

'Send-Off' Program

National Guardsmen bound for Schofield Barracks, Oahu, for the first phase of the activation program, will be departing from Kahului Airport on Monday morning, via two C-124 planes.

The Chamber of Commerce is coordinating an "Aloha for Maui National Guardsmen" program at the airport on Monday.

The program:

8:30 a.m. — Buses arrive at Kahului Air Terminal with troops.

8:30 a.m. — Danny Kapoi group entertains with Viola and her Hula Girls.

9:00 a.m. — Buddy Fo group entertains.

9:30 a.m. — Brief comments by: George Bogar, president, Maui Chamber of Commerce; Lieutenant Colonel John D'Araujo, commander, 1st Battalion, 299th Infantry; Elmer F. Carvalho, chairman and executive officer, Maui County; and Father Andrew Putnam of Christ The King Church, representing Maui Council of Churches.

9:45 a.m. — Music and dancing resumes until boarding time.

10:00 a.m. — Baldwin High School band will assemble around the outside flag pole on the airfield side of the terminal building to play as troops board planes.
