Isle Call-Up Too High: Matsunaga

More than 4,000 Hawaii national guardsmen and army reservists have until May 13 to work out arrangements with their employers and put their personal affairs in order.

These men and others across the nation were called to active duty yesterday by the Defense Department.

The call-up drew an immediate protest from U.S. Representative Spark M. Matsunaga, who appealed to President Johnson to reconsider the extent of the Hawaii call-up.
