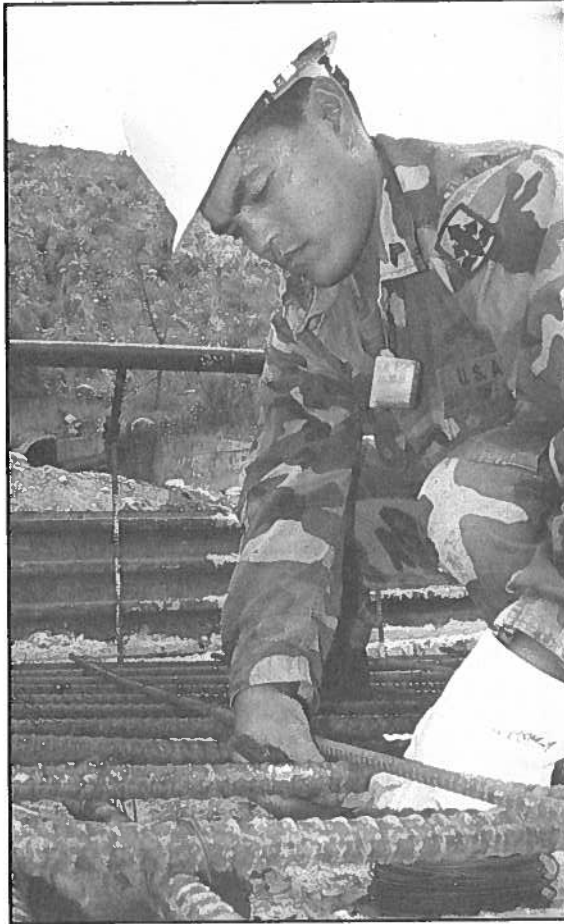

Hawaii Army National Guard conducted two major exercises to train the joint staff and update operating procedures and policies. The Army Guard participated in exercise Makani Pahili (Hawaiian for hurricane) in May. The SCD conducts Makani Pahili annually with state, federal, and civilian agencies to improve response to natural disasters within the Pacific region. HIARNG conducted a tsunami exercise in December to work on its internal and external operations and plans. Other MSCA activities included an earthquake exercise in July.

During FY 1995, HIARNG received new equipment and reorganized and consolidated units within its command. HIARNG began receiving M16A2 rifles in May as a result of lateral transfers from the Army active component. The benefits of the M16A2 rifle are a greater effective range and increased accuracy. HIARNG also began replacing the M-17A protective mask with M-40 and M-42 masks in June. The new masks have new filtering systems and are easier to replace.

The 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery, received eighteen M119A1 howitzers in June which replaced their M102 howitzers. They conducted Initial Fire Support Automation System (IFSAS) training in July at Pohakuloa Training Area. The IFSAS communication system along with the howitzers greatly enhances the artillery's readiness posture and allows them to work more closely with their counterparts in the 25th Infantry Division (Light).

Hawaii Army Guard held deactivation ceremonies in September 1995 for Headquarters and Headquarters, 297th Supply and Service Battalion, 291st Maintenance Company, and Troop E, 19th Cavalry. Soldiers from these units were placed in compatible positions within other units of the HIARNG.

Training

Hawaii Army National Guard units participated in a wide variety of training activities throughout the year. Troop Command units conducted year-round annual training to prepare units for deactivations and provide support to the brigade during exercises and their annual training. Brigade units trained at various times to capitalize on opportunities both in and out of the state.

The 291st Maintenance Company deployed to Camp Dodge, Iowa, Nov. 5-19, for its annual training.

The brigade deployed 24 soldiers to Kyushu, Japan, in January to participate in the IX Corps (U.S.) joint command post exercise, Yama Sakura XXVI. Troop E, 19th Cavalry, deployed to Fort Richardson, Alaska, during Feb. 11-25 to conduct cold weather tactics and training.

The brigade staff participated in Brigade Command and Battle Staff Training (BCBST) in December. The training was realistic and rigorous. It conducted simulated training exercises at Schofield Barracks' East Range and Wheeler Army Airfield.

Units of the 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry, and 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery, trained at the Big Island's Pohakuloa Training Area in July. Infantry companies from Kauai, Oahu, Maui, and Molokai practiced small unit lane training while the soldiers of the 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery, trained on their new M119 105mm Howitzers and new computer firing system. The new weapons will increase the battalion's fire support range from 11,500 meters to 14,500 meters.

Company D, 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry, deployed to the Puckapunyal Training Area outside of Melbourne, Australia, in May. This was an opportunity for a HIARNG combat unit to participate in a unit exchange with Australia, which occurs every other year.

The 227th Engineer Company and the Military Police platoon from the brigade deployed to San Diego, Calif., in June, for their annual training. The MPs helped curtail illegal immigration and the smuggling of contraband across the U.S./Mexico border. The Hawaii MPs worked with the California National Guard's counter drug program and various federal agencies including the Departments of Treasury, Justice, and Agriculture. HIARNG MPs accounted for six seizures that confiscated an estimated 800 to 1000 pounds of marijuana. The Hawaii engineers supported the California Guard's Counterdrug Program by constructing a road for the border patrol along the border in Tecate and San Ysidro.

The 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry, deployed to Camp Rilea, Ore., during August for annual training. It was an opportunity for HIARNG soldiers to train at a premiere training facility and refine their combat skills.

Like the troops at Pohakuloa, Big Island soldiers focused on small unit lane training. The units are given a collective task, meaning they're assigned one task and continue doing this for an assigned period of time. The tasks involved in the training lanes included performing a hasty ambush, executing an assault and knocking out a bunker. Lane training provides repetition, which helps soldiers learn from their mistakes and improve as they continue in their training.

The 111th Army Band continued its support of the World War II 50th anniversary commemorative activities. In June, the band performed at the 100th Battalion's reunion activities at Camp Shelby, Miss.

The 117th Public Affairs Team provided still and video coverage of departmental and Hawaii Guard activities and deployments from Mississippi, California, Oregon to Hawaii. The unit coverage was highlighted by the Korean-Vietnam Memorials dedication, Gov. John Waihee's military farewell review, December's inaugural ceremonies, and end of the war programs in Mississippi.

Mission

Like its continental counterparts, the Hawaii Air National Guard (HIANG) serves dual missions. In performing its state mission, the HIANG provides organized, trained units to protect Hawaii's people, preserve peace and ensure public safety in response to natural or human-caused disasters. Its federal role is to provide operationally-ready combat units, combat support units and qualified personnel for active duty in the U.S. Air Force in time of war or national emergency.

Personnel

As of Sept. 30, 1995, the assigned strength of the HIANG was 255 officers and 2,079 enlisted, a total of 2,334 personnel. The total members make up 89.8 percent of the 2,599 positions authorized.

Organization

The HIANG is directed by the commander, Hawaii Air National Guard, and is comprised of the HIANG Headquarters, 154th Wing (designated 154th Group during FY-95), 201st Combat Communications Group and 199th Weather Flight.

154th Wing

The 154th Wing is the largest of the HIANG organizations. It includes a headquarters, a fighter squadron, an air refueling squadron, an airlift squadron, an aircraft maintenance squadron, two aircraft control and warning squadrons, an air control squadron and 10 additional support units.

Responsibility for the state's air defense belongs primarily to the 154th Wing. Headquartered at Hickam Air Force Base, its fighter squadron is equipped with F-15A/B Eagles to provide fighter-interceptor capability for the air defense system.

The Wing's two aircraft control and warning squadrons operate radar sites at Kokee Air Force Station, Kauai, and Mount Kaala, Oahu. The two radars are linked to the Hawaii Regional Operations Control Center at Wheeler Army Airfield, Oahu, and provide 24-hour surveillance of the entire Hawaiian island chain.

201st Combat Communications Group

The 201st Combat Communications Group is composed of a group headquarters and six assigned units located on the four major Hawaiian Islands and Alaska. Its primary missions are to provide command and control communications and air traffic control services for Air Force combat forces, support emergency requirements for air traffic control and communications facilities and provide tactical communications for the State of Hawaii Department of Defense in response to emergencies and disasters. When activated under call-up or mobilization authorities, communications and air traffic control units are able to activate their personnel within 24 hours and be ready to deploy within 72 hours. The 201st is able to sustain command and control communications and air traffic services for 30 days with their own readiness spares packages, or longer with logistics support from within theater of operations.

199th Weather Flight

The 199th Weather Flight provides meteorological support primarily to the Hawaii Army National Guard's 29th Infantry Brigade (Separate) and secondarily to active and reserve components of the Army and Air Force. When deployed, services include continuous, 24-hour staff weather services, forecasting, observation and climatological support to the brigade's tactical operations center and a brigade airfield, drop zone, or helipad. Located at Wheeler Army Airfield, the unit provides weather information to the joint, worldwide meteorological network operated by the Air Force's Air Weather Service, the National Weather Service and the World Meteorological Organization.

Highlights and significant events

The Hawaii Air National Guard experienced many exciting and momentous events during the past year. Units deployed to locations all over the world and while continuing to excel in their readiness ratings. Hawaii Guard also continued their modernization and upgrades in facilities, aircraft and equipment.

• Deployments included missions in Asia, Turkey, Iceland, and the U.S. mainland.

Highlighting the deployment schedule was the mission flown from Turkey. In December 1994 and January 1995, F-15 Eagles from the 199th Fighter Squadron became the first Air National Guard F-15 unit in the nation to patrol the northern no-fly zone of Iraq. The deployment to Incirlik Air Base, Turkey, involved 160 pilots and support personnel from the 154th Group. The group's mission during Operation Provide Comfort II was to protect ethnic Kurds in northern Iraq from the forces of Saddam Hussein by denying Iraqi aircraft from restricted airspace.

The 203rd Air Refueling Squadron became the first U.S. military unit to fly into the interior of China since World War II. As part of a Capstone Course mission, a 203rd tanker flew 13 U.S. flag officers from Beijing to Dalian, Peoples Republic of China, in May 1995. The China deployment included stops in Alaska, the Republic of Korea, Hong Kong and Japan. Other refueling squadron crews deployed to Keflavik Naval Air Station, Iceland, in April to stand alert with U.S. active-duty and Icelandic Defense Forces.

Combat communication personnel deployed to the countries of Thailand, Japan and the Republic of Korea and state/territories of Alaska, Florida, Guam and Tinian.

Three communications personnel and mobile communications equipment from the 291st and 293rd deployed to Guam and Tinian in November for two full weeks in support of PACAF communications taskings for Tandem Thrust '95.

In January 1995, 24 personnel and equipment of the 201st departed Hawaii for Korat Royal Thai Air Force Base, Thailand, to participate in Cope Tiger '95. Led by the 292nd Combat Communications Squadron from Kahului, Maui, and augmented by the 291st from Hilo, Hawaii, they provided the main Air Force tactical communications support for this first multilateral air exercise involving the U.S., Thailand and the Republic of Singapore.

In April, a contingent of ten 201st personnel deployed in Republic of Korea for the Reception Staging, Onward Movement and Integration Exercise in support of PACAF, 7th Air Force and Korean Air Component Command.

Units from the 201st participated in three exercises with other communications units around the Pacific Rim to test the Cobra Gold '95 system's architecture and the "Red Switch" (a separate network) from January to March before the unit deployed to Thailand.

The communications group returned to Korat, Thailand, in April for Cobra Gold '95 with 27 personnel and tactical communications equipment.

The 201st deployed 22 personnel and their equipment to Alaska in May to participate in Northern Edge '95, a joint exercise, conducted by HQ 11th Air Force, PACAF, at Elmendorf AFB. The mobile communicators deployed to sites still under chilly conditions such as the eastern edge of Eielson AFB and the Donnelly Drop Zone on Fort Greely.

Thirty combat communicators, primarily from the 292nd and augmented by the 291st traveled to Fairchild AFB, Wash., to provide the communications expertise in the 252nd Combat Communication Group, Washington Air National Guard's Hammer Eagle '95-6. During the May operational readiness exercise, the Hawaii units cross-trained with the 242nd Combat Communication Squadron, their Washington counterparts.

In June, the 201st provided two tower controllers from the 297th Air Traffic Control Flight to support Cope Thunder '95 at Fort Greely, Alaska, and one logistics officer from the 291st to support Ulchi Focus Lens '95 conducted by 7th Air Force HQ, Osan Air Base, Republic of Korea. An air traffic controller from the 298th volunteered and departed in January for Key West Naval Air Station, Fla., for the Air National Guard Alert Mission Support, a mission extended for another nine months.

• Air Guard unit inspections were completed with successful results and awards were presented for outstanding readiness and performances.

The 201st Combat Communications Group successfully passed its operational readiness inspection. The Pacific Air Forces' Inspector General in November 1995 announced that the 201st achieved an overall excellent rating for the inspection. Three major functional areas, initial response mission support, and ability to survive and operate were evaluated. Twenty communications personnel were recognized as PACAF Outstanding Performers and four teams were identified as PACAF Outstanding Teams during the inspection. Also in December, the communications group received a National Guard Bureau plaque in recognition of superior performance and contributions to the Air National Guard signed by Maj. Gen. Donald W. Shepperd, Air Guard director.

An environmental compliance assessment and management program audit was conducted by 201st units on Kauai, Oahu, Maui and the Big Island of Hawaii in December.

The 154th Medical Squadron underwent a health services inspection by the Air Force Inspector General held May to June 1995 and received a satisfactory rating.

The Hawaii Air Guard two major units earned Air Force Outstanding Unit Awards for exceptionally meritorious service. In November, the 201st Combat Communications Group was awarded its first and the 154th Group was awarded its sixth.

In August 1994, the 154th Group took possession of two new C-130H-3 Hercules aircraft. The roll-out ceremony at the Lockheed factory in Marietta, Ga., marked the first time the Hawaii Air Guard had received aircraft straight from the assembly line. In October, the 154th officially activated the 204th Airlift Squadron with four C-130 aircraft.

The 203rd Air Refueling Squadron expanded from five to nine KC-135R Stratotankers in September 1994.

In October 1994, 201st units began receiving tactical secure data communications equipment (TASDAC) and each combat communications squadron/flight will receive two Nodes each (five ruggedized cases per node of computer-type items) to accommodate digital communications systems. In January 1995, 201st also received two central management units in ruggedized cases (two cases each of computer-type items) for TASDAC network management by its large management element. Classroom and hands-on training was initiated.

The 154th Group restructured in anticipation of becoming a wing during fiscal year 1996. In February, the 154th activated the 154th Operations, Logistics and Support Groups. As part of the restructuring, several support units were redesignated.

The 154th also took significant steps forward in the area of new construction. Ground was broken in September for the $3.3 million Composite Vehicle Maintenance/Aerospace Ground Equipment Facility at Hickam, as well as the $8.67 million Forward Air Control Point facility at Barking Sands, Kauai. In January, the group broke ground for a new Fuel Cell/Corrosion Control facility at Hickam.

• Training, seminars and meetings improved unit readiness and developed working relationships with other units.

A meeting that was held to develop a proposal to meet the drawdown target for Guard communications units of 1,272 positions was attended by the 201st Combat Communications Group commander in October at Air Guard facilities in Garland, Texas.

The communications group accelerated its training to improve proficiency in TRI TAC digital communications equipment as personnel prepared for their readiness inspection and as requests to participate in exercises and support of real world taskings in the Pacific theater and elsewhere increased. The 201st experienced an increase in its operations tempo. More daily taskings involving small contingencies kept the 201st very busy and usually with short notice to provide support. The communications group units provided equipment and personnel. Missions include the 293rd Combat Communications Squadron (CBCS) and 298th Air Traffic Control Flight support to the visiting RAND Team that conducted a congressionally required study of the state and federal missions of the National Guard for the Secretary of Defense; provided staff assistance to achieve mission ready status of the groups newly aligned unit, Alaska's 206th Combat Communications Flight; and 293rd CBCS provided their 20' Quick Reaction Satellite Antenna for several weeks to the Reachback satellite facility at Hickam to operate as the CINCPAC Alternate Command Facility while the 15th Communications Squadron's (PACAF) antenna was fixed.

Conferences and courses attended by the 201st include: PACAF Wing Initial Communications Package and Exercise Planning Conference held at Kadena Air Base, Okinawa; three unit strategic planning process meetings; PACAF's Contingency War Planning Seminar; Pentagon's Joint Tactical Communications Summit IV at McDill AFB, Fla.; Joint Planning Orientation Course, which provided an overview of procedures and techniques used during deliberate and time-sensitive contingency planning; HIANG Hazardous Waste Management Plan development; instructions and training on safety procedures and practices (ongoing program); hazardous material and waste handling and protect the environment instruction; and Total Quality Management, Quality Guard and unit self assessment training.

In January 1995, the communications group again hosted and conducted its Mobility Survivability Training with assistance from its Air Force technical advisors providing the instructor cadre. Twenty-nine Hawaii Air Guard personnel and seven airmen from the active component's 15th Communications Squadron attended this intensive course conducted at Hickam. The first ten days consisted of classroom and practical training covering important areas of responsibilities such as deployment management, first aid, buddy care, chemical warfare training, convoy procedures and associated field survival skills. The final four days consisted of a field exercise involving troop movement to set up and secure a bare base at a remote site on the air force base.

During its deployment to the Pohukuloa Training Area in July, the 199th Weather Flight provided airfield and ground weather support to its primary customer, the 29th Infantry Brigade (Separate), and other active and reserve components of the Army and Air Force. Other weather flight personnel supported the brigade at staff training exercises held at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and Keen Edge '95, held in Kumamoto, Japan.

Hurricane preparedness is a mission the Hawaii Guard is always poised to fulfill. The HIANG responded with personnel and equipment to the threats from hurricanes Gilma and Kristy that fortunately turned away from the Hawaiian Islands. The 199th Weather Flight kept the state adjutant general informed on tropical disturbances which had the potential to develop into hurricanes, while maintaining military mission with the Hawaii Army Guard at Pohakuloa.

Two communications staffers participated in the Hawaii Guard's tsunami exercise in December.

Hawaii Air Guard personnel along with Army Guard and departmental employees assisted with the gathering, packaging and delivering of relief supplies to the earthquake victims of the Kobe, Japan, in January.

In March, pilots from the 199th Fighter Squadron assisted in the rescue of three civilians who ditched a twin-engine aircraft in the ocean 120 miles north of Maui. Two F-15s were scrambled from the alert pad at Hickam, rendezvoused with the aircraft, then marked its location and directed the Coast Guard rescue team to the downed aircraft.

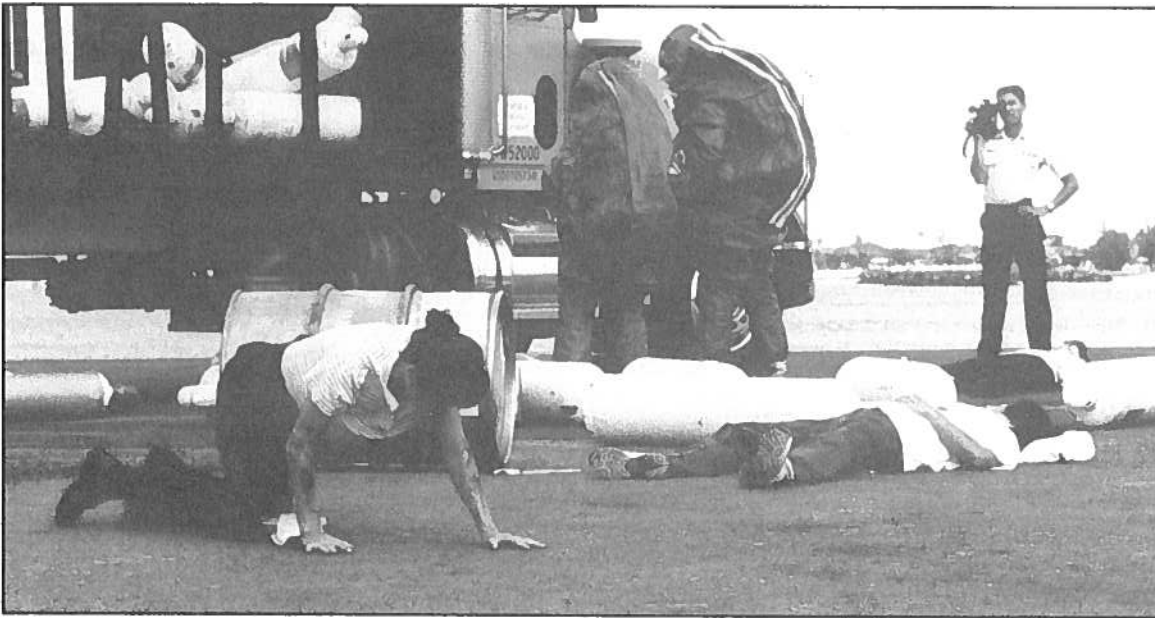

Representatives from the 154th and 201st participated in Makani Pahili '95, State Civil Defense's statewide hurricane exercise that was held in May. The Air Guard personnel served in the joint Hawaii Guard emergency operating center located in Battery 407 in Diamond Head Crater. They worked with their Army Guard counterparts in personnel, intelligence, security, aviation support, logistics, and communications.

• The Air Guard serves the community in many other ways.

Annual March of Dimes Walk America and Earth Day at Kapiolani Park events were supported by Hawaii Air Guard. The Oahu units provided tents, tables, chairs and volunteer personnel for the spring-held events.

Air Guard units provided escorts, color guards, flyby formations, firing salute squads and other personnel for events such as the Korean-Vietnam Memorials dedication, governor's military farewell ceremony, Veterans Day, inauguration, and Memorial Day.

State Civil Defense

Mission

The mission of Hawaii State Civil Defense (SCD) is to coordinate, integrate and focus mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery phases of emergency management for the State of Hawaii. This responsibility represents a commitment to the people of Hawaii to minimize disaster risks and help protect life and property.

Available resources must combat a wide range of natural, environmental and technological hazards, including war or terrorist related activities. Hazard management is accomplished via four integrated phases:

Mitigation. Measures which minimize the hazardous effects or conditions of a disaster.

Preparedness. Plans and procedures developed for disaster response and recovery, staff training, and community education.

Response. Actions taken to alert and inform the public, and the coordination and application of agency resources for crisis response.

Recovery. Short- and long-term integrated efforts taken to aid in restoration of social and economic structure following a disaster.

Personnel

SCD currently has a staff of 43 full-time employees. The staffing level has been increased to support long-term recovery operations for Hurricane Iniki. Thirteen special contract employees are conducting project inspections. They monitor and audit the repair of public and private nonprofit facilities and infrastructure. During emergencies, staffing is also increased by government liaison and volunteer agency support groups.

The adjutant general serves as the director of civil defense. The vice director oversees day-to-day operations and assumes the responsibilities of the director when the director is out of state.

Organization

The SCD is organized into three branches: Training, Education and Information Branch; Plans and Operations Branch; and Telecommunications Branch, all supported by an administrative section. A fourth Recovery Branch is formed when needed to manage large scale recovery operations in the wake of a major disaster.

The civil defense system is authorized by Chapters 127 and 128 of the Hawaii

Revised Statutes (HRS). This legal framework provides the mechanism for an integrated comprehensive system coordinated among key government players across all hazards. SCD also serves as the office of record for all major disasters impacting the State of Hawaii.

Under the provisions of Chapter 128, HRS, the director of Civil Defense appoints a deputy director in each county. County mayors typically take on this responsibility and are directly responsible for public safety and providing proper support to county civil defense agencies. County civil defense agencies each have an Emergency Operating Center and a small full-time staff which is partially supported by federal funds. Agency plans are approved by the mayors, county councils, and the director of civil defense.

County Emergency Operations Plans are coordinated with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), and other federal agencies supporting the state civil defense system. All state departments have a designated civil defense coordinator, and develop departmental plans that implement the provisions of the state civil defense plans. The plans are approved by department directors and the director of civil defense.

The DOD maintains the State Disaster

Contingency Fund authorized under Chapter 127-11, HRS. The fund provides $1 million per state disaster and an additional $1 million match required by the federal government if a presidential disaster is declared.

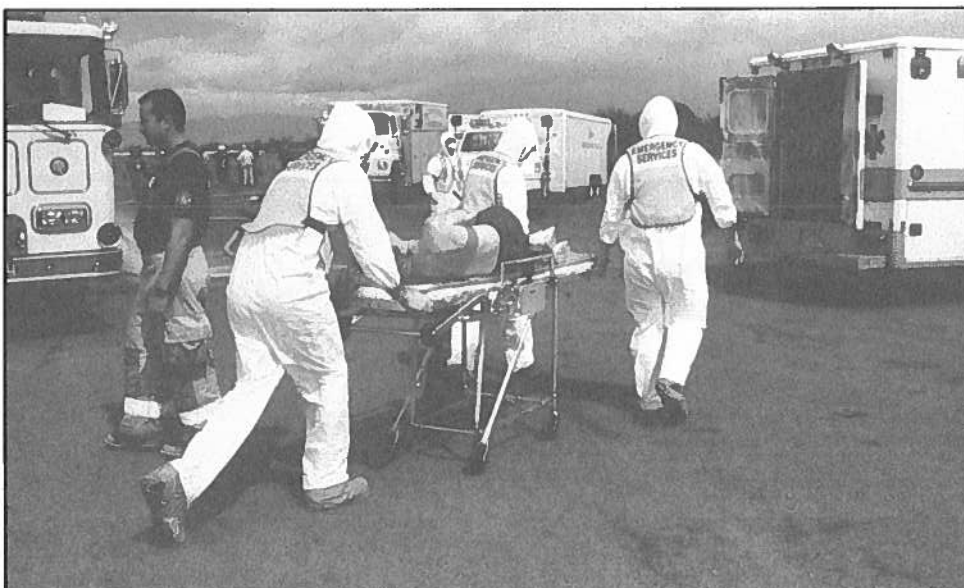

In coordination with the Attorney General, SCD drafts all Disaster or Emergency Proclamations for the Governor's approval and signature. If an emergency depletes county resources, the county may seek assistance through SCD channels. If disaster impact escalates beyond state resources, the state requests federal assistance through FEMA.

With county support, the SCD maintains a statewide communications and warning system made up of outdoor sirens and the Emergency Broadcast System (EBS). Operated over local radio, television and cable circuits, the EBS system is voluntarily supported by the broadcast industry. VHF radio systems, multiple hardwire links with the National Weather Service, Pacific Tsunami Warning Center and all county police and civil defense agencies. SCD contains fully integrated computer hardware and software which provides mapping and modeling support used for resource, risk analysis and response applications.

AMBULANCE TO THE RESCUE --

Council, Boards, and Special Groups

The seven-member State Civil Defense Advisory Board is appointed by the Governor and meets quarterly to discuss programs and projects conducted by SCD. Serving on the Advisory Council for 1995 are Reuben Yoshida, chair, Kauai; Walter L. Ornellas, Maui; Albert "Benny" Rodero, Hawaii; and Linda D. Chinn, Randall M. Izuo, Gabe Kilakalua and Judith A. Young, Oahu.

Hawaii State Earthquake Advisory Board

Formed in August 1990, The Hawaii State Earthquake Advisory Board meets quarterly to identify priorities for earthquake mitigation and preparedness. The board, drawn up of individuals from the scientific, engineering, academic and emergency management communities, works closely with Hawaii's earthquake program.

Hawaii Hurricane Advisory Board

Made up of representatives from the National Weather Service, University of Hawaii structural engineering, and civil defense, the Hawaii Hurricane Advisory Board held its first meeting in March 1994. The board has been assembled to take an in-depth look at mitigation strategies, capitalizing on recent events and history in the North Central Pacific.

Pacific Caucus

SCD provides the chair, hosts and coordinates the activities of the Pacific Caucus of emergency managers. In addition to Hawaii, members include representatives from Alaska, Guam, American Samoa, Republic of the Northern Mariana Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, Republic of the Marshall Islands, and the Republic of Palau.

The Pacific Caucus was formed in Honolulu in 1988 to give Hawaii's Pacific island neighbors a voice and a presence in the national emergency management arena. The multinational group holds annual meetings in Honolulu and is formally recognized as a fully vested member of the National Emergency Management Association, a body representing all directors.

Highlights and Significant Events: Iniki recovery progress

With a record $2.6 billion dollars in damages, the cleanup after Hurricane Iniki has been an enormous task. Residential losses totaled over $1.5 billion dollars, and to date, over 96 percent of residential insurance claims have been paid out. One hundred and nine state and county facilities and private non-profit agencies also sustained an estimated $150 million in damages. As the office of record, State Civil Defense is currently working on 2,226 public repair projects currently in various stages of completion. A special Recovery Branch has been in place since early 1993 to manage in-progress repair work, as well as project monitoring, inspections, and auditing.

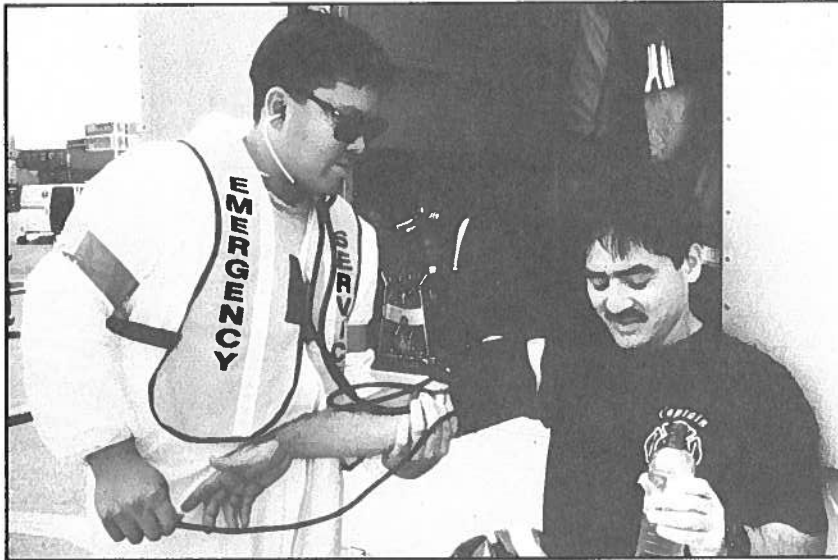

In the three years since Hawaii's largest natural disaster, the outward damaging effects of Hurricane Iniki are increasingly less apparent. Residential repair and reconstruction have made significant progress on Kaua'i, as have new housing starts for moderate income projects. The early construction boom has subsided now, and the Garden Isle has turned to focus on its economy. Retailers and visitor services continue to struggle with a sluggish economy. With the shutdown of plantations around the state, Kaua'i is looking to restructure its agricultural landscape.

Diversified agriculture, development of new businesses and technology, as well as new visitor industry strategies, will be needed to sustain growth in the future. Kauai is not alone in this outlook. With the imminent demise of sugar and pineapple, as well as the plantation lifestyle, Hawaii must turn to products and services which will enhance long-term growth rates.

Pacific Disaster Center promises bright future for Pacific emergency managers

Funded through a special congressional start-up grant of $2.5 million, the Pacific Disaster Center has gone from concept design to operations planning. By tapping into the power of the Maui supercomputer, the Pacific Disaster Center will harness sophisticated technology applications for emergency management program implementation in Hawaii and the Pacific Insular States. The Center is currently mapping out hardware, software and related communications which will soon link federal, state and local government, and through PEACESAT satellite, pacific island states. The resulting Pacific Region Emergency Management Information System (PREMIS) will share collection, monitoring and distribution functions among all users. The Pacific Disaster Center will process data via the Maui supercomputer and distribute information through the State Civil Defense network. This new database has great potential for improving current methods used to meet the challenges of disaster management. Future plans call for formalizing several user group organizations, as well as product marketing expansion to other Pacific Rim nations.

Compared to 1994, the 1995 hurricane season was mild. Over June and July last year, tropical cyclone activity was intense, with a total of eleven storms observed in the Central North Pacific. Besides nearly tying the record for hurricanes in Hawaiian waters, three storms . . . Emilia, Gilma, and John . . . reached super strength, with winds topping 150 miles per hour. With these storms arriving back-to-back, a string of Hurricane Watches made for a busy time in civil defense agencies statewide. In 1995 the islands only felt the remnants of Barbara, as the fading system caused oppressive humidity and dumped some rain over the chain.

A string of large quakes pose tsunami alerts for Pacific

Beginning with the Oct. 4 Hokkaido earthquake, followed by the massive quake recorded in Kobe, and also large magnitude quakes in the South Pacific, regional tsunami alerts were posted for Pacific Rim locations, including Hawaii. A tsunami warning was issued for the Hokkaido event, as well as for a quake originating from Vanuatu. In both cases, warnings were lifted early by the Pacific Tsunami Warning Center, and Hawaii was spared from wave damage. Because of the location and depth of the epicenter, the Kobe earthquake did not pose a distant tsunami threat. In all cases, Hawaii's civil defense system stood ready to engage in a full response, had actual waves been generated.

Two conferences held here for Pacific Insular States

In meetings held over Sept. 7-9, 1994, Pacific member countries and federal, state and county emergency managers covered a three-day agenda on hurricanes, earthquakes and tsunami. Presentations varied from scientific to practical viewpoints, examining hazard profiles and risks, as well as preparedness and response actions. A second conference was convened here on June 7-9, 1995, for a similar audience. The focus this time was an all-hazards theme, highlighting mitigation activities and insurance initiatives. The agenda also included a special Town Hall Meeting conducted by FEMA, providing a live forum on mitigation measures. Open to the general public, this electronic forum has been staged in several states around the country to explore ideas for reducing disaster risks and controlling disaster costs.

Training and Exercises

Training and exercises are an integral part in maintaining the readiness of Hawaii's emergency management system. In 1995, 768 participants attended 15 State Civil Defense-sponsored courses. In addition to professional development courses, state civil defense also administers Hazardous Materials Training (HAZMAT) for first responders.

Coupled with training, exercises also play a major role in readiness and response skills. Makani Pahili '95, the annual full-scale exercise, saw hundreds of agencies and over one thousand participants statewide deal with the aftermath of a hurricane. The scenario covered issues dealing with heavy damages and casualties aimed at evaluating agency performance. The event provided a venue to exercise lessons learned, as well as key decisions acted on in the interest of public safety. While May's exercise provided valuable practice, the resulting performance evaluations were put to good use to improve on current operations, plans and procedures. State Civil Defense also conducts smaller events throughout the year which bring focus to particular response and recovery aspects.

The practical application of lessons learned through training and exercises becomes evident each time agencies are called upon to meet the challenges of local emergencies or major disasters.

*JOINT TRAINING -- Hawaii Air and Army National Guard personnel specialists, communications experts, logisticians, aviators, and other personnel plot possible scenarios during a hurricane preparedness exercise at the Hawaii National Guard emergency operating center located at Battery 407 in Diamond Head Crater. ## Office of Veterans Services

Mission

The Office of Veterans Services (OVS) is the principal state office responsible for the development and management of policies and programs related to veterans, their dependents and/or survivors.

Personnel

The OVS is authorized 23 full-time state employees.

Organization

The OVS consists of the director and administrative and office services sections, the veterans services branch and the Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery branch. The veterans services branch, under supervision of the veterans services coordinator, consists of veterans services counselors and clerk typists on Oahu, Hawaii, Kauai and Maui who are responsible for veterans services in their respective county. (The Maui counselor also provides services to veterans on the islands of Molokai and Lanai.) The Oahu section consists of two counselors, one of whom coordinates statewide services to the Filipino-American World War II veteran community.

The Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery, staffed by a cemetery operations manager, cemetery operations assistant, secretary, clerk typist, four general laborers and one tractor operator, is responsible for the operation and management of the veterans cemetery located in Kaneohe on the windward side of Oahu.

Highlights and Significant Events

The dedication of the Korean and Vietnam Memorials was held, July 24, 1994. Efforts to locate and invite survivors and family members to the dedication were rewarded by an impressive audience that was extremely moved by the event. Since May 11, 1995, volunteers from veteran organizations have assisted with the weekly cleaning and polishing of the memorials.

A burial assistance program for Filipino-American World War II veterans was approved and funds were appropriated by the 17th Legislature. In fiscal year 1995, seven grants were provided totalling $12,232.04 for the funeral, burial or transportation of the remains of eligible Filipino-American veterans.

The OVS director hosted the visit of the director of the National Cemetery System and toured all veterans cemeteries in the state. The State Cemetery Grants Program, Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) provided $1,135,993 to support Phase I improvements to the veterans cemeteries in Hilo and on the islands of Kauai, Maui, and Molokai, and the establishment of a veterans cemetery on the island of Lanai. An additional $781,673 was granted to support the Phase I development of the West Hawaii Veterans Cemetery on the Kona coast of the island of Hawaii.

In November, the Kauai OVS relocated to office space leased in the Kauai Veterans Center. The Center was built with state grant-in-aid funds and dedicated Nov. 12, 1994.

Personnel actions during the fiscal year saw the resignation of Oahu's Veterans Services Counselor III; the retirement of Lawrence S.K. Lee, OVS director 1988-1994; the appointment of Robert C. Viduya on Jan. 1, 1995; the elimination of the vacant Veterans Services Counselor III position; and the establishment of a Veterans Services Counselor IV (Filipino Veterans), a civil service position created from the Veterans Special Assistant exempt position.

The OVS continues to lobby through Hawaii's congressional delegation and veterans organizations for the construction of the Spark Matsunaga Medical Center. Ground was broken for the Spark M. Matsunaga VA Medical Center's Center on Aging. OVS representation at veteran events supplies information about issues requiring attention and provides a forum to disseminate information about veterans services. On the neighbor islands, the OVS counselors are ad hoc members of their respective mayor's committee on veterans affairs, as well as representing OVS on their county veterans council. The Oahu Veterans Council was established in November 1992, with the Oahu counselor representing OVS on the Council. Additionally, the OVS attends many ceremonies that commemorate service to the country.

Counselors attended the White House Conferences on Aging in their respective counties; coordinated Veterans and Memorial Day activities; cooperated with DVA itinerant veterans benefits counselors; participated in case management meetings; offered technical assistance to county administrators in a wide variety of areas ranging from veteran cemetery rules and regulations to providing shelter to homeless; attended hearings concerning veterans issues, especially public hearings associated with the Veterans Burial Grant Program; offered assistance to flood victims and transportation during a tsunami threat; organized a job fair; supplied information and displayed materials about veterans services at public exhibitions and fairs; provided outreach services to homebound, incarcerated and rural veterans; and participated in the Transition Assistance Program which provides information to separating service members.

Neighbor Island counselors again spearheaded the effort to obtain leis for graves at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, the Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery and neighbor island cemeteries. Counselors coordinate with schools on their respective islands and arrange for the receipt and transport of leis to Oahu for the Memorial Day services. The veterans services coordinator provided protocol and ancillary services for the events.

In response to the state's fiscal situation, efforts were made to economize. Use of the prison inmate workline to help maintain the Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery in Kaneohe is an example of collaboration with other state agencies to maximize limited resources. To compensate for the loss of the Veterans Services Counselor III position, a part-time work study position was established through the DVA Vocational Rehabilitation program.

Recruits/Volunteers

OVS offices islandwide have recruited volunteers in order to adjust the funding shortages caused by statewide budget cuts.

Volunteers at the Kauai OVS office continue to log over two thousand hours a year while Oahu veterans organizations provide weekly elbow grease to keep the Korean and Vietnam memorials gleaming.

World War II Commemoration

The OVS cooperated with the Hawaii WWII Commemoration Committee in organizing the events planned for the End of World War II Commemoration and the VJ Day Remembrance.

Boards/Commissions

The Advisory Board on Veterans Services advises the director on veterans' issues and legislative proposals and program operations. Its primary focus has been on upgrading the veterans cemeteries statewide; maintaining levels of service given the present budget constraints; medical care for veterans, timeliness of claims processed by DVA, filing state Disabled Veterans Outreach Program (specialist) and Local Veterans Employment Representative positions in the Department of Labor & Industrial Relations, veteran homes for the neighbor islands and the WWII Commemoration events.

Members of the Board are: Louis Kaoiwi (Hawaii), chair; John K. Iwamoto (Kauai); Walter J. Hayes (Maui); and Louis Baldovi, Alfred Los Banos, Shirley Cavanaugh and Judith H. Worobe representing Oahu.

Administrative Services Office

Mission

The Administrative Services Office (ASO) provides military and state administrative support to the Office of the Adjutant General. It coordinates and controls all planning, programming, budgeting and execution of departmental programs as directed by the adjutant general.

Personnel

The ASO is authorized 17 full-time state employees.

Organization

The ASO is comprised of three primary staff elements. These are the executive support, personnel and financial management services sections.

Executive Support

The ASO provides centralized office services and communications management, to include the monitoring, review, distribution and filing of communications received from federal, state and local governments, private industry and the civilian community. The ASO is also responsible for maintaining close liaison with Hawaii's congressional delegation and legislature, and for administering all legislation affecting departmental programs. The office prepares correspondence and testimony concerning various legislative proposals. The military component of the ASO provides executive support services to the adjutant general. It also coordinates the activities of the adjutant general's military staff, composed of members of the Hawaii National Guard (HING).

Personnel Management Services

The personnel management services staff administers the state employee personnel program which includes classification, compensation, recruitment and placement, personnel transactions and records, labor relations, employee relations, training, workers' compensation and occupational safety and health.

Financial Management Services

The state financial management services staff administers and controls state general fund appropriations, state administered federal funds and matching fund grants under the Federal Emergency Management Assistance program. The staff also provides centralized control and accounting of all state property assigned or issued to the department.

Highlights and Significant Events

There were 177.5 permanent state positions authorized during the year, 164.5 of which were filled as of June 30, 1995. Additionally, 98.5 temporary positions were authorized and 83.5 were filled at the end of the fiscal year.

During the fiscal year, the following types and number of personnel actions were taken:

Type of Action	Number Processed
Appointments . . . . .	90
Separations . . . . .	55
Reassignments . . . . .	7
Promotions . . . . .	4
Retirements . . . . .	12
Reallocations . . . . .	0
Deaths . . . . .	0
Miscellaneous Actions . . . . .	886

With regard to performance ratings, 65 individuals received very satisfactory ratings, representing 24 percent of the state work force. From these, 17 sustained superior performance awards were submitted and approved during the fiscal year. The average monetary award amounted to $200.

The 1995 recipient of the Adjutant General's Award for Distinguished State Service was Stuart J. Tomasa, data processing systems analyst in the Civil Defense Division.

During the fiscal year, there were 27 reportable cases of work-related injuries involving state employees. There was a total of 252 lost workdays or an average of 9.3 workdays per injury. In addition, there were seven workers' compensation injuries involving drill status National Guard personnel.

The ASO, through its fiscal staff, administered and controlled $8,871,051 in State general fund appropriations and $10,790,570 in Federal fund appropriated receipts.

The net general fund appropriation of $8,781,118 was comprised of $6,540,999 from the DEF 110 (departmental operating program), $1,330,052 from DEF 112 (services to veterans' programs), and $1,000,000 for major disasters.

Total expenditures and encumbrances in both programs DEF 110 and 112 amounted to $8,192,677 for an expenditure rate of 92.35 percent, leaving a general fund lapsing balance of $678,374. The general fund lapsing balance was mainly due to the Governor's restrictions on spending. Federal fund expenditures and encumbrances amounted to $7,562,772, leaving a reversion balance of $3,227,797. The federal reversion balance was due to lower than expected receipts for Hawaii National Guard and Civil Defense federally-funded programs. Table 5 in the appendix depicts the distribution of general fund allocations, appropriated receipts and expenditures by programs, organizations and cost elements.

Additionally, the fiscal staff administered three federal fund holding and disbursing accounts. Table 6 in the appendix reflects the status of these accounts as of June 30, 1995.

The department's cash receipts for the year amounted to $7,504,569. Of this amount, $32,797 was credited to the State general fund, $8,906 to the general fund operating account, $7,504,569 to special (Federal) fund operating accounts. The sources and fund accounts to which they were credited are depicted in Table 7 of the appendix.

In administering the state finances for the year, the fiscal staff processed 4,986 purchase orders, 1,314 summary warrant vouchers, 42 payroll vouchers, 53 bills for collection, 128 Federal fund claims invoices, 228 treasury deposit slips, and 942 petty cash checks.

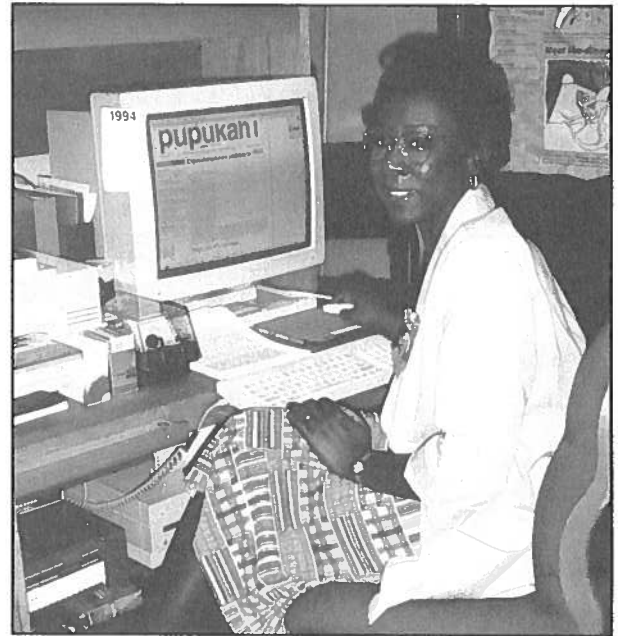

The department administered and accounted for state program funds through an in-house developed accounting system and state-wide Financial Accounting and Management Information System (FAMIS). Information is transmitted to the Department of Accounting and General Services via the department's direct on-line terminals.

Federal funds from the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) Public Assistance Program (Public Law 93-288) for Hurricane Iniki relief efforts amounting to $590,468 were received for the department's Damage Survey Reports and for administration of the program. In addition, $9,548,17 for Hurricane Iniki and $1,181,797 for the Kilauea Lava flow were received from FEMA and disbursed to other state departments, the counties and nonprofit organizations for public assistance.

Federal funds for Civil Defense program activities amounting to $967,987 were received as 50/50 matching fund grants under the FEMA Program (Public Law 85-606) and the Civil Defense Maintenance and Service Program (Public Law 920); as 100 percent federally-funded contract grants for radiological instrumentation/maintenance and calibration, emergency management training, population protection planning, radiological defense planning and development and survival crisis management and hazardous material training; and as a 50 percent funded contract grants for disaster improvement and earthquake preparedness.

Federal funds for the HING amounting to $5,097,486 were received under the Master Cooperative Agreement and Youth Challenge Program negotiated between the National Guard Bureau and the State Department of Defense. This agreement provided for reimbursement of 100 percent, 80 percent, and 75

During the year, the department added to its inventory of property 180 items valued at $408,989 and disposed and declassified 48 items of surplus or unserviceable property valued at $43,987.

The fiscal staff also administered the short-term use and rental of departmental facilities by coordinating and processing 40 applications for use of armories and grounds located throughout the five major islands. The rental fees and utility reimbursements collected amounted to $5,207. The department's property inventory as of June 30, 1995, is provided in the figure to the left.

Funds received under these contracts are deposited into the state treasury as appropriated receipts or as refunds of fringe benefit payments advanced by other state agencies.

U.S. Property and Fiscal Office

Mission

The mission of the U.S. Property and Fiscal Office (USPFO) for Hawaii is to receive and account for all funds and property of the United States in possession of the Hawaii National Guard (HING), ensure that federal funds are obligated and expended in conformance with applicable statutes and regulations, ensure that federal property is maintained and utilized in accordance with National Guard Bureau directives, manage the federal logistics systems for Hawaii and provide the support necessary for the transition of mobilized units to active duty status.

Personnel

The USPFO for Hawaii is authorized 88 full-time federal technicians.

Organization

The USPFO is organized as follows: Administration Office, Data Processing Installation, Analysis and Internal Review Division, Resource Management Division, Purchasing and Contracting Division and Supply and Services Division.

Administration Office

This office performs administrative services in support of the U.S. Property and Fiscal Office operations by maintaining a centralized publication library, providing reproduction services, receiving and processing office mail and providing typing and word processing services.

Data Processing Installation

The Data Processing Installation provides services to the USPFO, Hawaii Army National Guard (HIARNG), Surface Maintenance Office, Human Resources Office, Standard Installation/Division Personnel System Branch and the Army Aviation Support Facilities. The installation operates a Burroughs B1955 and two UNISYS 5000/80 mainframes. Application software is slowly migrating from the Burroughs to the UNISYS system and should be completed in 1996. Installation of a Defense Data Network and electronic mail capability enables worldwide communication and data transfer.

Analysis and Internal Review Division

Internal reviews are conducted by this division to ensure federal resources are properly managed and utilized. Emphasis is placed on evaluating the effectiveness of internal controls and determining whether the HING is operating efficiently and economically.

Resource Management Division

Federal funds allotted to the HING from Congressional appropriations are managed by this division. Separate offices administer funds assigned to Army and Air operations.

The Army Guard office, located in the Diamond Head Crater, is comprised of the financial manager, budget officer, staff accountant, Fiscal Accounting Branch and Pay and Examination Branch.

An assistant U.S. Property and Fiscal officer for Air (Fiscal) controls funds allocated for support of the Hawaii Air National Guard (HIANG). This office is located at Hickam Air Force Base.

Purchasing and Contracting Division

Purchasing and contracting services are provided by this office to all activities of the HING by sealed bids, competitive proposals and small purchase procedures in accordance with federal acquisition regulations. Purchases are made from commercial vendors located throughout the State of Hawaii and continental United States.

Supply and Services Division

This division is organized into the Stock Control, Property Management, Supply, and Transportation Branches, and provides logistical support and guidance to the HIARNG.

An assistant U.S. Property and Fiscal Officer for Air (Property) provides logistical support and guidance to the HIANG. This office is located at Hickam Air Force Base.

A full-time Carlson Wagonlit Travel office, in conjunction with the Transportation Branch, provides a wide array of transportation services; i.e., making plane and hotel reservations, writing airline tickets, handling air freight, arranging car rental reservations, and other travel requirements.

Highlights and Significant Events

Federal funds used by the HIARNG during the federal fiscal year totaled $49,486,654.

Federal funds used this year by the HIANG amounted to $91,784,380.

Table 4 of the Appendix reflects Federal dollars used between Oct. 1, 1994 and Sept. 30, 1995.

Military payrolls for the HING totalled $42,033,964 this federal fiscal year.

During federal fiscal year 1995, local purchases and contracting support of the HING units and activities totaled $21,011,507. Of this total, $16,839,776 represented architectural engineering services and construction contracts. There were 3,034 contracting actions for this federal fiscal year.

A total of $1,749,572 was spent procuring supplies and equipment for the HIARNG. The Supply and Services Division maintained an inventory of $1,376,614.

The HIANG received $6,349,074 for supplies and equipment. The base supply operation processed 530,218 transactions in federal fiscal year 1995 -- a monthly average of 44,184. The equipment book value was $268,738,562 at the end of the federal fiscal year.

The HIARNG Transportation Branch arranged transportation for a total of 6,594 individuals: 2,770 for military interisland and mainland airlifts, 1,110 for commercial trips to the mainland, 79 for foreign trips and 2,635 for commercial interisland trips. A total of 2,397 tons of cargo was shipped during the fiscal year: 88 tons for the mainland, and 2,309 tons for interisland destinations. The total spent to transport personnel and equipment is shown in Table 4 (Appendix). The use of Scheduled Airlines Traffic Office/Carlson Wagonlit Travel provided an estimated savings of $1,356,590 for federal fiscal year 1995.

The HIANG Traffic Branch arranged transportation for a total of 1,898 individuals: zero military interisland airlifts, 862 for commercial trips to the mainland, 67 for foreign trips, and 969 for commercial interisland trips. A total of 242.8 tons of cargo was shipped during the fiscal year: 1.2 tons for the mainland, and 241.6 tons for interisland destinations. The use of Scheduled Airlines Traffic Office (SATO) provided an estimated savings of $1,779,576 for federal fiscal year 1995. The total amount of money spent to transport personnel and equipment is shown in Table 4 (Appendix).

The Data Processing Installation currently operates two UNISYS 5000 computer systems. Hardware upgrades have increased our capability and productivity by over 100 percent. Work continues to enable all units to communicate with the mainframe. New equipment and applications from NGB-AIS and NGB-ARL continue to challenge our operations.

A total of nine reviews were completed by the Analysis and Internal Review Division during federal fiscal year 1995.

Human Resources Office

Mission

The Human Resources Office (HRO) is a consolidated office that provides personnel, manpower management and administrative support services for all federal full-time personnel programs. The office serves as the adjutant general's single point of control for managing and administering Hawaii Army and Air National Guard personnel programs.

Personnel

The HRO is authorized a staff of 21. The current office staff includes 15 federal technicians and three Active Guard/Reserve (AGR) soldiers.

Organization

A standard National Guard structure prescribes that the personnel office must be organized with the following operating sections: personnel management, employee services, military duty management, military duty services, equal employment opportunity, labor relations and personnel data systems. The office is centrally located, and all records and authorized staff are co-located to provide a single point of contact for personnel.

Personnel Management Section

Section staff members develop policy recommendations, procedures and plans in compliance with the U.S. Office of Personnel Management and National Guard Bureau directives. The section is responsible for major program areas such as position management and classification, manning control, staffing, training, employee relations, performance management and recognition, incentive awards, disciplinary and adverse actions, grievances and appeals, personnel management evaluation and maintenance of the personnel data system. It furnishes technical advice and assistance to management officials, individuals and staff personnel.

Employee Services Section

This section provides a wide range of services to technicians throughout their employment life cycle. Beginning with employment processing and new technician orientations, the staff furnishes information on employee benefits, processes personnel actions, maintains individual technician personnel records, ensures proper pay administration, administers the federal Workers' Compensation program and processes retirements.

Military Duty Management Section

Army National Guard AGR enlisted personnel career management and tour retention processes, recruitment and advisory services take up much of this section's time. Unlike their staff counterparts who administer the Army and Air National Guard technician programs in compliance with common directives, the AGR management staff administers the military programs based on policies and procedures established by the Army, Air Force and separate National Guard directorates.

Military Duty Services Section

This section is the point of contact for commanders, supervisors and individuals seeking AGR administrative service and assistance pertinent to pay, benefits and entitlements. The addition of a medical administrative specialist has vastly improved coordination with military and civilian medical care providers who treat AGR personnel and their dependents on Oahu and the neighbor islands.

Equal Employment Opportunity Section

The equal employment manager plans, develops and administers programs for all employees (including state personnel) relative to equal employment. Programs administered include affirmative employment programs with special emphasis on women and other minority issues, equal opportunity complaints processing, discrimination investigations, and related training to departmental personnel.

Labor Relations Section

This section provides federal labor relations services within the department. Two locals from national labor organizations are exclusive representatives of non-supervisory technicians in three bargaining units. Typical tasks include contract administration, management advisory services and labor management relations training. The section also serves as the point of contact for union and other federal labor relations representatives and as management's representative in dispute resolution and contract negotiations.

Personnel Data Systems

The National Guard Personnel Data System (Civilian) was recently installed to provide automated data processing and storage for technician personnel actions. This table-driven/on-line system has the ability to process and store information on personnel actions, establish and monitor suspenses and produce reports.

Highlights and Significant Events

Federal technician and AGR personnel assigned strengths at the beginning and end of the state's fiscal year were:

Army	July 1, 1994	June 30, 1995
Technicians. . . . .	266	268
Active Guard Reserve. . . . .	219	196
Air
Technicians. . . . .	618	727
Active Guard Reserve. . . . .	145	148
Total. . . . .	1,248	1,339

Federal full-time support personnel authorizations are based on unit priorities. Within the Hawaii Army National Guard (HIARNG), full-time technician authorizations remained unchanged, AGR authorizations were reduced three percent. Within the Hawaii Air National Guard (HIANG), changes included a restructuring of the 154th Group organization. The effect of restructuring included a downsizing of the 199th Fighter Squadron F-15 aircraft, robusting of the 203rd Air Refueling Squadron (from four to eight KC-135R aircraft), and the activation of the 204th Airlift Squadron (four C-130 aircraft). The net effect of these changes was an increase of approximately 100 full-time authorizations.

Retirement and service awards luncheons were held in August 1994 and February 1995, honoring 23 retirees, seven length-of-service awardees and the recipients of the Adjutant General's Award (Department of Defense State Employee of the Year).

Engineering Office

Mission

The Engineering Office provides the entire spectrum of professional engineering services to the Hawaii Army National Guard, Hawaii Air National Guard, State Civil Defense, Office of Veterans Services and departmental staff sections to enable them to carry out their statewide programs.

The major responsibilities are to plan for, administer and supervise capital improvement projects, major and minor construction, consultant contract services, maintenance and repair, janitorial/custodial and ground maintenance, real property management, environmental and energy conservation, fire prevention and office paper recycling.

Personnel

The Engineering Office is authorized 48 state, seven federal and two Active Guard/Reserve (AGR) positions.

Organization

The Engineering Office consists of eight major staff responsibilities: Office Services, Contracting and Engineering Services, Maintenance Services, Air National Guard Engineering Services, Army National Guard Engineering Services, State Civil Defense Engineering Services, Office of Veterans Services and Hawaii National Guard Youth Challenge Program.

Repair and Maintenance Projects Awarded

Recurring minor maintenance, repairs and modifications of facilities are accomplished by in-house maintenance personnel on a time-and-materials basis, or by formal and informal construction contracts. This program is supported by federal, state or joint federal/state matching funds through separate Army and Air Service Contracts or Army Guard Training Site Contracts. The federal contracts under the Service and Training Site Contracts for federal fiscal year 1995 were:

Air National Guard

Service contract: Hickam (80/20) . . . $1,582,167
 Service contract: Barking Sands, Keaukaha Military Reservation, Kahului, Barbers Point and Kekaha Armory (75/25) . . . . . $461,280

Army National Guard

Service Contract (75/25) . . . . . $591,100
 Training Site (100% Fed) . . . . . $669,000
 Environmental (100% Fed) . . . . . $1,483,674

A total of $331,550 of state operations and maintenance (O&M) funds were expended to support our department's statewide programs.

Minor Construction Projects

Minor construction projects include all projects for minor construction or

Judge Advocate Office

Mission

The Judge Advocate (JA) provides legal support to the adjutant general, staff elements, subordinate units of the Hawaii National Guard and the United States Property and Fiscal Office. In performing its mission, the JA:

- Prepares legal opinions on issues of federal law.
- Serves as federal litigation point of contact.
- Represents the adjutant general in federal labor-management proceedings.
- Reviews federal contracts relating to procurement and acquisitions and serves as the Hawaii National Guard's federal claims officer.

- Participates as legal advisor or counsel in administrative board proceedings.
- Acts on behalf of the convening authority in National Guard courts-martial.

Personnel

The Judge Advocate Office consists of a judge advocate supported by a shared clerk-typist for the Special Staff.

Organization

The JA reports directly to the adjutant general and works closely with Guard members on legal issues relating to the federal mission of the National Guard.

Public Affairs Office

Mission

The Public Affairs Office plans, develops, directs and administers the department's community relations and public and internal information programs. In accomplishing its mission, the office:

- Prepares and distributes news releases, photographs and videotapes on departmental activities to civilian and military news media locally and on the mainland.
- Responds to queries from the news media, public and other state and federal agencies.
- Provides briefings for civilian and military officials, community groups and new departmental employees to inform them of the department's mission and its economic and educational contributions to the state.

- Publishes the semi-quarterly newspaper for distribution to present and retired Hawaii National Guard members, state and federal agencies, and other parties interested in departmental activities.
- Publishes the quarterly newsletter for the Office of Veterans Services for distribution to veterans and veterans' organizations.
- Consolidates, edits and publishes the department's annual report.
- Prepares speeches and reports for the adjutant general.

Personnel

The office consists of a public affairs officer, two information specialists and a clerk-typist. All personnel are full-time state employees.

Organization

The public affairs officer advises the adjutant general on public affairs matters relating to the department. The office works closely and coordinates its activities with public affairs officers of the department's major units/divisions and active military services to carry out its programs.

Senior Army Advisor

Mission

The Senior Army Advisor (SRAA) is responsible for providing advice, counsel and assistance to the adjutant general and his staff in order to strengthen the Hawaii Army National Guard's (HIARNG) readiness to perform post-mobilization war fighting missions. Duties and responsibilities are to:

- Serve as military advisor to the adjutant general.
- Represent and act as a spokesperson for the active Army in all HIARNG matters under the purview of U. S. Army Pacific.
- Render professional military advice to HIARNG commanders in military matters concerning the organization, operation, training and readiness of units.

- Monitor the use and assist in the management of federal resources in support of the HIARNG.
- In the future, the guard's ability to adjust to changing missions with fewer resources will largely depend on the quality of education our men and women in the Guard are receiving, both in their civilian and military careers.

Personnel

The office is staffed by an active duty Army colonel.

Organization

The SRAA reports directly to the adjutant general and works closely with Guard members on federal military missions and issues.

Air Force Senior Advisor

Mission

The Air Force Senior Advisor (AFSA) is responsible for providing advice, counsel and assistance to the adjutant general and his staff in order to strengthen the Hawaii Air National Guard's (HIANG) readiness to perform post-mobilization war fighting missions. Duties and responsibilities are to:

- Serve as military advisor to the adjutant general and his senior staff.
- Represent and act as a spokesperson for the active Air Force in all HIANG matters under the purview of Pacific Air Forces (PACAF).
- Maintain liaison with senior counterparts on the PACAF staff and ensure representation of HIANG issues, priorities and perspectives.

- Render professional military advice to HIANG commanders in military matters concerning the organization, operation, training and readiness of units.
- Maintain Instructor Pilot status and fly operational and training missions with one of HIANG's flying units.
- Oversee and coordinate activities of all active Air Force advisors assigned to the HIANG.

Personnel

The office is staffed by an active duty Air Force lieutenant colonel currently qualified in one of the HIANG's aircraft.

Organization

The AFSA reports directly to the adjutant general and works closely with PACAF counterparts and Guard members on federal military missions and issues.

---

Senior Enlisted Advisor

Mission

The State Command Sergeant Major (CSM) serves as the senior enlisted advisor for the Hawaii Army National Guard and is responsible to the adjutant general for a variety of matters pertaining to policies and actions relative to enlisted Hawaii Army National Guard soldiers. The State CSM's responsibilities are to:

- Advise the adjutant general on all enlisted matters.
- Assist the inspector general in solving enlisted problems.
- Work with the recruiting and retention office.
- Participate on boards related to enlisted soldiers to include promotion, Active Guard/Reserve continuation, selective retention and U.S. Army Pacific Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier of the Year.

- Attend various conferences both locally and on the mainland.

Personnel

The CSM's office consists of a command sergeant major, supported by a clerk-typist shared among the Special Staff.

Organization

The CSM reports directly to the adjutant general and works closely with Guard members on enlisted issues.

---

Inspector General

Mission

The Inspector General (IG) is assigned to assist the adjutant general in assessing and reporting on, in an unbiased, objective manner, areas affecting mission performance, the state of efficiency, economy, discipline, morale, esprit de corps and readiness of the Hawaii National Guard. The IG also performs other duties as required by law and regulations or as directed by the adjutant general. The mission is accomplished using the concept of a full-service IG to:

- Provide assistance to Guard members, their families and the public in response to real or perceived issues involving the Hawaii National Guard.
- Act on adjutant general directives to conduct investigations and inquiries.
- Manage the staff/special inspection program throughout the Hawaii National Guard.

- Act as a teacher or trainer when and where possible while performing other functions.

Personnel

The IG's office is staffed by an active duty lieutenant colonel and is supported by a clerk-typist shared among the Special Staff.

Organization

The IG reports directly to the adjutant general and is a member of his staff. The relationship between an IG and his/or her commander has been referred to as one in which the commander places in him/or her extraordinary trust and confidence to serve as an extension of his eyes, ears and conscience.

Information Management Office

Mission

The Information Management Office plans, programs and manages Army National Guard automation (less the Data Processing Installation, U.S. Property and Fiscal Office for Hawaii), telecommunications resources, visual information, records management, and publishing and printing. In accomplishing its mission, the office:

- Provides technical advice to the adjutant general, staff elements, U.S. Property and Fiscal Office and units of the Hawaii Army National Guard.
- Develops and administers state information systems objectives, policies, plans and projects for supported organizations.
- Ensures adequate physical and operations security for automated information systems.
- Provides telecommunications, visual information, records management, publishing and printing and automation support to supported organizations.
- Determines automation training needs, coordinates training classes and recommends appropriate user training.

Personnel

The Information Management Office consists of the director of information management, a computer systems programmer, a communications management specialist, a computer assistant, a support services specialist, a supply clerk and a duplicating machine operator. All personnel are federal technicians.

Organization

The Director of Information Management (DOIM) serves as the principal information management advisor on present and future requirements for automation, telecommunications, records management, publishing and printing, and visual information to the adjutant general and Hawaii Army National Guard officials. The office works with the National Guard Bureau's Information Systems Directorate, as well as with the other 53 Information Management offices nationwide to perform its mission.

State Family Program Office

Sgt. 1st Class Wayne T. Iha photo

Mission

The State Family Program Office manages programs designed to increase the overall preparedness of Hawaii National Guard families to cope with the unique realities of Guard service. The Family Program Office accomplishes this mission by:

- Increasing the knowledge of family members regarding the benefits, privileges and obligations of Guard service.

- Creating a family support system to assist members during separations, providing information/referral networking and enhancing Guard retention.
- Providing feedback to the command on the concerns of family members.

Personnel

The office consists of a coordinator who is the only paid staff member. A state volunteer representative assists the coordinator in managing the activities of program volunteers throughout the state. Clerical support is provided by a clerk-typist shared among the Special Staff.

Organization

The state family program coordinator reports directly to the adjutant general. The coordinator works closely with the State Team, a volunteer action and advisory council and family support groups throughout the state.
