

Lum Appointed Adjutant General

Brig. Gen. Alexis T. Lum took over the reins of the Hawaii Department of Defense on March 31 becoming the 14th adjutant general for Hawaii. Lum received State Senate confirmation a short time later, on April 8. Governor George Ariyoshi appointed Lum to replace retiring Maj. Gen. Arthur U. Ishimoto.

Born on July 17, 1927 in Honolulu, General Lum began his military career in late 1945 as an Army private. He served 18 months on active duty before separation and the start of his studies at the University of Hawaii. Through ROTC, General Lum was commissioned an Infantry second Lieutenant in 1950. He again served on active duty for 19 months during the Korean War period.

General Lum joined the Hawaii Army National Guard in 1953 as a mortar platoon leader in the 298th Regimental Combat team. He later served as commander of Co. A, 1st Battalion, 298th Infantry and commander of Co. A, 227th Engineer Battalion.

In 1964, almost a major, General Lum transferred to HHC, 29th Infantry Brigade as Engineer Officer. Additionally, he served as Civil Affairs Officer, S2, Assistant S3, and Inspector General for the Brigade.

From May 1968 through December 1969, General Lum served in Vietnam as Executive Officer, 31st Engineer Battalion.

Shortly after his return to Hawaii, General Lum began a ten-year association with the 298th Field Depot (later the Headquarters Installation Command) finally serving as commander.

In January 1980 he took over as commander of the Hawaii Army National Guard and received his promotion to brigadier general two months later.

General Lum is married to the former Leimomi Mookini of Kohala, Hawaii. They have three children; Angela, Alexia, and Oliver.

An in-depth interview with General Lum will be in the next issue of Pupu-kahi.

Brig. Gen. Alexis T. Lum testifies at his State Senate Committee confirmation hearing.

PUPUKAHI

HAWAII DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

PUPUKAHI: "Harmoniously United"

Vol. 18 No. 2 Spring, 1983

On Kauai, Oahu and Hawaii

Guard takes on the elements

With Hurricane Iwa still a fresh memory, Hawaii National Guard members had anything but an easy winter. No fewer than five call-ups kept almost 250 of our fellow Guardsmen and women really active while on state active duty.

Shortly after the dawn of 1983, Kilauea Volcano on the Big Island erupted in a spectacular display of Madame Pele's power.

A HARNG Huey helicopter lifted Volcano Observatory and U.S. Geological Survey scientists, along with Hawaii County Civil Defense officials to the remote erupting site to check things out. Numerous other Guard members on the Big Island stood by ready to act if needed.

The volcano quieted down in February but there was to be no rest for the weary — 30-foot plus surf was approaching Kauai and Oahu.

On February 10, more than 110 HARNG and HANG members on both islands got the call to report. Using 36 trucks and numerous Guard radios, the Guard helped evacuate residents on the north shores of Oahu and Kauai to centers set up in areas deemed safe. For its prompt and efficient handling of the evacuation, the Guard received many thanks from their communities and government leaders.

The waves in the North went down, but at the same time the flames were growing down South.

On February 27, Big Island Guardsmen were called out to fight widespread brush fires set off by lava crawling over land parched by months of drought. Hazy skies and high winds hampered efforts of the Hawaii County Fire Department and Civil Defense. Guard members moved in to fill the gaps. But by now the lava was threatening homes.

From March 1 to 3, the HARNG on the Big Island began preparing for possible evacuation of residents in the Paradise Park subdivision. While two houses were destroyed by molten lava, the main part of the flow fortunately stopped above most of the houses. More than 70 Guard members with trucks and helicopters fought the fires and prepared for evacuation of the threatened area.

HASHIMOTO: Selected top Enlisted in ANG

A Hawaii Air National Guardsman has been named one of the top seven Air Guard enlisted people in America.

Tsgt. Godwin T. Hashimoto of Moanalua was selected by the National Guard Bureau from hundreds of nominees from 54 states and territories as one of the Air National Guard's Outstanding Enlisted People of the Year.

Hashimoto, 39, is a drill-status member of the HANG's 154th Civil Engineering Flight, Hickam Air Force Base. An electrician with Kokami Electrical Service as a civilian, Sergeant Hashimoto performs similar duties for the HANG. Late last year, he was named Outstanding Noncommissioned Officer in the HANG for his excellent skills, attitudes and personal attributes. The HANG then forwarded Hashimoto's name for consideration for the national award.

When told of his national selection, Hashimoto said, "I really don't deserve it. The whole Guard does. With the great support I get, and the great people at the 154th, anybody would go overboard to do well. The good Lord has been watching over me."

A graduate of McKinley High School, Hashimoto joined the HANG in 1977 after 16 years in the Hawaii Army National Guard's 829th Maintenance Company. He said he switched to the Air Guard because of the greater opportunities to use his civilian skills.

Hashimoto received his award at a special ceremony April 8 in Washington, D.C.

This marks the second time a HANG member has been nationally recognized.

In 1980, Napua Sugai of the 150th ACW on Kauai was named Outstanding ANG Airman for the year.

TSgt. Godwin Hashimoto

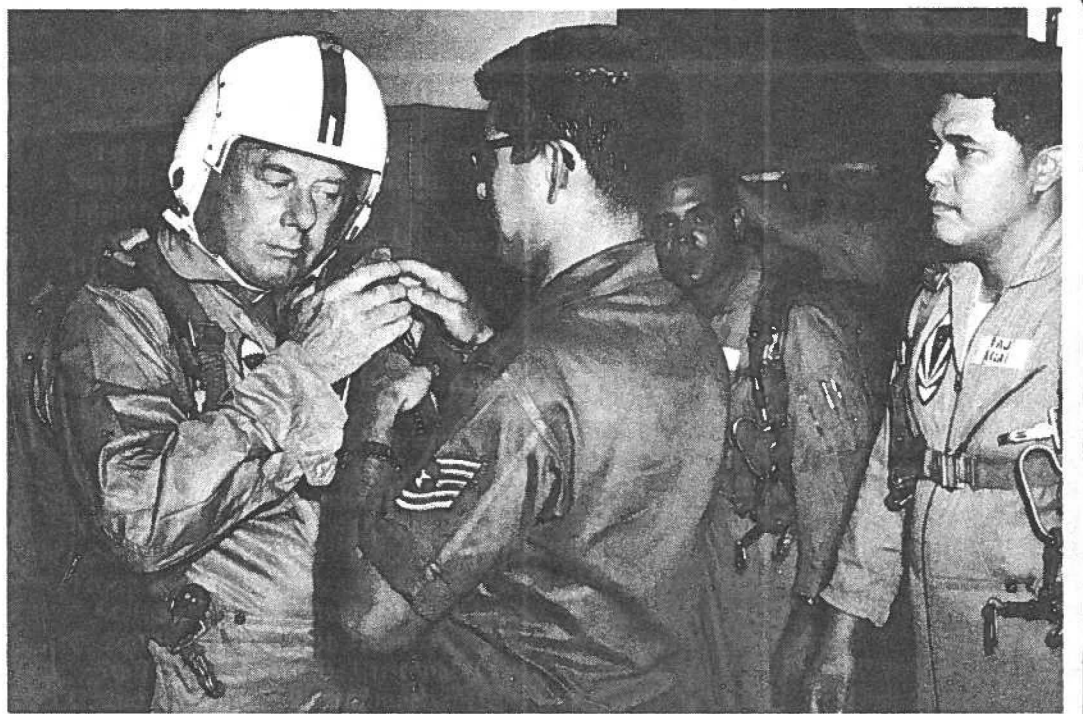

UPDATING THE COMMANDER — Reggie Okamura, scientist-in-charge of the Hawaii Volcano Observatory, provides Gov. George Ariyoshi and Maj. Gen. Arthur Ishimoto with the latest information on the volcano.—Photo by Maj. Gregg K. Kakesako

People

In Memoriam: a friend of HANG dies

The late Arthur Godfrey was an accomplished pilot and a friend of the Hawaii Air National Guard. In 1964 he flew a HANG TF-102 jet. TSgt. Howard Hironaka assists Col. Godfrey with his oxygen mask. Major Kurt E. Johnson (background) accompanied Godfrey on the flight. Godfrey served many years in the Air Force Reserve. He died recently after a long illness.

Cockett takes HARNG command

"I'm a Kauai country boy who has been very lucky," says the new Commander of the Hawaii Army National Guard, Col. Irwin K. Cockett.

Taking command officially on April 15, Colonel Cockett vowed to continue the programs begun by Brig. Gen. Alexis T. Lum. General Lum named Cockett to the HARNG top spot with the concurrence of Gov. Goerge R. Ariyoshi.

Colonel Cockett has been in the military for 34 years, but his military roots go further back. "I put a uniform on and a rifle on my shoulder when I was 12 for Kamehameha Schools Jr. ROTC. I've been in a uniform ever since." He recently slowed down his usual frantic pace to talk to the Pupukahi.

He enlisted in the Army in 1949 at Schofield Barracks after graduation from Roosevelt High School. He served in the infantry during the Korean War. He returned to the United States and was accepted for Officer Candidate School receiving a commission of a second lieutenant in Armor in 1952.

From 1953 to 1957, Colonel Cockett served with the fledgling Special Forces (Green Berets) unit in Germany. Cockett says, "Those days are always close to my heart. The training was fantastic and the people were great."

He got heavily involved in Army Aviation for the next five years returning to Hawaii for a stint as aviation platoon commander at Schofield.

In 1962, Colonel Cockett began serving the first of three tours in Vietnam. His list of awards for his time there goes on and on but includes the Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross, Meritorious Service Medal, Bronze Star and four Purple Hearts, the last one earning him a four-month stay in Letterman Army Hospital in California.

From 1969 to 1971 Colonel Cockett wound up his active duty career in Hawaii as infantry advisor to the 29th Infantry Brigade getting well acquainted with the HARNG.

Shortly after his retirement, Colonel Cockett joined the HARNG as aviation safety officer and flight instructor. In 1977, he assumed command of the HARNG Army Aviation Support Facility at Wheeler AFB. Last December he was named as HARNG Chief of Staff.

"The military has done so much for me. I really consider it an obligation and a pleasure to work with the people in the HARNG," Cockett says. "One of my main points as Commander will be to return to basics—to take a look at where we are, where we're going and develop from there."

He's happy about the Guard's condition. "We're in good shape. We have a lot of new people who have to know our objectives. We now have to map out our route to meet these objectives."

Colonel Cockett says he's ready for this job. "I love the challenge, I thrive on it." He ended up his Pupukahi interview saying, "I never thought it would happen, but now that I'm here, let's move!"

Col. Irwin K. Cockett, new HARNG commander.

Guard bureau celebrates 75th anniversary

The following message was sent to Hawaii by Lt. Gen. Emmett H. Walker, Jr., Chief of the National Guard Bureau:

February 12th was the 75th Anniversary of the National Guard Bureau. The Bureau was created in 1908 to provide a channel of communication between the various states and their units to the War Department. That basic function has not changed.

Today the National Guard Bureau is proud to represent the Army and Air National Guard units in 54 states and territories to the Departments of the Army and Air Force. Our positive working relationship over these many years has culminated in the current Total Force Policy which states that the National Guard will be the primary augmenting force to the active Army and Air Force in the event of National emergency or war.

This reliance on the Guard is a tribute to our history of providing for the common defense. Our growth is based on a strong record of accomplishment in both our state and federal missions and the members of the National Guard Bureau find satisfaction in being able to contribute to that record.

We at NGB look forward to working with the states and territories in the future meeting the challenges that lie ahead.

PUPUKAHI

Department of Defense State of Hawaii

Pupukahi: Harmoniously United

The PUPUKAHI is an unofficial publication authorized under the provisions of AR 360-81. It is published quarterly by the Department of Defense, State of Hawaii, Fort Ruger, Hawaii 96816. It is an off-set publication and is printed by the Hawaii Hochi. Views and opinions expressed herein do not necessarily represent those of the Department of the Army. All photos are Hawaii National Guard photos unless otherwise credited. Circulation 6,500.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF: GOV. GEORGE R. ARIYOSHI
 ADJUTANT GENERAL: BRIG. GEN. ALEXIS T. LUM
 PUBLIC AFFAIRS EDUCATION OFFICER: CAPT. DREW M. HURLEY
 PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE NUMBER: (808) 732-1711
 PRODUCTION: 117TH PUBLIC AFFAIRS DETACHMENT
 COMMANDER: MAJ. GREGG K. KAKESAKO
 NEWS EDITOR: STAFF SGT. LLOYD KURASHIMA
 ART DIRECTORS: SPECS. 5 STEPHEN LUM AND WAYNE MIYATA

3949 Diamond Head Road Honolulu, Hawaii 96816

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION — Members of the HHB and Service Battery, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery, HARNG participated in a centennial celebration Feb. 13 to honor Hawaii's last king — David Kalakaua and his consort, Queen Kapiolani. The cannoners fired a 21-gun salute in a re-enactment of Hawaii's first and last European-style coronation 100 years ago. The ceremony took place on the grounds of Iolani Palace which is the only place of royalty in the United States.

KILAUEA 1983

Volcano: Madam Pele continues to threaten

And still the people's need for the Guard was far from over.

In mid-March, 50 Guardsmen on the Big Island still weary from their earlier efforts got the call again, this time to battle a maliciously-set fire in Mountain View.

And at least two Green Harvest operations were supported during the same time those other things were going on.

All in all a most busy winter for the Hawaii National Guard, especially for us on the Big Island.

Adjutant Brig. General Alexis T. Lum expressed his appreciation for all the Guard's efforts saying, "I'm immensely proud of all who served during the recent state call-ups. You responded without hesitation and served with skill and dedication." General Lum said, "You people have shown your neighbors and your state the true value of the National Guard."

KILAUEA VOLCANO BRIEFING—Brig. Gen. Alexis T. Lum, (far right) state adjutant general, along with state and federal civil defense officials are briefed by Dr. Jack Lockwood (fourth from left) before boarding a HARNG helicopter to observe the volcano. — 117th PAD Photo by SSgt. Lloyd Kurashima.

LAVA ENGULFS SUBDIVISION — Hot molten lava rushes to engulf the Royal Gardens subdivision on the Big Island — 117th PAD Photo by Maj. Gregg K. Kakasako.

229th Med Co aids walkers for mankind

As part of the annual service sponsored by the Ala Moana Jaycees, several Hawaii Army National Guardsmen and women volunteered to help set up and man a first-aid station at Kapiolani Park for the 1983 Walk-for-Mankind on March 12.

Members of the 229th Medical Company, commanded by Capt. Glenn Y. Kobayashi, provided the tents and cots for weary walkers in need of first-aid, while volunteer corpsmen assisted in the administration of first-aid.

The annual Walk-for-Mankind event coordinated by the Ala Moana Jaycees is part of Project Concern International, a self-help service organization.

According to Wendell Lum, Ala Moana Jaycee "Walk Coordinator," the local Walk-for-Mankind has provided over a million dollars in funds for service organizations since its start in the islands in 1969. Says Lum, "The Hawaii National Guard have provided their time and generosity towards this worthy community service and continue to do so whenever asked."

MEDICAL SUPPORT TO WALKERS — Medical specialist, Sp5 Alfred Visitation, 229th Medical Company, applies a bandage dressing to a cut knee of Tamy Sanizetes, a participant in the recent Walk for Mankind. — Photo by Sp5 John Atkinson

Community Service

Waianae & Mokuiea Project

227th Eng builds and destroys

Hawaii Army National Guard soldiers from the 227th Engineer Company spent the weekend in Leeward Oahu, helping Waianae High School clear away keawe brush and debris for a new baseball diamond.

The new baseball diamond will be located on the south side of the school, near the Waianae small boat harbor.

The Hawaii Army National Guard engineer's community relationship project will continue through June.

The remaining members of the engineer company were on the Mokuiea side of Kaena Point, hauling away abandoned cars. This was done at the request of the State Department of Land and Natural Resources. A total of 13 cars were moved by the Guardsmen during the weekend.

The cars were transported from inaccessible terrain to a location beside an accessible road. Later, personnel from the State Parks Division of the Department of Land and Natural Resources will dispose of the derelict vehicles.

The 227th Engineers are the construction, building and heavy equipment specialists of the Army Guard. The commander of the unit is Capt. Gregory Burgess.

The projects in Waianae and Mokuiea not only provide community and State service, but also provide the part-time soldiers a chance to practice their engineering skills.

The Hawaii Army National Guard, besides training its soldiers and keeping itself ready if there ever was a need for Federal mobilization, also can be called on in times of state emergencies as directed by Gov. George Ariyoshi, who is the Commander-in-Chief.

CLEARING THE WAY — SSgt. John Ward, 227th Engineer Battalion, clears the land next to Waianae High School. The land is being prepared by the Hawaii National Guard as a community project for a new baseball field. — Photo by Sp5 John Atkinson

Cheez it: Army & Air Guard distributes

Hawaii Army and Air National Guard personnel helped to distribute 409,200 pounds of federal surplus cheese to needy families on the islands of Oahu, Kauai, Maui and Hawaii on April 9.

On Oahu, members of the Hawaii Army National Guard's 1154th Transportation company moved the cheese to the 32 distribution points located throughout the island. The Hawaii Air National Guard handled the cheese distribution on the Neighbor islands.

John Liu, spokesman from the Honolulu Community Action program, praised the Hawaii National Guard's involvement. "There are about 12,040 cases of cheese in each container and without the National Guard we wouldn't have been able to handle this project. Each case contains six blocks of cheese.

Liu said the state Department of Social Services and Housing, which handled the one-day cheese distribution, wouldn't have been able to make it a statewide project without the help of the Hawaii National Guard.

Col. Daniel Au, deputy adjutant general, said that "the most important thing is that our people are part of the community and so it's neighbors helping neighbors. We belong to the state. The Guard is proud to serve its community."

HELPING HAND—Sgt. Audie Augustin (left), SSgt. Rudy Dela Cruz (top) and Sp4 Francis Kelliholokai—all members of the Hawaii Army National Guard's 1154th Transportation Company, unload federal surplus cheese that were distributed to needy families.

HARNG selects top soldiers

1st Sgt. James E. Yap of Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry, was recently selected as the Outstanding Non-Commissioned Officer in the entire 3,700 member Hawaii Army National Guard for 1983. Also chosen as Outstanding Soldier of the Year was Sp4 Kenneth K. Keliipio of Company A, 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry.

Yap was selected as having excelled in civic activities, recruiting individuals into the Guard, having a 100-percent drill attendance record, and possessing a superior evaluation report.

Yap has been a Valley Isle Guardsman for 27 years and served a tour of duty in Vietnam. He is currently employed by the Guard as the unit administrator for his unit.

Keliipio, a light-weapons infantryman, demonstrated outstanding abilities in leadership, technical proficiency, 100-percent drill attendance and performance above and beyond the call of duty.

Keliipio has been a Guardsman since 1979 and is a paramedic at Hilo hospital.

Fujimoto selected volunteer of quarter

SSgt. Anna Marie Fujimoto, of the 154 Composite Group, was recently commended for her dedication as a volunteer with the Military Social Service. The American Red Cross certificate of appreciation was presented by Maj. Gen. Edward J. Huycke, Commander of Tripler Army Medical Center, to SSgt. Fujimoto naming her the "Volunteer of the Quarter" for the first quarter of 1983.

SSgt. Fujimoto was recognized for her outstanding work in assisting with discharge planning of patients. She was also cited for "exceptional work" with the terminally ill. Additionally, because of her interest in working with rape victims, SSgt. Fujimoto was trained as a Rape Crisis Intervention Worker and is now on call as a member of the Rape Crisis Team.

SSgt. Fujimoto has also served diligently as a member of the 154 Composite Group's Training Section while working full time at Tripler as a Registered Psychiatric Nurse.

Fujimoto

Ahi tournament planned

The 150th AC&W Squadron will host its 3rd Annual Goodwill Ahi Tournament on Kauai from June 29 to July 1, 1983. General chairman for this big event is MSgt. Lester Matsushima. The tournament is really a get-together for all Hawaii Air Guard personnel, so we urge you to form your team of anglers and contact Sgt. Matsushima.

Tournament rules, entry forms, and all the details will be available soon in booklet format. If your unit does not receive a few copies of these, contact the 150th.

The awards banquet will be held on July 2 at the Kauai Surf Hotel.

'Iwa' service awards

Eleven receive honors on Garden Isle

Ten Hawaii Army National Guardsmen from Kauai and one State Department of Defense employee were honored February 13 for their actions when Hurricane Iwa struck the Garden Isle last November.

Three of the guardsmen, Capt. Alvin M. Uchida, Plt. Sgt. Daniel G. Peters Jr., and Pvt. 1 Steven A. Mardonado were presented with the state's highest military award, the Hawaii National Guard Medal for Merit. The Medal for Merit is only awarded in cases of exceptionally meritorious service.

Receiving the state's second highest award, the Hawaii National Guard Commendation Medal were: 1st Sgt. Melvin R. Robley, Plt. Sgt. Alberto A. Hoopii, Sgt. 1st Class Shigeto Takayama, Sgts. Lennox F. Camat and Gordon K. Doo, Spec. 4 Phillip P. Papagayo and Pvt. 1 Alfred L. M. Hommond.

Mrs. Emmaline English, a long-time civilian employee of the HARNG on Kauai was presented with a special state service award.

A special color guard and the 111th Army Guard Band traveled to Kauai to honor the award winners. The band performed a 30-minute concert beginning at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at the Kapaa Armory.

Brig. Gen. Alexis T. Lum, and Kauai State Senator Lehua Fernandes Salling presented the awards.

All of the Kauai citizen-soldiers belong to Company B, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry. Kauai is the northern most island in the Hawaiian chain.

During the storm, hundreds of Kauai residents were stranded on roads, trapped in their homes, or forced to evacuate their homes because of rising waters and high winds.

The Hurricane struck suddenly on November 23, and telephone lines were down before Kauai Guardsmen could be officially called to State active duty; however, many Guardsmen reported in on their own to offer assistance.

Sgts. Lennox F. Camat and Gordon K. Doo, Spec. 4 Phillip P. Papagayo, and Pvt. 1 Alfred L. M. Hammond were four such citizen-soldiers who reported in on their own. After reporting in, they were told to go to Princeville in a 2½ ton truck to help evacuate people from their homes. While driving there, they soon found the road to be impassable due to downed power lines, fallen trees, and other debris.

The four Kauai soldiers decided not to go any further and set up a roadblock to turn people back. The winds became progressively worse, making it impossible for them to stay out any longer. They jumped back in their truck and headed for Kilauea Center, a shelter point for families. On the way back, they picked up individuals who were stranded on the roadside and continued on to Kilauea Center.

Upon reaching Kilauea, they found the center heavily damaged so they had to find another shelter. Finding another shelter and situating the people they had picked up along the way, the four citizen-soldiers continued to work throughout the night helping families who were left homeless by the storm.

Plt. Sgt. Daniel G. Peters Jr., who works full-time for the Guard, was told to go to Hanapepe prior to the Hurricane. During the height of the storm, he was told by people that a man was trapped in a house by the rising waters. Wading to the house in chest high waters during the fury of the Hurricane, Peters assisted the man to safety.

On Friday, Nov. 26, three days after the Hurricane hit, Pvt. 1 Steven A. Mardonado was on guard duty at the Whaler's Cove Restaurant in Poipu Beach when some kids ran up to him saying that their friend had fallen into the water at the sewage treatment plant. Rushing to assist, Mardonado reached the scene to find only the boy's hand sticking out of the water and muck. Mardonado jumped over the railing, grabbed the victim's hand, and pulled him to safety.

Sgt. 1st Class Shigeto Takayama and Plt. Sgt. Alberto A. Hoopii are credited with rescuing two elderly couples who had their roof torn off by the storm.

1st Sgt. Melvin Robley and DOD civilian employee, Mrs. Emmaline English, worked throughout the storm and the following day, maintaining vital communications with Capt. Alvin M. Uchida, commander of Company B, who was at the Civil Defense headquarters on Kauai working with civilian civil defense officials.

Gen. Lum commended the eleven individuals honored. "While faced with personal anxieties and family needs, you saw the greater need of the community. You willingly left your homes to get the job done. And no matter what anyone might say, you accomplished your mission," Lum said. He also thanked the Guard families and employers on Kauai for their support. "The Hawaii Army National Guard would not be the ready force it is today without your backing," he said. MSgt. Kin Lo on Kauai to honor 10 Guard members and one civilian Department of Defense employee for their heroism and outstanding efforts during Hurricane Iwa. Three of the Guard members — Uchida, Peters and Mardonado — were presented with the state's highest medal, the Hawaii National Guard Medal for Merit. The other soldiers were presented with the Hawaii National Guard Commendation Medal.

KAUAI SOLDIERS—(1st row from left) Pvt. L.M. Hammond, Sp4 Phillip P. Papagayo, Sgt. Gordon K. Doo, Plt. Sgt. Alberto Hoopii, Sgt. 1st Class Shigeto Takayama, (second row from left) Sgt. Lennox Camat, 1st Sgt. Melvin Robley, State Sen. Lehua Fernandex Salling, Pvt. Steven Mardonado, Plt. Sgt. Daniel Peters, Capt. Alvin Uchida and Brig. Gen. Alexis Lum pose for a group picture after a recent awards ceremony

Travel Log

Team Spirit 1983

201st takes ANG Comm lead

"Outstanding" is the word most used by Air Force officials in describing the Team Spirit '83 performance of the 201st Combat Communications Group, HANG.

For the eighth year in a row, the 201st tackled the communication mission for the largest military exercise in the free world. The final result — Mission Accomplished! But what is Team Spirit?

Team Spirit is more than 41,000 U.S. and 100,000 Korean armed forces members training to make sure that the delicate peace that exists today will be in effect tomorrow. The United States association with Korea goes back to 1882. It continued through the surprise attack by the communist forces from the north in 1950, only 17 months after U.S. occupation troops pulled out from the newly created Republic of Korea. Then U.S. went back and fought until July 1953.

Today the threat to the ROK from the communists still exists. Team Spirit helps provide the deterrent to keep the northern guns silent.

More than 200 members of the 201st CMBTCG and its subordinate units — the 201st CMBTCS, Hilo; 201st CMBTCF, Maui; 202nd CMBTCF, Hickam AFB; 201st ATCF, Barbers Point; and 202nd ATCF, Barking Sands, Kauai — traveled to Korea, the "Land of the Morning Calm."

As the lead Air National Guard communications unit, the 201st set up telephone systems, tactical base communications systems, microwave radios and cable lines at five Korean sites — Osan Air Base, Kunsan Air Base, Kimhae Air Base, Suwon Air Base and Changson (a remote mountaintop site).

Lt. Col. Ernest T. Shima, 201st commander, assigned Lt. Col. Melvin Morris as deployment commander. Morris oversaw the shipping of equipment from the neighbor islands to Oahu and then from Oahu by sea and air to Korea, most of it by sea.

When shipping delays and bad weather resulted in the sea-shipped equipment arriving ten days late, the 201st people pushed hard and got everything set up and operating by the start of the exercise.

Colonel Shima praised his people saying, "Their performance and dedication helped prove to the Air Force and the world that the 201st is the equal of any communications unit anywhere."

But it wasn't all work for the members of the 201st. Most had chances to see some of the sights of Korea and do some shopping for friends and family back home. They also got to eat some of the local food.

SrA. Calvin Yonamine commented about the most well-known Korean dish, "The Korean kim chee makes ours back in Hawaii look like mashed potatoes." Indeed, most 201st members agreed that the Korean kim chee was somewhat hotter than they were used to.

Living and working out of tent cities under adverse weather conditions, the 201st got the job done from beginning to end. Hand in hand with their U.S. and Korean Air Force counterparts, the members of the 201st CMBTCG performed a vital mission exceptionally well.

They're already getting ready for next year.

SETTING UP IN KOREA — MSgt. Benny Pabingwit (left) and A1C. Kevin Murakami of the 201st CMBTCS, Hilo, prepare communications equipment at Osan AB. More than 200 members of the 201st took part in Team Spirit '83.

201st aids orphans

ORPHANS TREATED — Not far from Osan AB, in Pyongtaek, is the Sung Yuk Orphanage. There, 60 orphans live in considerably less than we would consider bearable. The 201st and its subordinate units, led by CMSgt. Walter Furuyama and MSgt. Bob Finley, gathered money, food and clothing in Hawaii and then shipped it to Korea. Once there the 201st chaplain, Maj. Jerry Funcheon, and the deployment commander, Lt. Col. Melvin Morris, presented all of it to the grateful orphans along with the love of all the 201st. Two 201st members (above) watch the children sing.

154th sends six Phantoms to Kunsan

"Korea and Team Spirit '83 etched a new milestone in the list of 154th Composite Group accomplishments," says the 154th commander, Col. John S.W. Lee.

On March 8, the 154th sent six of its F-4C Phantoms and 130 men and women to Kunsan Air Base, Korea, with an overnight stay on Guam at Anderson Air Force Base.

The MAC C-141 carrying the support personnel touched down at Kunsan first to be met by Lt. Col. James Iwamura and his advance crew. A short time later, the six F-4Cs screamed overhead in tight formation before peeling off for six perfect touchdowns.

The 154th people found out that even though Team Spirit was no piece of cake they were ready for it. Ground crews worked 14- and 15-hour days battling cold weather problems never encountered back home at Hickam AFB.

Air crews got the chance to find out what the Korean theater of operations looked like. They also had the chance to work with their active Air Force and Korean Air Force counterparts.

Colonel Lee said, "This has been the most challenging overall war simulated exercise for the 154th Composite Group," which is saying a lot for a unit that's taken part in Red Flag, Cope Thunder and Cope North exercises. "It was cold, the work schedule was intensive and the environment was 'near war' as you can make it," he went on to say. "The flying scenario was extra challenging because of the sheer number of fighters in a small airspace. Maintenance outdid itself in fixing everything that leaked or went out of whack," he said.

Colonel Lee finished up by saying "Hawaii went to Kunsan and left the Hawaiian imprint in flying, working and off-duty." The 154th returned to Hawaii on March 21.

JUST ARRIVED—Capt. Mick Melich appears happy moments after touchdown in his F-4 at Kunsan AB. He wears a "special" lei designed to protect him during his Korean stay.

Above left—Major Richard Abe and Capt. Mike Okumoto, 201st CMTCG, receive Korean-style leis upon their arrival at Kimhae AB.

Above right—Two types of "Tent City" dress modeled by a warm Capt. Lance Okihara and a cold 201st member who asked not to be identified.

Right—A 201st mobile converter is unloaded from a Flying Tiger's 747 at Osan AB.

Left—A smiling face is the end result of a hard day's work in Korea.

Many reasons why

Free U.H. tuition—a great deal

When we think of the Hawaii National Guard's free tuition program for Guard members studying for their undergraduate degrees, we naturally think of them attending the University of Hawaii in Manoa.

Often overlooked is the fact that free tuition is granted to attend each and every school in the University system.

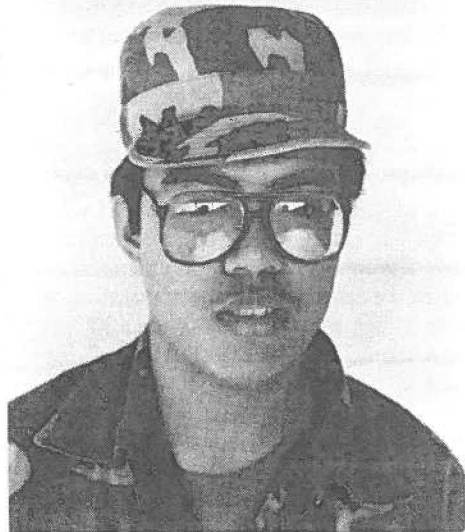

Big Island Guardsmen are just beginning to take advantage of the free education on their own island. They have high praise for the benefits and have used them at various campuses in Hilo.

PFC Brice Gacutan of Headquarters Maintenance Unit, 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry, enrolled in the first year of the liberal arts program at Hawaii Community College in Hilo. His fee: $12.50 instead of the normal $52 per semester. Gacutan intends to take a semester of liberal arts, then change to an automobile mechanics curriculum for the remaining 3½ years.

PFC Ray Kitagawa is also a freshman at the University of Hawaii in Hilo. A medic with HHC of the 2/299th, Kitagawa, 18, said the Guard influenced him in the direction that he wants to study. The tuition is an added bonus.

Kitagawa intends to take a pre-med curriculum at the University as a biology major, then transfer to the Manoa campus.

"The Guard training at AIT was good experience," said Kitagawa. "When I went to school on the Mainland for medic training, they went into detail with terminology. I also met other pre-med students who were freshmen and sophomores in college. I had just gotten out of high school. We were all in the same company, studying together every night for our medical classes the next day. It conditioned me to the pressure associated with being a pre-med student."

Calbero

Kitagawa enrolled in the program in Hilo without knowing about the Guard's tuition waiver program, until he read about it in Pupukahi.

"It's just great," he said. "I don't mind paying for books, but the tuition was expensive."

"With my Guard experience, I can understand the field of medicine much easier," Kitagawa said.

PFC Edmund Serrao of HHC has taken advantage of free tuition for four semesters in Hilo. He has taken a variety of English, math, and science courses, plus a criminal justice course.

"I like the program since it's not easy to come up with the money every semester," says Serrao.

Pvt. Ben Santiago, with HHC, was told about the program when he joined his Hilo unit. He will begin his first semester in an auto mechanics program at the University of Hawaii in Hilo. "Its outstanding," exclaimed Santiago.

Pvt. Cedric Calbero, HHC, is studying to be a medical technologist. He is at Hilo as a full time student in liberal arts.

Gacutan

Kitagawa

Santiago

Serrao

"It's one less thing to worry about," said Calbero, "especially when they are thinking of raising tuition."

More Hawaii Guardsmen and women have taken advantage of free tuition at University of Hawaii campuses than ever before. Last fall, 312 Hawaii National Guard Members received tuition waivers. One hundred-fifty were from the Army Guard members and 162 were from the Air Guard.

The program is available to all Hawaii Army and Air Guard members below the rank of O-4. See your unit commander for details and forms.

College credit now available for military training

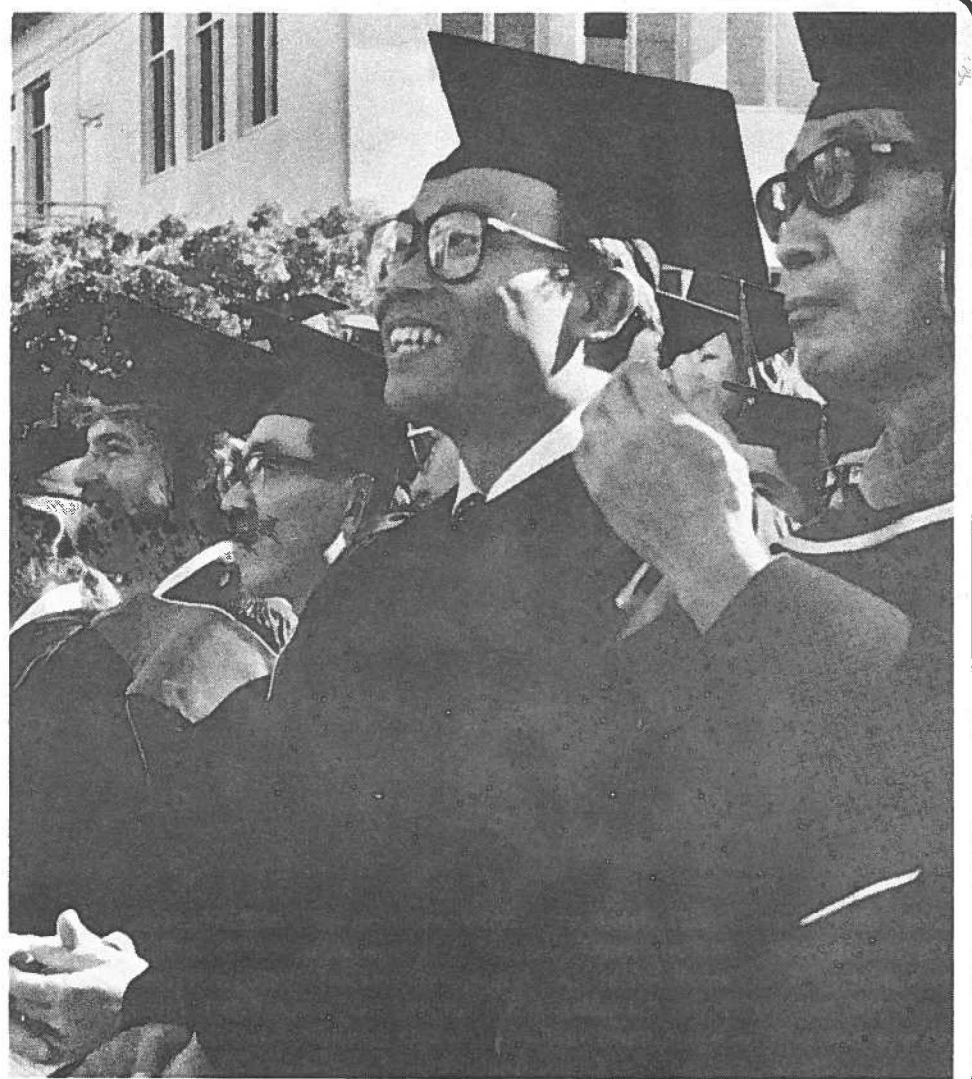

All Hawaii National Guard members can now apply for college credit at Leeward Community College for military courses or training they have taken. Leeward officials will consider the request and grant credit for military courses or experiences substantially equivalent to courses the college offers. This program, in addition to free tuition, makes getting a college degree even easier for Hawaii Guard members.

See a counselor at Leeward Community College for more details.

In a related move, the State Department of Defense along with the Hawaii National Guard Association and Enlisted Association are supporting a bill now under consideration in the State Legislature directing the whole University of Hawaii system to grant credit for military experience.

In his testimony before the House Committee on Higher Education and the Arts, former adjutant general, Maj. Gen. Arthur Ishimoto said, "The inclusion of military training as an integral part of our past high school education system which is already endorsed by the American Council on Education."

Other Hawaii colleges, including Chaminade University, already grant credit for military training.

Make your application

Scholarships are available

Up to four $1,000 scholarships are available from the Hawaii National Guard Enlisted Association for association members and their dependents.

According to SSgt. Geri E. Heatherly, chairperson of the scholarship committee, the application deadline is June 30, 1983. She said, "I encourage all members to look into the association's scholarship program. It's a great way to help finance the high costs of college today."

Call Sergeant Heatherly at 449-5669 or 395-4226 for further information.

Fix it yourself

Hickam's Auto Hobby Shop merged with the Body and Paint Shop and opened recently under a new name: Auto Crafts Center.

Along with the new name the center has new equipment and services.

"With the expansion in services, the center is less of a hobby shop and more of a do-it-yourself repair center," Arts and Crafts director Ron Steiner, explained. "The center is being expanded so almost any auto problem can be repaired here.

"Getting parts will be no problem because we have a new special order system," he said. "Under the new system, parts may arrive in only one or two days." Special orders can be made and supplies purchased at a central supply outlet.

According to Steiner, one of the major new items is a computer engine analyzer, giving patrons the capability to quickly find mechanical problems

"The engine analyzer puts a car engine through a series of tests to locate mechanical problems," he said. "This analyzer eliminates guesswork."

According to Steiner, the shop now has equipment for turning disc brake rotors and brake drums.

Wheel alignment and computer wheel balancing are also part of the expansion, according to Steiner. New floor jacks, engine tear-down benches and a mig welder, which will simplify body repair, are part of the new equipment too.

The shop itself is also expanding, Steiner added.

"We're going from eight to 22 work stalls. Each stall will have a work-bench with a locking drawer containing standard and metric hand tools. This will keep the patron from having to run back and forth to a central tool crib. We also have new spray paint booths. It's possible to undercoat, rust-proof and paint a vehicle at the center," he said.

For the customers' convenience, the new center will also have two automotive lifts in the mechanical repair area and one in the body repair area.

For patrons who would like to work on their vehicle, but lack knowledge in automotive repair, the center's automotive people can give advice about the repairs owners can make and ones that should be done by experienced mechanics.

"The people in the center won't do the work for anyone, but they can give advice on how to go about it," Steiner said.

"We also offer classes in automotive mechanical and body repair," he concluded. For information on these classes call 449-2554 or -1568.

Along with the expanded offerings, the center has expanded its operating days and hours. It will be open 11 a.m.-9 p.m., Tuesday-Friday; 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Saturday and noon-6 p.m. Sunday. Both Army and Air Guard members can use the shop.

SIMULATED BATTLE—Maj. Robert Wignall (right) and Sgt. Felix Cruz, Army evaluators from USARE move the enemy force on the game board during the 29th Brigade's recent CAMMS '83 exercise. Capt. Roy Sanchez, commander of Company C, 2nd Battalion, 299th Inf., from Honokaa looks on, deciding what his next move will be. — Hawaii Army Guard Photo by Capt. Bud Bowles.

New standards to take effect

Push-up, Sit-up and Run-get fit

The Army National Guard is making a physical commitment to your future. In an effort to adopt higher fitness standards, the ARNG Physical Fitness Test, which now consists of the four-mile march, is going to get tougher. In a gradual transition taking place over the next two years, it will be changed to the Army Physical Readiness Test, or APRT.

During training year 1983, ARNG units will continue the four-mile march. But in addition they must also do the push-up and sit-up events of the APRT. Personnel 40 years old and up will only be required to do the four-mile march.

The test will be scored on a GO/NO GO basis. All three tests must be passed in order to receive a passing score.

The higher APRT standards are going to require more effort. Each individual must commit to a daily regimen of exercise. But, that's just part of it.

Your family's support and involvement in diet control and proper nutrition is another important facet. Work together and the effort will pay off. For all of you.

Get physical now! You'll feel better, look better and live longer. If you haven't been exercising, check with a doctor before you start and then begin gradually. We want you to be fit. And in the best of health.

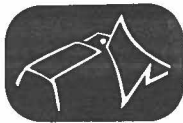

The following table shows the repetitions/time required for passing the APRT and maximum scores in each event. Males are listed on the left, females on the right. The time limit for push-up and sit-up events is two minutes each.

| AGE GROUP | PASSING REPETITIONS/TIME |        |             | MAXIMUM REPETITIONS/TIME |        |             |
|-----------|--------------------------|--------|-------------|--------------------------|--------|-------------|
|           | PUSH-UP                  | SIT-UP | 2-MILE RUN  | PUSH-UP                  | SIT-UP | 2-MILE RUN  |
| 17-25     | 40/16                    | 40/27  | 17:55/22:14 | 68-40                    | 69/61  | 13:05/17:10 |
| 26-30     | 38/15                    | 38/25  | 18:30/22:29 | 66/38                    | 67/51  | 13:40/17:25 |
| 31-35     | 33/14                    | 36/23  | 19:10/24:04 | 61/34                    | 65/41  | 14:20/19:00 |
| 36-39     | 31/13                    | 34/21  | 19:35/25:34 | 60/30                    | 63/31  | 15:05/20:30 |
| 40-45     | TBA                      | TBA    | 20:00/26:00 | N/A                      | N/A    | N/A         |
| 46-50     | TBA                      | TBA    | 21:00/27:00 | N/A                      | N/A    | N/A         |
| 51-55     | TBA                      | TBA    | 22:00/28:00 | N/A                      | N/A    | N/A         |
| 56-60     | TBA                      | TBA    | 23:00/29:00 | N/A                      | N/A    | N/A         |

Maximum time for the four-mile march is 60 minutes to be scored a GO.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — The Army National Guard Physical Fitness test is here to stay. It includes push-ups, sit-ups, and a four-mile march as demonstrated by 2nd Lt. Curtis Matsushige (sit-ups), Ssgt. Ken Lo (push-ups), and Sp5 Wayne Miyata (right), all members of the 117th PAD — Photo by Sp5 John Atkinson.

Promotions

Congratulations are in order for the following Hawaii Army and Air National Guard members who have either received promotions, appointments or federal recognition.

Officers do not wear their new rank until they receive federal recognition.

HAWAII ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

Colonel:

Haruo Shigezawa, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Gerald J. Silva, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Lawrence W. J. Siu, HQ, HISTARC, HARNG

Lieutenant Colonel:

Albert R. Ayers, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Edward L. Correa Jr., HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Horace S. Hara, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Donald D. Orton, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
James B. Respicio, HHD, 159th Maintenance Battalion

Major:

Joseph L. Carreira, HHB, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
Edward R. Cruickshank, HHC, 1st Bn, 299th Infantry

Captain:

Joan E. Hayworth, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
David J. C. Mau, Btry. A, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery

1st Lieutenant:

Maria I. Casablanca-Piccirilli, 292nd Supply & Service Company
Ronald F. Doo, 1154th Transportation Company
Steven H. Kijima, HHC 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
John R. McCravey, Troop E, 19th Cavalry
Kerry K. Oshiro, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Michael E. Staszgow, HHC 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry

2nd Lieutenant:

Kan Fung, Co. C, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
Angela E. Gibson, 117th Public Affairs Detachment
Michael Y. Nakahara, HHC, 29th Infantry Brigade
Kent H. Okamoto, Btry. B, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery

Chief Warrant Officer 4:

Harry S. Iha, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Arthur H. Loebel, Troop E, 19th Cavalry

Chief Warrant Officer 2:

Glenn A. Bell, 1293rd Aviation Company
Herbert T. Ishii, 829th Maintenance Company
Michael D. Kincaid, Troop E, 19th Cavalry
James B. Lum, 298th Engineer Detachment
Dennis K. Young, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG

Warrant Officer 1:

Gardner A. Brown, Troop E, 19th Cavalry
Roy H. Okano, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
David Y. Shimizu, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG

Sergeant Major, E-9:

Wallace K. Inouye, HQ, HISTARC, HARNG
Donald M. H. Leong, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG

Master Sergeant, E-8:

Kinbourne Lo, 117th Public Affairs Detachment
Mitsuo Yoshizu, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG

Platoon Sergeant, E-7:

Henry S. Fukushima, Co. B, 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry

Sergeant First Class, E-7:

Moses E. Kalauokalani, HHC, 29th Infantry Brigade
Benjamin S. Robles, 298th Engineer Detachment
Bernard K. Sagawa, HHC, 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry
Earl Y. Tsukamoto, HHC, 29th Infantry Brigade

Staff Sergeant, E-6:

Clayton Y. N. Chun, 229th Medical Company
Arthur K. Keanini Jr., Det. 1, Combat Support Company, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
Wesley A. Kim, HHB, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
Wayne R. Loveland, 291st Maintenance Company
Timothy R. Morrill, HHB, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
Bertram R. Sebresos, HHB, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
James R. Solomon, Det. 1, Combat Support Company, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
Roy M. Yamashita, HHC 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry

Specialist Six, E-6:

Catherine P. Ballie, HQ, HI STARC, HARNG
Arthur K. Keanini, Det. 1, Combat Support Company, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry

Sergeant, E-5:

Galanico Balagso, Co. C, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
Kenneth F. Bargamento, Troop E, 19th Cavalry
Kenneth A. Bode Jr., Co. C, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
William K. Domingo, Det. 1, Combat Support Company, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
Rizal Q. Fernandez, Troop E, 19th Cavalry
Robert G. Hill III, 229th Medical Company
Chester R. H. Kau, HHC 29th Infantry Brigade
Victor R. Manuel, HHC 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry
Raymond N. Milar, Det. 1, 1293rd Aviation Company
Jonathan D. Nathaniel, Co. A, 2nd Battalion, 299th Infantry
Clement M. Padeken Jr., HHB, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
Jeffery J. Protacio, Troop E, 19th Cavalry
Lawrence G. Stuart, HHB, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
Van A. Velasco, Troop E, 19th Cavalry
Jeffery K. Yamamoto, Det. 1, 1293rd Aviation Company

Specialist Five, E-5:

Amy S. Ahn, 111th Army Band
Clarke L. K. Bright, 111th Army Band
Darrell T. Fujii, Btry. A, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
Louis R. Kauakahi, Svc Btry, 1st Battalion, 487th Field Artillery
Alan E. Martins, Det. 1, 1293rd Aviation Company
Nolan D. Santa Ana, 111th Army Band
Jennifer M. Summa, Det. 1, HI STARC, HARNG
Dennis E. Vigue, 1293rd Aviation Company

Specialist Four, E-4:

Stephanie J. Forquer, Det. 1, HI STARC, HARNG
Elaine R. Miyamoto, Det. 1, HI STARC

HAWAII AIR NATIONAL GUARD

Senior Master Sergeant, E-8:

Ronald S. Aniya, 169th Aircraft Control & Warning Squadron

Technical Sergeant, E-6:

Ronald H. Fukuda, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Betty A. Ganio, 154th USAF Clinic
Jeffery S. Hamilton, 201st Combat Communications Flight
Kazuo R. Kaya, 201st Combat Communications Flight
Bryan P. Lau, 154th Combat Support Squadron
Dennis H. Mishima, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron

Tony F. Romaine, 201st Combat Communications Flight
Jason K. Uota, 154th Civil Engineering Flight

Staff Sergeant, E-5:

Patrick H. Ah Sam, 201st Communications Flight
Bradley S. M. Chun, 154th Combat Support Squadron
Gary F. Foster, 150th Aircraft Control & Warning Squadron
Antone D. Gabriel, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
David T. Inouye, 201st Combat Communications Squadron
Harvey T. Otsuka, 201st Combat Communications Squadron
Walter H. Pacheco, 201st Combat Communications Flight
James W. Placek, 201st Combat Communications Squadron
Dennis M. Rocha, 201st Air Traffic Control Flight
Lisa A. Rodrigues, 154th Civil Engineering Flight
James P. Seladis, 169th Aircraft Control & Warning Squadron
Irvin Y. Tomita, 169th Aircraft Control & Warning Squadron
Kenneth T. Ueyehara, 8154 Stu Flight
Henry Y. Wakumoto, 154th Civil Engineering Flight
Guy K. Wallace, 201st Combat Communications Flight
Dennis K. W. Wong, 201st Combat Communications Flight

Senior Airman, E-4:

Candance A. Castillo, 202nd Air Traffic Control Flight
Thomas M. Costa, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Paul Z. Henrickson, 201st Combat Communications Squadron
Lawrence A. Montero, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Stephen K. Muragin, 154th Combat Support Squadron
Craig H. Nakahara, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Steven T. Nakano, 154th Resource Management Squadron
William A. Ramos, 154th Security Police Flight
Charles H. Remata, 202nd Air Traffic Control Flight
Robby A. Shigeta, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Derek K. Sison, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Dean C. Tano, 154th USAF Clinic
Wes A. Tasaka, 169th Aircraft Control & Warning Squadron
Glenn K. Timbal, 154th Resource Management Squadron
Van K. Warren, 201st Combat Communications Squadron
Marie-George V. Webber, 202nd Combat Communications Flight
Patrick R. Wilkes, 202nd Combat Communications Flight

Airman, First Class, E-3:

David A. Babino, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Samuel J. Bukoshi, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Alfred S. Kalani Jr., 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron
Dean T. Kishimoto, 154th Combat Support Squadron
Gregory Y. Ueyehara, 154th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron

ARMY AND AIR GUARD TRAINING SCHEDULES

Listed below are the inactive duty training dates for all Hawaii Army and Air National Guard units. Dates for subordinate units are the same as their parent headquarters, unless otherwise indicated.

All dates are subject to change.

|                                 | May              | June          | July       | August           |
|---------------------------------|------------------|---------------|------------|------------------|
| HQ, HI STARC (-Det. 1)          | 14-15            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 27-28            |
| Selective Service               | 14-15            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 27-28            |
| Hawaii Military Academy         | 21-22            | 4-5           | 15         | 6-7, 20-21       |
| 111th Army Band                 | 2, 9, 16, 23, 30 | 5, 13, 20, 27 | 11, 18, 25 | 1, 8, 15, 22, 29 |
| 117th Public Affairs Det.       | 14-15            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 27-28            |
| HQ Installation Command         | 14-15            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 27-28            |
| 298th Engineer Det.             |                  |               |            |                  |
| Det. 1, HI STARC                | 14-15            | 25-26         | 9-10, 16   | 13               |
| Troop E, 19th Cavalry           |                  |               |            |                  |
| 227th Engineer Co.              |                  |               |            |                  |
| 1293rd Aviation Co. (-Det. 1)   |                  |               |            |                  |
| Det. 1, 1293rd Avn. Co.         |                  |               |            |                  |
| 159th Maintenance Bn.           | 21-22            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 27-28            |
| HHD, 159th Service Bn.          |                  |               |            |                  |
| 12th Pers. Service Co.          |                  |               |            |                  |
| 291st Maintenance Co.           |                  |               |            |                  |
| 829th Maintenance Co.           |                  |               |            |                  |
| 628th Ordnance Co.              |                  |               |            |                  |
| 297th Supply & Service Bn.      | 14-15            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 27-28            |
| HHD, 297th Supply & Service Bn. |                  |               |            |                  |
| 229th Medical Co.               |                  |               |            |                  |
| 292nd Supply & Service Co.      |                  |               |            |                  |
| 329th Service Co.               |                  |               |            |                  |
| 1154th Transportation Co.       |                  |               |            |                  |
| 29th Infantry Brigade           | 14-15            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 6-7              |
| HHC, 29th Infantry Brigade      |                  |               |            |                  |
| 1st Bn., 487th Field Artillery  | 14-15            | 25-26         | 16-17      | 13-14            |
| HHB 1st Bn.                     |                  |               |            |                  |
| Battery A                       |                  |               |            |                  |
| Battery B                       |                  |               |            |                  |
| Battery C                       |                  |               |            |                  |
| Service Battery                 |                  |               |            |                  |
| 1st Bn., 299th Infantry         | 14-15            | 25-26         | 16-17      | 13-14            |
| 2nd Bn., 299th Infantry         | 13-15            | 25-26         | 9-10       | 13-14            |

Listed below are training dates for units of the Hawaii Air National Guard.

|                                  |       |       |       |     |
|----------------------------------|-------|-------|-------|-----|
| 201st Combat Communications Grp. | 14-15 | 4-5   | 16-17 | 6-7 |
| 154th Composite Grp.             | 14-15 | 11-12 | 16-17 | 6-7 |
| 199th Weather Flight             | 7-8   | 25-26 | 16-17 | 6-7 |

Office of the State Adjutant General
Departments of the Army and Air Force
National Guard of Hawaii
3949 Diamond Head Road, Honolulu Hawaii 96816

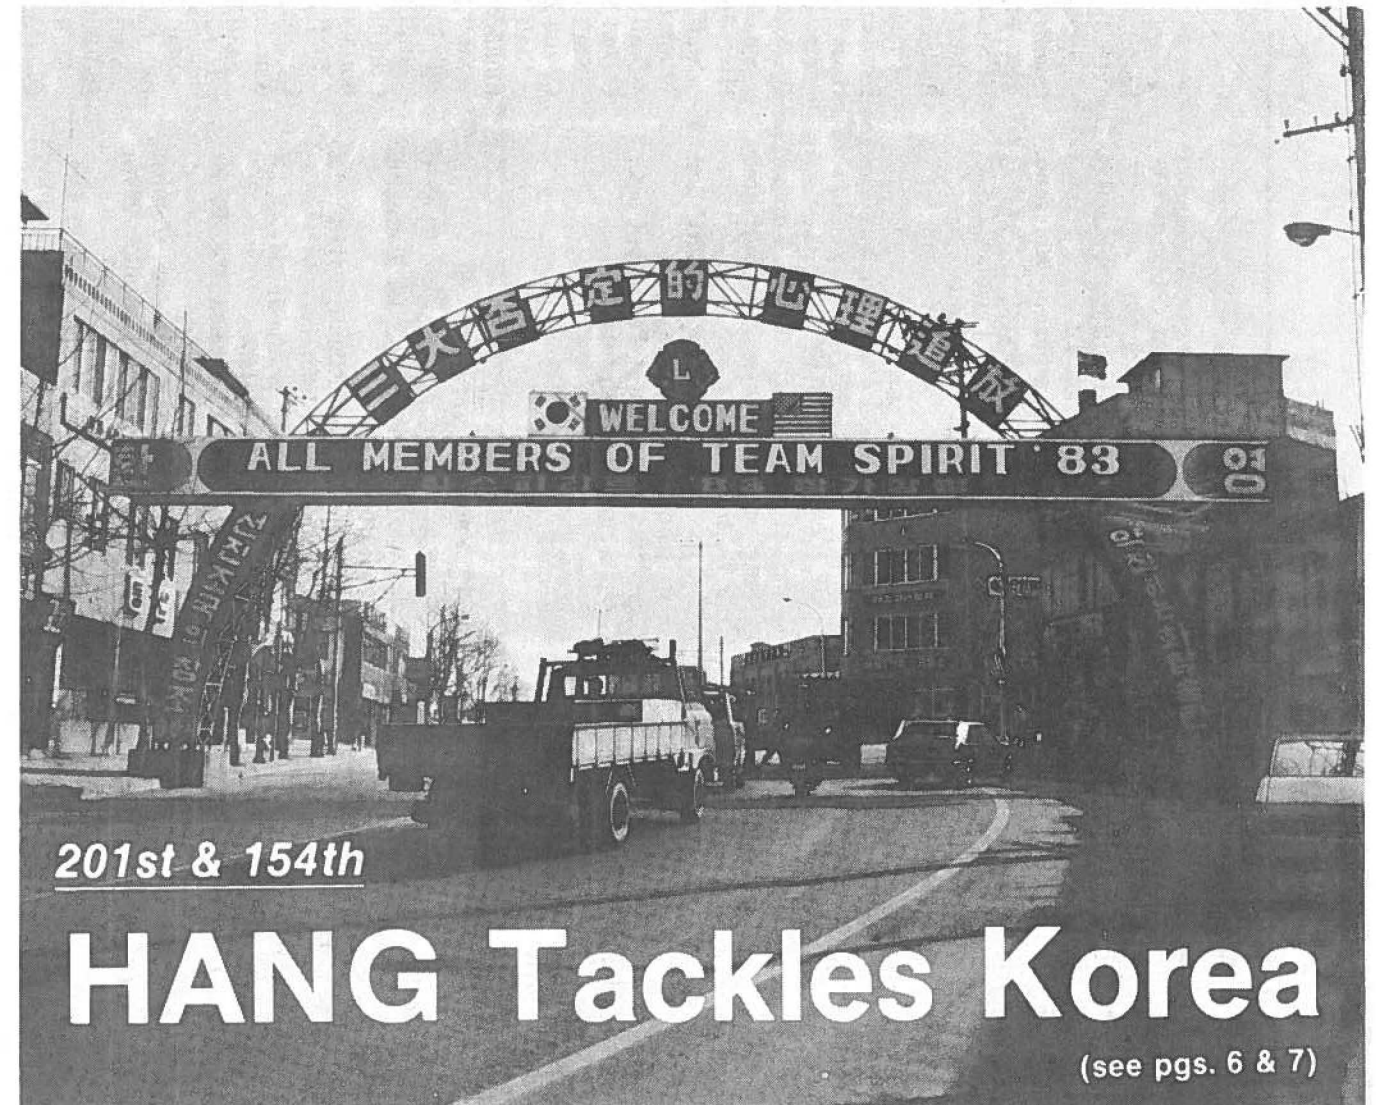

BULK RATE
POSTAGE & FEES PAID
DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
PERMIT No. G-5

PUPUKAHI

HAWAII DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

PUPUKAHI: "Harmoniously United"

Vol. 18, No 2, Spring, 1983

On the Inside

Lum appointed new AG
see page 1

Guard fights fire & waves
see page 1

Army's new PT test
see page 9